GREEN, KELLY WIN PLEDGE OF ARMS AID FOR STATE

Governor Assured of Half Billion New Orders.

Mayor Drafts Plan to Assist Small Businesses.

BY HAL FOUST.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—Gov. Dwight Green was told by responsible authorities here today that Illinois will have received its equitable share of the nation's armament within the next 90 days. This would mean that Illinois would get another half billion dollars' worth of war contracts and subcontracts.

Chicago's motto.

The spokesmen for the national administration were Donald M. Nelson, director of the supplies, priorities, and allocation board, and Floyd B. Odlum, director of the division of contract distribution of the Office of Production Management. Nelson distributes materials and Odlum distributes contracts for the preparedness and lend-lease programs.

Seeks to Aid Small Business.

The young Republican governor arrived here this morning seeking more munitions business for his state and asking relief for Illinois small industries and their 125,000 workers who are threatened with priorities unemployment. THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE also has been campaigning for these objectives.

Green's complaint is that Illinois, the third state in population and in industrial capacity, ranks fourteenth in the volume of arms contracts it has received. Five other states have obtained more than twice the $627,549,000 in military and naval orders placed in Illinois.

Nelson and Odlum attended a capital building luncheon called by the governor today to acquaint these officials with Illinois' requests and to solicit active support of the Illinois congressional delegation in the drive for more industry and new industries for their home state. Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D.] and 15 congressmen of both parties attended. Sen. Wayland Brooks [R.] was out of the city.

Nelson Promises Action.

"Within the next three months you're going to see a great many more jobs placed in Illinois," Nelson said after listening to Green and his associates. "Your portion of the nation's armament work will approach the 8.4 per cent that was your portion of America's manufacturing production in 1939. My figures show you now have 3.4 per cent of the total armament business."

"Illinois has not received its portion," Odlum agreed, "but this is going to be rectified in the next 90 days. Plenty of orders are coming up over the hill."

Rep. Harry P. Beam [D., Chicago] told the luncheon that while he was on a congressional investigation tour of 17 South American countries he encountered several instances in which British concerns, beneficiaries of the lend-lease program, were taking business from American manufacturers who are handicapped by priority restrictions on materials.

Fishhook Deal Described.

Rep. Edward A. Kelly [D., Flossmoor] said 50,000 tons of carbon steel were being exported to England to make fishhooks to be imported into the United States in competition with American factories denied carbon steel to make fishhooks.

"I've heard so many complaints of this character that with Mr. Nelson's SPAB the OPM might well station an office in England to keep tab on the situation," Odlum said.

"Because Illinois is opposed to America's involvement in behalf of any belligerent in the European war," said Rep. Evan Howell [R.] of Springfield, Ill., "Illinois should not be prejudiced against the award of armament contracts. We of Illinois are in favor of national defense, as evi-

BY EDWARD WILSON.

Mayor Kelly, in his fight to save Chicago's small industries from extinction because of priority difficulties, returned from Washington, D. C., yesterday with a five point proposal intended to aid plants here.

The proposal, he said, is to be sent immediately to Floyd Odlum, director of the contract distribution division of the Office of Production Management. He said Odlum had promised an immediate reply and added, "I think Odlum is going to agree with most of this."

Program in Outline.

The five point program:

1. Small plants which cannot compete with large industry on a price basis should be awarded arms contracts on a "cost plus" basis.

2. If a small business man is put out of business because of priorities he should be compensated, "the same as a farmer is compensated when the army damages his fields or crops when on maneuvers."

3. The government should use all available vacant factories before constructing new industrial towns. Chicago has much vacant space available.

4. The development of substitute materials to replace those used in arms production should be stimulated. Such a development is being carried on by the OPM's bureau of industrial conservation, headed by Lessing J. Rosenwald.

5. A clearing board representing all agencies dealing with arms production and priorities and the army and navy should be organized to expedite the solution of such problems as those faced by small industry.

Housing Question Raised.

The mayor said that a question to be included in his memorandum to Odlum is, "What recognition is going to be given to construction of new large housing projects planned for slum clearance?" He said Chicago now has legal machinery ready for construction of privately owned slum clearance projects but that nothing can be done until priorities are established.

"The small manufacturer represents the backbone of the country," says Mayor Kelly's statement to Odlum. "In Chicago the majority of manufacturing plants are classified as 'small business.'

"Certainly some way must be found to save the small plants, and it would seem that the only place to which these companies can look is to the federal government to break the 'blockade' and start the flow of contracts which will keep them in business."

Kelly said he will return to Washington soon to confer with Vice President Wallace, who heads the Supply, Priorities, and Allocations board, on Chicago's need for more arms contracts.

Mayor Moves to Drive Out Guzik's Gang

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Action to rid the community of the Guzik gang's gambling and crime syndicate was begun last night by Mayor Kelly after he had discussed gambling conditions with the November grand jury.

The mayor pledged his aid to the grand jury and to State's Attorney Courtney in an all-out drive to end the reign of the Guzik gang.

"I believe Commissioner Allman will raise hell with the police department if what I heard this afternoon is true," Mayor Kelly commented as he left the Criminal courts building following a two hour session with the jurors.

Confers with Allman.

Twenty minutes later he had conferred with Allman, who issued this statement:

"Starting at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning all district captains will appear before me in groups of 10. If these gambling places are being operated it is with no consent of mine. If it is with the consent of the captains I want to find out about it."

Of his talk with the jurors the mayor said, "I can tell you I was amazed at what I was told in there."

Yesterday First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley had a report from a number of investigators to show that 12 large handbooks had been open Friday and Saturday afternoons. It was presumed that the facts concerning these handbooks were conveyed to Mayor Kelly.

Pledges Fight on Gamblers.

"From now on the mayor, the state's attorney, and the grand jury will work together to keep gambling down to a minimum and to keep the big handbooks from doing business," the mayor said.

It was understood that the jurors told Mayor Kelly that in their opinion the morals division of the police department was a "joke."

A subpena was issued by the jury yesterday for the appearance of William R. Skidmore, reputed payoff man for the Guzik gang, who is under sentence for income tax evasion. The jury was given all the facts concerning the operations of Skidmore.

Babe and Rags were inseparable. Babe's real name was Guido Mengarelli Jr. He lived with his parents at 3116 Knox avenue. Rags was a husky black pup of a nameless breed.

Only during Babe's trips to school were they apart. And this was understandable. School authorities don't usually share a kid's feelings for a pup.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Mengarelli gave Babe 40 cents. As he started to the grocery, Rags bounded along. On the way the two fell in with Robert Hoffman. Robert, like Babe, is 8 years old, and lives at 3118 Knox avenue next to the Mengarellis. The three went on together.

None of them saw the automobile as they crossed Cicero avenue near Barry. Ernest Barz, 5055 Windsor avenue, a photo engraver, didn't see the two boys and the dog either. There was a thud of bodies upon the fenders of the car.

Babe was killed instantly. The Hoffman boy escaped with his life. Rags' legs were mangled.

A relative of the Mengarelli boy carried Rags home. But the pup didn't mourn. He died two hours after the accident.

And last night Babe and Rags still were inseparable—in death.

BATTLE AXIS IN 1,600 SQ. MI. OF DESERT WASTES

Strive to Cut Foe's Exit Along Coast.

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 24 (AP).—The British right wing tonight was locked in a decisive battle with axis forces in a 1,600 square mile area in Libya. It claimed the capture of the important axis supply center of Gambut in the course of that terrible struggle. Far to the south the British left wing was racing westward in a vast arc apparently intended to enclose all northern Libya in a "super trap."

The latter column, loosed originally from Giarabub, was acknowledged by the axis to have driven forward some 200 miles, capturing an Italian garrison at the oasis of Gialo. It appeared to be meeting little opposition in a grand maneuver of encirclement headed for the Gulf of Sirte to cut the coastal route of exit to western Libya.

Huge Battle Rages.

The master plan, it appeared, was to draw a line of men and steel across the southern end of the entire Libyan hump and thus to leave the eastern axis forces of Erwin Rommel, the German general—which already were declared to be cut into four or more sections—with no prospect of reënforcement or supplies except thru highly hazardous air and sea transport.

But while this thrust was moving at a great rate thru the silent wastes of the south, the British right wing was involved in such a showdown as desert warfare had never before seen.

Gambut, about half way to the British garrison of Tobruk on the Mediterranean shore, was stormed and overrun by New Zealanders, the British command announced, in a continuation of the coastal drive that already had wrested Bardia from the Germans and Italians.

Both Sides Lose Heavily.

From Gambut westward to the vicinity of Rezegh, 10 miles south of Tobruk, the forward British columns were gambling with every weapon at hand to break Rommel's back and smash the pride of his army—the heavy mechanized forces.

Both sides were losing heavily in this battlefield of great decision and, as tank strength declined, British infantrymen — Englishmen, South Africans, New Zealanders — armed with Bren [machine] guns charged the axis positions.

"There is an amazing battle going on in an area 40 by 40 miles," the British military spokesman summed up, "and there are no regular lines and no telephone communications."

"This battle," said the British command itself, "which has been fought and is being fought with the utmost resolution by both sides, has been in progress without cessation for over 48 hours."

Axis Supply Lines Periled.

The fall of Gambut in itself gravely imperiled the axis supply lines. It appeared that Rommel, having no hope now of getting out before the decision fell, was throwing every reserve into the action—struggling not for those supply bases which are essential in prolonged fighting, but rather for his army's life.

Even British quarters spoke of Gambut as a triumph far secondary to the supreme objective of destroying the axis forces.

Advance from Tobruk.

From Tobruk, where a British garrison had been besieged since last April by previously superior numbers of axis forces, came reports that the garrison had fought its way out to a point within four miles of the imperial troops coming forward from east and south.

RAF headquarters here announced eight out of a group of 50 axis planes were shot down yesterday in one clash over Libya.

One of the longest air fights ever witnessed in Libya occurred late Saturday when two squadrons of Tomahawk [Curtiss] fighters piloted by Australians tangled with 20 German Messerschmitts near El Adem, south of Tobruk.

As darkness ended the battle, the British said, flaming wreckage of six German planes dotted the desert. The British acknowledged the loss of one plane.

FINDS TANK WAR IN SAND SIMILAR TO A SEA BATTLE

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE BRITISH ARMORED FORCE SOUTH OF TOBRUK, Libya, Nov. 23 [Delayed].—This battle in the sandy wastes of Libya clearly shows the resemblance of mechanized warfare to naval battles. There are thousands of square miles for maneuvering and, tho there are occasional breaks in the hilly areas of the battle zone which are more or less impassable for fighting vehicles, there are always passes or ways around them.

Since the area is too vast for continuous lines there are many places where belligerent troops can slip thru if they are daring or rash enough. As a result a constant watch must be kept on all sides.

A desert battle of tanks, which some say is almost as important in this war as the naval battle at Jutland was in the last one, still is going on.

Could Pass for Pirates.

British tanks in this region have been engaged in running fights with axis tanks for three days.

Without time for sleep or enough water to wash themselves most tank officers, who frequently use compasses, could pass for pirates or Balkan guerrilla fighters. They have bristly beards. Their sweaters are torn and greasy. Their corduroy trousers are shapeless.

A second lieutenant, 21 years old, was the luckiest lad in the tank unit I visited today. He went into action in a "dingo"—a baby armored car—at Rezegh, 10 miles south of Tobruk, two days ago, and spent seven hours playing dead in the middle of an open field. During the night he escaped thru the German lines.

"It was like an old time cavalry charge," he said in describing the British attack. "The tanks charged over anti-tank guns and their crews and kept going. One fellow got seven guns that way.

Knocked Out by a Shell.

"I had a Bren [machine] gun in my dingo, and took on any infantry the tanks missed as they rushed in. My vehicle wasn't made for that sort of work and I was knocked out by an anti-tank shell. We had a hole in the crankcase and we knew the bearings would freeze. So we turned around and picked up four wounded men—all we could carry—but we were still several miles inside the German lines when the engine stopped.

"We bandaged the wounded men, gave them our food and water and hid them among the weeds. Then we moved off a couple of hundred yards and dropped into the weeds.

"We were there seven hours before it got dark. There were three of us. We went to find the wounded men but they were gone. The Germans must have picked them up. We set out in the dark toward where we believed our advance posts were located.

"We heard Germans talking once or twice and sheered off. The most welcome sound I ever heard was when somebody challenged in English, 'Who goes there!' It was an infantry post. They sent us back in the morning."

Casualties Believed Heavy.

Some of the most gruelling fighting of the war is going on in the Libyan desert. The casualties on both sides must be high.

There is a constant rumble of gunfire both day and night. Every sort of gun is pounding away.

A bitter battle is proceeding within 10 miles of here. Two hours ago I was with the advance artillery. Columns of black smoke marked burning tanks. British guns hurled shells across the sandy wastes. Axis shells plunged into the desert.

Fire is one of the greatest menace to tankmen. The Germans have introduced a new projectile — a thermite shell—in this battle. The thermite bursts into flame when the shell hits a tank.

AN ARMY OF WOMEN FOR FARMS DISCUSSED BY MRS. ROOSEVELT

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today she believed an army of women would be necessary next summer to help harvest America's crops.

She disclosed at her press conference that as assistant Civilian Defense director she had instructed her aids to get information on how many feminine farmhands might be needed and to work out a program for their recruiting thru state and local bureaus.

A shortage of farm labor is in prospect, she said, because of the number of men going into the army, navy, and defense plants.

ORDERS U. S. AID TO FREE FRENCH, AEF TO GUIANA

Viewed as Reply to Weygand Ousting.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—President Roosevelt today took two significant steps in connection with his undeclared war against Adolf Hitler. The President:

1. Ordered an American expeditionary force to occupy Dutch Guiana on the northeast coast of South America, presumably for the protection of the Guiana bauxite mines, source of 60 per cent of American aluminum. Bauxite is the ore from which aluminum is commonly made.

2. Approved the use of lend-lease funds for the Free French by means of the retransfer of materials thru Great Britain or her allies.

Seen as Check to Hitler.

Both these actions by the President were widely interpreted as his answer to Hitler's success in forcing the removal of Gen. Maxime Weygand from the proconsulship of French North Africa to make way for German occupation of that region.

The Free French delegation in the United States issued a statement saying the retirement of Gen. Weygand from his African command was "new proof of Vichy's subservience to Adolf Hitler."

The lend-lease action was announced by the Free French delegation thru publication of a letter from the President to E. R. Stettinius, lend-lease administrator, dated Nov. 11. The letter said that "in order to enable you to arrange for lend-lease aid to the French volunteer forces [Free French] by way of retransfer from his majesty's government in the United Kingdom or their allies, I hereby find that the defense of any French territory under the control of the French volunteer forces is vital to the defense of the United States."

De Gaulle Territory Widespread.

The largest territory controled by Gen. De Gaulle is French Equatorial Africa, the southern shores of which touch the Atlantic and the northern boundaries of which face Libya.

Other territories include Tahiti and several other islands in the Pacific, and five French settlements in India on the Bay of Bengal.

The state department said the move implied no unusual expansion of the President's lend-lease policy, pointing out that the lend-lease act authorizes him to make such commitments when he deems it vital to the defense of the United States. It was added that the Free French forces already had been receiving some aid.

May Involve Far East.

The President's pretext of protecting the Guiana bauxite supplies is also viewed as a possible precedent for the dispatch of American naval and air forces to "protect" the sources of America's supply of tin and rubber from threatened aggression by Japan upon British Malaya and the Dutch East Indies. Perpetuation of supply of these resources is one of the reasons given by the administration for American intervention in the far east.

Mr. Roosevelt visualizes Hitler as about to advance into northern and western Africa where he will control Dakar and other Atlantic coast bases from which to prey upon British and American shipping, if not to direct an attack upon the American continents. Striking back, the President moves American forces into South America not far from the nearest point of that continent to Africa.

Discusses Situation in Speech.

Mr. Roosevelt, in a speech last May, contemplated the possibility of the Nazis seeking Dakar and possibly also Portugal's Cape Verde islands, control of which, he said, "would jeopardize the immediate safety of portions of North and South America and of the island possessions of the United States and the ultimate safety of continental United States itself. He said it would be "stupid to wait until a probable enemy has gained a foothold from which to attack."

The President did not wait more than a matter of hours after the removal of Weygand to stage a gesture of defiance to Hitler. Nearly a week ago he set in motion the negotiations with the Netherlands government in exile in London and with the Brazilian government for coöperative operations ostensibly to protect the Dutch Guiana bauxite mines from destruction, presumably by German inspired sabotage.

Significant of the real motive of the move is the fact that the source of American aluminum has been open to destruction ever since American resources were mobilized for German defeat in the summer of 1940, but not till Hitler prepared to occupy northwest Africa did the President deem it necessary to protect the mines.

The Dutch and Brazilian governments agreed to the undertaking which was announced concurrently in Washington, London, and Rio de Janeiro.

The United States is already developing naval and military bases in British Guiana, adjoining Dutch Guiana, under the terms of the deal whereby Britain leased sites for protective off shore bases to the United States in exchange for 50 destroyers.

American occupation of Dutch Guiana may be but the prelude to the seizure of French Guiana to the east and of Martinique and other French islands as a measure of "protective custody" to prevent them from becoming a Nazi foothold in the western hemisphere.

Connally Approves Action.

Approving the dispatch of American forces to Dutch Guiana, Sen. Tom Connally (D., Tex.), chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, said he thought we would have to "take over Martinique and French Guiana also if Vichy continues to succumb to Nazi influence."

Rep. John Vorys (R., O.), speaking sarcastically, said he hoped we have moved into Dutch Guiana "in a nice, Christian, good neighborly way. If so, I'm for it."

The American troops are being dispatched to Dutch Guiana from American bases in the Caribbean region. The number of men constituting the expedition is a military secret. The war department assumed complete control of the information concerning the troop movement and the occupation which will be allowed to reach the public. Lieut. Col. Stanley J. Grogan, chief of the war department press section, is flying to the scene, instructed to "cover" the disembarkation, living quarters provided, and other aspects of the expedition for the American press.

White House Statement.

The announcement of the move was made in the following official White House statement:

"The bauxite mines in Surinam [Dutch Guiana] furnish upward of 60 per cent of the requirements of the United States aluminum industry, which is vital to the defense of the United States, the western hemisphere, and the nations actively resisting aggression.

"It is therefore necessary that the safety of these mines should be as completely assured as present conditions demand.

"In normal circumstances the government of the Netherlands would, for the purpose of strengthening further defense of Surinam, draw on the armed forces of the Netherlands Indies. In view, however, of the present situation in the southwestern Pacific it is thought inadvisable to follow that course.

"For this reason the governments of the Netherlands and of the United States of America have entered into consultation. As a result, the latter has agreed to send a contingent of the United States army to Surinam to coöperate with the Netherlands forces in assuring the protection of the bauxite mines in that territory. This contingent will, of course, be withdrawn as soon as the present danger to the mines is removed and at the latest at the conclusion of hostilities.

Expect Brazil to Help.

"Simultaneously the government of the Netherlands has invited the government of the United States of Brazil to participate in this defense measure. It is understood that Brazil will contribute to the common aim by exercising an especial measure of military vigilance in the frontier zone adjacent to Surinam and by sending a mission to Paramaribo to exchange information and concert all other steps on the basis indicated to assure maximum efficiency of the safety measures thus being jointly undertaken by the Brazilian, United States, and Netherlands forces.

"The government of Brazil has indicated its whole hearted approval of the emergency measures."

"At the same time, the government of the United States has notified the governments of the American republics of the foregoing arrangements, which have been reached in the interests of all."

Final Checks Go to Poll Officials in Bench Vote

Final checks were mailed last night to judges and clerks in the Nov. 4 judicial election, according to Richard J. Daley, deputy to County Controler Michael J. Flynn. Daley said checks went to 2,700 clerks and judges in townships outside the city and to 20,035 within the city limits. Total payments were about $180,000.

GUIANA MALARIA RIDDEN; HOME OF STRANGE BEASTS

Chiefly Populated by Colored Races.

Dutch Guiana, or Surinam, which is being occupied by an American expeditionary force on orders of President Roosevelt, is a malaria ridden land on the northeast shoulder of South America, lying 2 to 6 degrees north of the equator, and chiefly populated by Negroes and East Indians.

Strategically it provides the southernmost base in the chain of Panama canal defenses and provides a point from which American troops, planes, and warships might intercept an axis invasion from Dakar in French West Africa which Mr. Roosevelt and other strategists have often predicted.

The country has an area of 54,291 square miles and a population of 178,000, including the forest and bush Indians and Negroes. The only large city is Paramaribo, with 54,853 inhabitants.

Many Moslems and Hindus.

An oddity is that the principal religions are Mohammedan, with 42,000 followers, and Hindu, with 33,000 adherents, for labor has chiefly been imported from the East Indies since slavery was abolished in 1870. There are 76,500 Negroes, at least 10,000 of whom are Djurkas or "bush Negroes," 1,400 Chinese who are Confucians, 52,000 British and Dutch East Indians, 10,000 native Indians, and only a few thousand white Europeans.

As in all tropical countries, there is a dry season for three months in the autumn and again in February and March and a rainy season that drenches the land with from 100 to 130 inches of rain the rest of the year. Drinking water is usually obtained from the drainage of the roofs, for there are only a few wells and the water is poor. The average yearly daytime temperature is 90 degrees, but inland the dank forests shut off the breezes and the climate is almost insufferable.

Strange Beasts and Reptiles.

Much of the back country adjoining Brazil is unexplored and the American forces will become acquainted with such strange beasts as ant-eaters, armadillos, jaguars, pumas, and sloths, as well as with huge constricting anacondas, rattlesnakes, and the bushmaster, one of the most deadly of snakes.

Bauxite, an ore of aluminum, is the principal export commodity. Last year 615,000 tons, valued at $3,000,000, were shipped to the United States, most of it to East St. Louis, Ill. Some gold, sugar, coffee, rum, and rice are exported. Cacao used to be a major export item, but has been seriously affected by the witches' broom disease.

Dutch Guiana was ceded by Great Britain to the Netherlands in 1667 in exchange for the colony of New Netherlands [New York], but was twice snatched back by the British, only to be restored again later to the Dutch.

20,000 Philippine Troops Inducted Into U. S. Army

3 STATE SCHOOL FUGITIVES SEIZED IN STOLEN AUTO

Three inmates who escaped from the Illinois State Training School for Boys, near St. Charles, were arrested yesterday in Peru, La Salle county, in an automobile they had stolen in Batavia. They are: Robert Bellows, 17 years old, of Polo; Arthur Courtwright, 16, of Louisville, Clay county, and Jack Brand, 16.

Four other inmates of the school, who escaped Nov. 17 after assaulting a guard and stealing two automobiles were taken to the Kane county jail in Geneva yesterday from St. Louis county, Missouri, where they were captured Nov. 18. They are John Fletcher, 17; William Langhals, 17; Alex Biernacki, 16, and Joseph Rose, 17. They will be arraigned tomorrow in the Kane county Circuit court on charges of robbery, grand larceny, and assault with intent to kill.

Firemen Take Five Down Ladders in Flat Blaze

Five persons, two of them women, were carried down ladders to safety from a blazing flat building at 215 East 25th street by firemen yesterday. Albert Hubbel, 86 years old, one of those rescued, was in a critical condition last night in Mercy hospital from the effects of inhaling smoke. Ten other residents used stairways to escape.

Henry Perry, 61 years old, a relief client, plunged to his death yesterday from a room on the third floor at 833 North La Salle street.

ARGENTINA AND BRAZIL BACK U. S. MOVE TO GUIANA

Parley Lines Up Latin Nations for Defense.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 24 (AP).—Brazil announced tonight the dispatch of a military mission to Dutch Guiana to coöperate with Netherlands and United States troops in guarding bauxite mines there and served a notice on the world that she would not be neutral if any other American nation becomes involved in the war.

As a means of implementing a policy of wholehearted hemispheric defense solidarity, the government said "special measures of military vigilance" would be taken on the Brazilian side of the frontier.

Foreign Minister Oswaldo Aranha, arriving from conferences in Buenos Aires and Santiago, declared South America's powerful ABC powers—Argentina, Brazil, and Chile—were lined up in a policy of continental defense along with other Latin American nations.

Keep in Close Contact.

Aranha said that if a European nation declared war upon or attacked an American nation he had "not the slightest doubt that Brazil would consider that act aimed directly against Brazil." If an American nation should attack a European nation, Brazil would continue to consider the American nation as a neutral, "because our Pan-American policy is one of defensive coöperation," he explained.

"All the peoples of the Americas will coöperate with the United States," he added. "All countries have exactly the same line of thinking—of common action—and none of them will fail in promises made in conjunction with others."

In Buenos Aires, Argentine Foreign Minister Enrique Ruiz Guinazu said the United States decision to send troops to Dutch Guiana "is a normal thing," analagous to the occupation of Iceland.

Ruiz Guinazu issued a communique which said in the three-day conversations there with Aranha they agreed upon the necessity of keeping in close contact on the international situation.

2,000 U. S. Troops Involved.

Informed sources here said a United States army force of approximately 2,000 men—which may already have landed in Guiana—would represent virtually all branches of the service except cavalry. The emphasis, they said, would be on anti-aircraft defenses.

Dutch Troops Reënforced.

PARAMARIBO, Dutch Guiana, Nov. 24 (AP).—The population of this Dutch colony has been officially informed by radio of the agreement sending troops from the United States here to protect the bauxite mines. New contingents of Dutch troops had arrived in September and November from London by way of Canada to reenforce the Netherlands' garrison here.

3 STORY BUILDING SWEPT BY FIRE; DAMAGE IS $75,000

Fire of undetermined origin did damage estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000 last night to the Central Paper Stock company, 1215 to 1265 North avenue. The flames, discovered about 8 p. m., raced thru the three story brick building so swiftly that a 5-11 alarm was sounded within 20 minutes. Firemen shot water from the roof of an adjacent building to prevent the blaze from spreading, and the fireboat Busse stood by to pump water from the north branch of the Chicago river.

Fire Marshal Michael J. Corrigan, who estimated the damage, said an investigation would be started today by Henry Eckhardt, assistant corporation counsel.

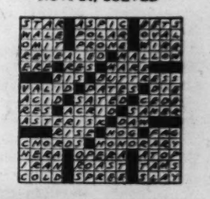
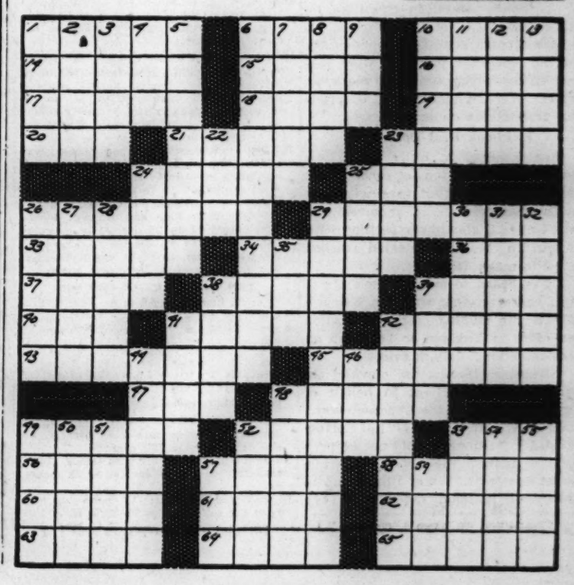
PUZZLE OF MONDAY, NOV. 24, SOLVED





ANTI-STRIKE LAW ACTION APPROVED AT WHITE HOUSE

Congressmen Meet at Call of President.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24 (AP).—A bi-partisan group of congressmen meeting with President Roosevelt and labor and justice department executives reached a "consensus" tonight that labor legislation should be taken up promptly, that it should provide for a cooling off period before strikes, and that the chief executive should have the power to inaugurate compulsory arbitration if necessary.

Those points were enunciated by House Majority Leader John W. McCormack [D., Mass.], who talked with reporters in the White House lobby after the two and a quarter hour conference.

Only Applies to Arms Strikes.

The proposed legislation would apply only to strikes against rearmament industry and only for the period of the emergency.

House Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. [R., Mass.] stood by McCormack's side, agreeing that there had been a consensus but remarking that no commitments had been made. "The Republicans want a bill that will keep the defense work going," he added.

"It was pretty generally agreed," McCormack said, "that labor legislation would be taken up by the house after the price control bill. The consensus favored a temperate approach."

Likewise, the Democratic leader asserted, it was the general view that there should be "a period of reason or a period of sanity, a waiting period called for by law."

Give President More Power.

Furthermore, he added, it was agreed that "the President should have the power, in the final analysis, to order arbitration."

As McCormack viewed the operation of the prospective measure, there would be first a cooling off period, a period of negotiation or mediation, and then, if need be, arbitration. He intimated there had been some talk of holding secret ballots before strikes could be called.

McCormack disclosed that there was some talk of attempting to get labor and industry to agree on a set of principles, as was done in the World war emergency, and he expressed a personal opinion that that "would be a very good idea."

"Reviewed 57 Proposals."

"Well, we just reviewed all the different proposals—about 57 varieties—at length, and decided to take a bill up right after the price control bill."

Attending the conference were 11 house members, two representatives of the department of labor, and Attorney General Biddle. The conferees:

Grandmother Gets Custody

DRIVERS' UNION LEADER ADMITS RADICAL RECORD

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 24 (AP).—Vincent R. Dunne, a leader of General Drivers union, 544-CIO, who, the government contends, was the "brains" behind the Socialist Workers party here, related his history in the radical movement in federal court here today.

Vincent Dunne.

Dunne, the second defense witness in the trial of 23 persons on charges of seditious conspiracy, took the stand this morning and admitted, under cross-examination, participation in the IWW and "free speech" strikes of 1906 and 1908.

After United States District Attorney Victor Anderson read into the record an article from the Militant, radical magazine of the 1920s, Dunne admitted that:

He had been a driver for the Wells-Fargo Express company, had been discharged and then blacklisted; that he had been expelled from the Minneapolis Central Labor union in 1924 for being a communist; that he had been expelled from the Farmer-Labor party for attacks on United States Senator Henrik Shipstead and other Farmer-Labor leaders; that he had been a communist candidate for senator, and that he was expelled from the communist party on charges of Trotskyite activities.

Cancel Reservations on 2 Liners; May Be Troopships

San Pedro, Cal., Nov. 24 (AP).—Notice was given today that all passenger accommodations on the liners President Garfield and President Taylor have been canceled, with indication that they would be used by the government to transport troops.

New Hearing Set

Mrs. Edith Ziegfeld, 69 years old, 7341 Crandon avenue, a sister-in-law of the late famous Florenz Ziegfeld, appeared in Probate court yesterday seeking the guardianship of two grandchildren, Walter Dienhart, 14, and Richard Dienhart, 11.

Her attorney, Stephen Love, told Probate Judge John F. O'Connell and John F. Keeley, assistant to the probate judge, that the boys' mother, Edith, daughter of Mrs. Ziegfeld, was divorced from Walter Dienhart in 1934, and that she was awarded custody of her sons. She died in 1938, and the boys had since lived with their grandmother. Last summer, Love added, the boys visited their father in Douglas, Mich., and did not return until two weeks ago.

Harold S. Lansing, attorney for the father, charged that the boys were kidnaped by friends of Mrs. Ziegfeld and brought back to Chicago forcibly. Mrs. Ziegfeld said they preferred to live with her.

Judge O'Connell continued the case until Jan. 6, and left the boys in Mrs. Ziegfeld's custody in the meantime.

HIGH COURT KILLS CALIFORNIA LAW BARRING 'OKIES'

Right of All Citizens to Migrate Is Upheld.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24 (AP).—The Supreme court today held unconstitutional California legislation which prohibited any one from assisting nonresident indigent persons to come into the state, popularly known as the "anti-Okie" law. The measure was intended to bar from the state persons likely to become public charges.

Twenty seven other states were said to have similar statutes.

Justice James Byrnes said in the decision—his first since taking his seat last October—that the legislation "imposes an unconstitutional burden upon interstate commerce."

The litigation specifically involved the conviction of Fred F. Edwards of Marysville, Cal., on a charge of violating the statute by driving his jobless brother-in-law, Frank Duncan, from Spur, Tex., to Marysville, Cal., in 1939. Duncan later received help from the Farm Security administration after his arrival.

Sentenced to Six Months.

Edwards was given a six months' suspended sentence in a justice's court, a verdict upheld by the Yuba county Superior court.

Justices William O. Douglas and Robert Jackson wrote separate concurring opinions with Justices Hugo L. Black and Frank Murphy subscribing to the opinion Douglas wrote.

Byrnes stated objections to the theory that "relief is a local matter." He said "relief of the needy has become the common responsibility and concern of the whole nation. . . .

"We do not think that it will now be seriously contended that because a person is without employment and without funds he constitutes a 'moral pestilence.' Poverty and immorality are not synonymous."

Implies Right to Move.

Jackson asserted Duncan was a citizen of the United States and the constitution "forbids any state to abridge his privileges or immunities as such." His opinion held that the constitution implied that citizens had a right to move freely from state to state.

"I am of the opinion," Douglas said, "that the right of persons to move freely from state to state occupies a more protected position in our constitutional system than does the movement of cattle, fruit, steel, and coal across state lines."

RIVAL OF PANAMA PRESIDENT LAYS CLAIM TO OFFICE

11 Friends of Claimant Arrested as Plotters.

CALI, Colombia, Nov. 24 (AP).—Anibal Rios, third vice president of Panama in the overthrown government of Dr. Arnulfo Arias, claimed tonight he was the rightful and constitutional president of the republic, and "Come what may, I am going to serve."

He voiced his claim on his arrival here from Lima, where he had served as his country's minister to Peru until he was ousted Nov. 6 by Panama's pro-American coup government headed by Ricardo Adolfo de la Guardia.

Rios expressed surprise when informed that 11 of his friends had been arrested in Panama for "preparing to undertake a subversive movement," and added that he had heard of no such movement.

Wife Goes to Panama.

Rios, a former minister of education and agriculture, based his claim to the presidency on the ground that the first two vice presidents, José Pezet and Ernesto Jaen Guardia, waived their claims to the office after the coup which deposed Arias, now exiled in Mexico.

"I await word from my friends in Panama," said Rios.

Eleven of His Friends Seized.

PANAMA CITY, Panama, Nov. 24 (AP).—The 7 week old government of President Ricardo Adolfo de la Guardia today announced that it had arrested 11 friends of third Vice President Anibal Rios "after having proved that they were preparing to undertake a subversive movement."

Observers believed the new government was acting to prevent a possible putsch designed to put Rios in the presidency, to which many Panamanians believe he has a prior claim.

GOV. GREEN GETS PLEDGE OF MORE ARMAMENT JOBS

U. S. Aids Promise Fair Share for State.

denced by our purchase of defense bonds, but we favor an arms program to make America strong enough to be independent of the rest of the world and not a munition program partisan in the European conflict."

Gov. Green opened the luncheon meeting with a statement that Illinois has the skilled workers, the plants, the transportation facilities and the advantages of location to handle a much larger portion of America's arsenal job than the skimpy share of this business it has received.

He added that small plants, including those suited and those unsuited for munitions work, were fearful they would be forced to close unless federal restrictions are eased.

The governor's statement was supported by statistics read by Murray M. Baker of Peoria, Ill., vice chairman of the Illinois state council of defense, and by Carter Jenkins, coordinator of the council. A. F. Shafter, Decatur member of the Illinois public aid commission, cited employment figures in his home town as typical of the problem facing smaller manufacturing centers in Illinois.

Rep. C. S. Dewey (left), Rep. A. J. Johnson, and F. A. Virkus (right).

"There were 4,178 employés last October in 17 plants in Decatur," Shafter said. "In five weeks 520 have been laid off. By the first of the year 2,220 will be out of jobs unless the plants get armament work or are allowed to purchase materials for normal production."

Frederick A. Virkus, president of the Illinois division of the National Small Business Men's association, said 64 per cent of the small plants in America will be killed unless the rules are changed, that 27 per cent have reduced their pay rolls as a result of the armament program, that only 26 per cent are engaged in munitions work, and that only 32 per cent can be converted to war production.

"Our first responsibility is to aid the military services," Nelson responded. "We recognize that for a sound defense program we must have sound civilian economics.

Steel Investigation Described.

"The question of whether the shortages in material are real is based upon conjectures of how long the emergency will last."

"Aren't the big companies guilty of hoarding at the expense of the small companies?" Rep. Kelly asked.

"Yes, too much so," Nelson replied. "But they're not going to get away with it."

Rep. Anton J. Johnson [R., Macomb], said Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard was asking farmers to grow more food but that manufacturers were being denied steel to make agricultural equipment.

"We farmers need more machinery now that we've lost so many hired hands," Johnson said.

"We'll keep the plow factories open," Nelson said, "maybe not continuing to produce 150 per cent of their 1939 output but probably at 80 per cent of the 1939 rate."

Rep. Charles S. Dewey [R., Chicago] said: "In this time of quick turnover from peacetime to wartime economics, it is the duty of conservative Democrats and the Republican party to protect small industries from a threat of radicals within the New Deal who would welcome their destruction."

"We're going to do everything possible to keep small industries from closing their doors during the next three months," Odlum said in summing up the position of the OPM.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

THE QUESTION.

What was the narrowest escape experienced by you in your fire fighting career? [Asked of firemen.]

WHERE ASKED.

THE ANSWERS.

James P. Kelly, 6452 North Talman avenue—Four of us were breaking in the roof of a blazing five story building when the fire broke thru and the whole thing caved in. We were perched on the solid edge, but the smoke was so thick we didn't dare budge an inch. We hung on to each other—not to keep warm, either—and waited. A ladder was finally put up for us.

Lieut. Harry G. Hughes, 7938 Throop street—Remember that big stockyards fire in 1934? Had a close shave there. A bunch of us were playing a stream of water on one of those big sparks when our retreat thru the alley was cut off. We dropped everything and made a mad scramble thru and over the animal pens with all the cows and pigs. I was well smoked, but made it to safety.

John F. Fitzgerald, 1010 South Monitor avenue—I was on the very top rung of an 85 foot ladder, breaking windows for ventilation when a back draft brought an explosion of fire in the windows below me. I tossed the pole down and almost beat it to the ground. Another minute and I would never have made it down.

Harry Nelson, 1548 Addison street—In my 29 years of fire fighting I think my closest call was when I was on the fifth floor of a six story building. The chief ordered every fireman to leave, and as I walked out of the front door on the first floor the whole thing collapsed behind me. Others were badly injured.

Herbert Cooper, 5540 North Campbell avenue—This fire in the chemical supply house was practically over when I was very near the building giving first aid treatment to the firemen whose feet were burned by the chemicals. I was about to move on to the five who were on the front steps when a terrific explosion came. Those five were killed instantly.

Peter O'Sullivan, 8047 Laflin street—In the middle of the night we were carrying sleeping beauties out of a burning women's hotel. I was taking the last one down the ladder when fire broke out below us, all around the ladder. Was that woman hysterical! They sprayed a stream of water on us and we made it thru the fire, but that was pretty close.

DEBATE ON PRICE CONTROL SHOWS FEARS OF CZAR

Henderson Is Assailed for 'Alien Taint.'

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—Many representatives expressed fear that they were being called upon to approve legislation leading to the socialization of the United States and an economic czar, as the house today began debate on the Steagall bill setting up a system of price control for the nation.

A general desire for some method of checking price rises and avoiding the disasters of inflation was expressed by the legislators. But there was wide confusion over the form of legislation best calculated to achieve these objectives.

The bill provides for an administrator with complete power to fix price ceilings on all commodities. This economic dictator would undoubtedly be Leon Henderson, now acting as price coördinator by executive decree. Again and again in the discussion, members voiced their apprehension of the use to which Henderson, who has been accused of communistic leanings, would put his immense powers.

Voices Fear of Henderson.

"There is a general agreement, I take it, that some sort of control legislation must be enacted in order to prevent runaway inflation," Rep. E. E. Cox [D., Ga.] told the house. "I agree to that; and yet there is a feeling that if Henderson is given the broad powers carried in this bill, the remedy will be worse than the disease.

"The main drag on the impulse and urge for this legislation is Leon Henderson. I think there is general agreement that he is a man of extraordinary ability. He thinks so, too.

"This house will make a tremendous mistake unless it provides in this bill for some kind of restraint upon Henderson. Several days ago I referred to him as operating under the alias of Leon Henderson. I did him an injustice, I believe.

Charges Alien Taint.

"But that he is tainted with alien ideology I have not the slightest doubt. Give him these broad powers and turn him loose upon the people of this country and it may be the final culmination of the campaign initiated and which has been strenuously prosecuted by the Frankfurters and Hillmans in this government. I say to you again, Henderson is the fear. He is the fear."

Cox urged the creating of a board to restrain "this man who has the dictator complex plus." In this he was joined by Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott [R., Mich.], ranking minority member of the committee, who suggested a five man board with the power to set aside the administrator's price ceilings if it found them injurious to the industry affected.

Wolcott detailed the perplexities assailing most members in connection with the legislation. Not even on the 25 man banking and currency committee were there any two members in complete agreement, he said.

Denounces Licensing Clause.

Wolcott denounced the last minute action of the committee this morning in restoring to the bill the provisions for the licensing of industries. The committee had struck out this drastic governmental power two weeks ago but under administration pressure, restored a revised version of it. Members said it was restored by a strictly party vote of 14 to 9.

Farmers selling their own products were specifically exempted from licensing and in addition the revised version would forbid the licensing of radio time. The selling and distribution of newspapers, books, and other printed matter likewise would be exempted, the same as under the original provision.

"I think that was the first political vote cast on the bill," said Wolcott. "It justified the fears of many of us that the control of business rather than of prices is the aim of this legislation. Together with the control of priorities, it will enable the administration to socialize America. It creates an economic and social czar. The bill places the economic destiny of 130 million people under the domination and control of one man."

Court Victory

Circuit Judge Cornelius J. Harrington yesterday denied a petition on behalf of members of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks' Protective association asking that Max Caldwell, ousted business agent, be held in contempt of court for failure to answer questions put him during a master in chancery hearing.

Judge Harrington ruled that Caldwell was within his constitutional rights in refusing to answer questions he feared might incriminate him during the hearing of a suit to discover what has happened to $910,000 in union funds.

The judge stated that since Caldwell was brought before Master Daniel A. Covelli by a subpena he could refuse to answer incriminating questions, but that had he come before Covelli of his own volition he would have been under legal compulsion to answer all questions.

Pope May Name Stritch Cardinal Next Month

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 24 (AP).—The possible appointment of two new United States cardinals by Pope Pius XII. at a consistory in December was reported today in Vatican circles. Prelates said the pontiff was considering elevating Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York and Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch of Chicago.

STATE SUPREME COURT REJECTS REDISTRICT MOVE

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 24 [Special].—State Rep. Anthony W. Daly's effort to compel congressional redistricting in Illinois in order to eliminate the gross inequalities in population that now exist was frustrated today by the state Supreme court.

Rep. A. W. Daly.

The court held it had no jurisdiction in an injunction suit brought up on appeal from a decision of the Madison county Circuit court in which Daly, a Democrat from the Alton district, and two other petitioners sought to restrain state and county officials from expending public funds for the election of congressmen from the districts as they are now constituted.

The high court ruled it had no right to compel legislative action in the matter of drawing new district lines, that such action would constitute an invasion by the judiciary of another branch of the government.

21 Soldiers Lose Lives During Army Maneuvers

Monroe, N. C., Nov. 24 (AP).—Army general headquarters disclosed today that 21 soldiers had lost their lives since the beginning of the first army training battle on Nov. 15.

FURIOUS SEE-SAW BATTLE RAGING IN DESERT—BERLIN

Claims Axis Forces Seize the Initiative.

BERLIN, Nov. 24 (AP).—German war dispatches tonight pictured the battle of the Libyan desert as one of see-saw fury in which the German and Italians had wrested the initiative from the British.

German sources generally stressed the power of axis counterattacks, the mounting number of British planes and tanks reported destroyed and British prisoners taken. However, they asserted that the whirlwind action there made the naming of places taken and retaken pointless.

Three Areas of Fighting.

Three central areas of violent fighting, if not actual fronts, emerged from the somewhat confused picture here of the ever shifting struggle. These were Bardia, Tobruk, and a spot some distance south of Tobruk, which is held by the British.

German sources yesterday had claimed that more than 260 British tanks and 200 armored cars were smashed, but today the high command merely said that numerous additional tanks had been destroyed and "the number of prisoners and the amount of booty is increasing."

Destroy Tank Brigade—Italy.

ROME, Nov. 24 (AP).—The Italian high command today announced the destruction of one British tank brigade and the capture of its commander, a Gen. Sperling, in the fierce fighting raging in spots over nearly 3,000 square miles of the Libyan desert.

At the same time they acknowledged British capture of the oasis of Gialo, 200 miles west of Giarabub and 150 miles from the main Bengazi-Tripoli highway where it skirts the Gulf of Sirte. The high command said a British motorized column which apparently was encircling the Italians from the rear overwhelmed a small Italian garrison there.

The Italians claimed that more than 600 British tanks and armored cars had been put out of action since they launched their offensive, 50 of the tanks in the Tobruk sector alone.

Continued attempts of the long-besieged British troops at Tobruk to break thru the axis lines ran into the "sturdy" opposition of Italian and German infantry and artillery fire, it was said.

[For two days the British have told of the Tobruk garrison bursting thru the axis lines and advancing to join British forces from Egypt. High British sources in London said they had received no report of their own that a British general, named Sperling, had been captured.]

ITALIAN WARSHIP AND A SCHOONER SUNK, N. Y. HEARS

New York, Nov. 24 (AP).—The sinking of an Italian warship and a sailing vessel by British bombers in the Mediterranean were reported in marine circles tonight.

These sources said the minelayer Tuen was lost on Oct. 30 while guarding a Tripoli bound convoy, and that the 344 ton motor auxiliary schooner Orsolina, one of the escorted ships, was likewise sunk.

British communiques have reported recently numerous successes against axis shipping, but did not mention these vessels. The Orsolina, built in 1903, was registered out of Savona, Italy. Jane's Fighting Ships, naval manual, lists no Italian warship named Tuen.

FUNDS SHORTAGE HALTS TESTS AT COUNTRY DAIRIES

Inspection of country dairies by board of health inspectors has been stopped, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, board president, told the council finance committee yesterday.

Dr. Bundesen said the board lacks funds in the proper account to pay the automobile expenses for the 55 inspectors. He asked the committee to approve an old request for the transfer of $6,600 from one health department account to the automobile expense account. The committee deferred action on the request.

BRITISH SLAY 100 ITALIANS TRYING TO FLEE GONDAR

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, Nov. 24 (AP).—British forces are closing in on the last Italian forces in Ethiopia, in the Gondar region in the northern mountains, and are crushing Italian attempts to break out, the British East African command announced today. One force which attempted to break thru the British lines to escape was surrounded and 100 Italians were killed, a communique said. The commander, Lieut. Col. Cesanni, was captured.

TWO CANADIAN CORVETTES SINK GERMAN U-BOAT

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 24 (AP).—A German submarine was sunk recently in the North Atlantic by two Canadian corvettes which rescued and imprisoned its 47 surviving crewmen, the navy ministry announced tonight. The sinking was credited to teamwork by the corvettes Chambly and Moosejaw, apparently while on convoy duty.

The Chambly forced the U-boat to the surface with depth charges and its crew abandoned ship after the Moosejaw fired only a single round. Corvettes, small, auxiliary vessels, are designed chiefly for operation close to shore, but some are capable of wide range.

The announcement issued by Navy Minister Angus MacDonald, did not say where the U-boat was sunk. On Nov. 5 MacDonald said German submarines were operating off the coast of Newfoundland, within sight of the shore.

At that time he said two U-boats had been attacked—one by a corvette and the other by a plane—in October off the northern tip of Newfoundland and that one possibly was sunk. MacDonald said these submarines were discovered at the point where Belle Isle Strait, the northern mouth of the St. Lawrence river, empties into the Atlantic. This is about 400 miles from the site of the United States navy base on the south coast of Newfoundland.

GEN. BRETT SURE BRITISH WILL WIN, HE RADIOS U. S.

LONDON, Nov. 25 [Tuesday] (AP).—Confidence in a British victory was expressed by Maj. Gen. George H. Brett, chief of the United States air corps, in a broadcast to the United States early today.

"The road is very long and rough," he said, "and the end is not yet in sight, but I have not the smallest doubt that England will find the peace that comes with victory."

Gen. Brett had to broadcast at 3:15 a. m. in order to reach the American audience at 9:15 p. m. Monday. He said many difficulties already had been overcome, but that he was anxious to return to the United States to impart the lessons he had learned here. He reiterated that the greatest problem was to eliminate the time lag between discovery by active pilots of the need for improvements on planes and fulfilment of the need thru production.

HERE'S A TIP FOR READERS ON WAR IN AFRICA DESERT

Many of the Arabic towns and villages in the area of the British-axis Libyan warfare take their names from tribal chieftains. As a result the most prominent prefixes in these names mean, roughly, leader. Notable exceptions are the prefixes "mersa" which means harbor and "bir" which means well or spring.

Some of the others:

Sidi—Master or chieftain.

Ras—Head or leader.

Bal—Master, also means husband.

"El" is simply the article "the."

7 MORE NATIONS WILL SIGN AXIS ANTI-SOVIET PACT IN BERLIN TODAY

BERLIN, Nov. 24 (AP).—Seven more governments, either active axis allies or those of nations occupied by axis troops, tomorrow will join the six power anticomintern pact aimed against "all destructive powers which directly or indirectly support bolshevism."

This phrase was taken by observers as a reference to the United States and Britain because of their support of Russia. Berlin considers these nations active sponsors of "world bolshevism."

Authorized Germans said the new signers are to be Finland, Croatia, Rumania, and Slovakia, who have contributed manpower in the battle against Russia; occupied Denmark and Bulgaria, and the Japanese sponsored Nanking régime in China.

The six nations who will renew their signatures at the noon ceremony marking the fifth anniversary of the pact are Germany, Japan, Italy, Spain, Hungary, and Manchukuo, which was created by a Japanese invasion of Manchuria.

HITLER MAY GO THRU SPAIN, SAYS LONDON WRITER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 25 [Tuesday].—The possibility that Adolf Hitler is prepared to rush troops thru Spain and across the Straits of Gibraltar is suggested by the Daily Telegraph diplomatic correspondent this morning. Such a move, he says, may become "imminent" as the British attack in Lybia develops.

The correspondent says another row has flared up in Spain between generals led by Gen. Eugenio de los Monteros, former ambassador to Berlin, and Generalissimo Francisco Franco's brother-in-law, Foreign Minister Ramon Serrano Suner, over the attitude of the latter toward allowing the Germans to use Spanish territory for North African operations.

Franco is said to have agreed to dismiss Suner, but failed to do so; he is said to have appointed Moneros captain general of the Balearic islands as a sop. If the row becomes any more acute, the correspondent predicts that Suner may be "driven out of office and Franco might fall with him," leaving the generals to take over the government.

EXPECT MEETING OF FRENCH, NAZIS, ITALIANS TODAY

SOMEWHERE ON THE FRENCH FRONTIER, Nov. 24 (AP).—A meeting of French, German, and Italian leaders is expected tomorrow to discuss the future relations of France with her axis conquerors.

Whether Marshal Petain and Adolf Hitler would attend was not clear, but the possibility was strengthened by the Vichy announcement Saturday that Petain would go to occupied France early this week to see a high German official.

Latest reports said at least two high officials from each of the three countries would meet near Paris.

BIGGEST TROOP CONVOY OF WAR SAILS ATLANTIC

Canadians Guarded by U. S. Navy Part Way.

A BRITISH PORT, Nov. 24 (AP).—"Sansom's rough riders," Canada's first all-tank division commanded by Maj. Gen. E. W. Sansom, has reached Britain in the largest troop convoy ever to cross the Atlantic, where it was guarded part of the way by the United States navy.

With the tank force, the fourth battle division sent over from Canada, came 75 United States army air corps and signal corps experts, a number of other Americans who joined the royal Canadian air force, and the largest contingent of Canadian trained airmen to reach here since the start of the war.

The airmen alone—more than 1,000 strong—filled one big passenger liner in the convoy, which came into port unattacked, and flanked by British warships.

Takes Days to Disembark.

Altogether the force and the equipment landed was so great that it took several days to disembark. Thousands upon thousands of the Canadians marched ashore shouting their own welcome.

Their arrival boosted to more than 100,000 the number of Canadian service men in Britain.

Also in the convoy were a group of Netherlands seamen trained in the East Indies, Belgian, and Norwegian recruits, and 56 nursing sisters with a general hospital unit from Nova Scotia.

Hockey Star Among Them.

The number of those aboard from the United States, besides the army air corps and signal corps men, was not disclosed, but approximately eight per cent of Canadian air force recruits come from the United States, and at least some of them were in the tank division.

Also with the tank troopers was Lieut. Ted Graham of London, Ont., former hockey star who played with the Chicago Blackhawks and New York Rangers.

Two U. S. Fliers Aboard.

Besides the United States army experts, American fliers with the RAF who arrived included Flying Officer Brady Parker of Lyford, Tex., and L. Barlow of South Dakota. The Canadian armored troops also included at least one United States recruit, Trooper Bob Jones of Los Angeles.

Gen. Sansom declared his men "rank second only to the air force in the skilled quality of personnel." He said the force represented "the most ambitious effort the Canadian army ever tried."

KILLED BY ELECTRIC SHOCK.

George Bogucki, 20 years old, 1800 Haddon avenue, was killed by electric shock last night while cleaning a catch basin in the basement of a building at 1717 Division street. He was using an extension cord.

Investigate Death of Girl Inmate

Verdict Is Suicide

A Kane county coroner's jury decided yesterday that Bertha Wassmer, 18 year old inmate of the State Training School for Girls at Geneva, who hanged herself in her locker room there Sunday night, committed suicide while despondent. She was to have been paroled from the institution a few days before Christmas.

Bertha Wassmer.

Henry W. Wassmer of Joliet, father of the girl, announced at the inquest that he was not satisfied with the jury's verdict. He said he will appear today before State's Attorney Charles G. Seidel of Kane county to demand a further investigation.

The principal witness at the inquest was Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, who since last June has been managing director of the training school.

In response to questions put by the girl's father, Mrs. Lewis denied that the girl had been punished shortly before her suicide. Earlier the warder of the cottage in which the Wassmer girl was confined, Mrs. Clare Moody, testified that the girl had been ill Sunday night and had stayed in her room instead of going to the recreation room with the other inmates.

INJURED BY GUN EXPLOSION.

Harlan Hares, 11 years old, colored, 3106 South Parkway, suffered a mangled right hand yesterday when a revolver he found near his home exploded when he put in a cartridge and pulled the trigger. The gun was made for blank cartridges only.

5 MINE SWEEPERS TO GO TO SECRET MISSISSIPPI PORT

Rock Island, Ill., Nov. 24 [Special].—A fleet of five naval mine sweepers will be sent down the Mississippi river from Dubuque, Ia., tomorrow morning, it was learned here today when Dan Shaw of Leclaire, who was second pilot on the Rock Island district United States engineer steamer, Ellen, left for Dubuque to become master pilot of the fleet.

The mine sweepers, small diesel powered ocean going craft, were built for the navy at the Dubuque Boat and Boiler Works. All five have been launched and two have been equipped. These two will take the three uncompleted boats in tow and will move them to an undisclosed destination, where they will be completed.

[The navy department in Washington, D. C., censored this news item and prohibited publication of the destination of the mine sweeper fleet. Two rulings were issued concerning the story. At first the navy department prohibited any publication of the item. Then it permitted the item to be published provided the destination was not divulged.]

BEGIN REMOVAL OF U. S. YANGTZE RIVER WARSHIPS

Marines to Quit Shanghai Later This Week.

The 370-ton Wake was the last occidental guardship at Hankow. American naval authorities there also closed their warehouse and liquidated the stocks. Two other gunboats have been stationed in the Yangtze below Hankow; presumably they will move down river shortly.

Withdrawal of American naval forces at Shanghai, including marines, appeared tonight to be near execution conforming with President Roosevelt's order earlier this month.

The first detachment of marines was expected to leave Shanghai on Wednesday and the last of them on Sunday.

New Message to Jap Envoy.

TOKIO, Nov. 24 (AP).—The Japanese foreign office has sent a new communication to its mission negotiating with the United States government in Washington, D. C., and a new development is expected "very shortly," Domei, the official Japanese news agency, said tonight. Domei warned that optimism was not warranted.

Premier Hideki Tojo opened a conference of prefectural governors with an urgent appeal for national unity in the face of obstacles and difficulties he said lay ahead of Japan. Tojo urged the governors to win the coöperation of the people to strengthen national defense. Shinsuku Kishi, minister of commerce and industry, urged the governors to help speed reorganization of medium and small industries as one means.

Doesn't Expect War Soon.

CHUNGKING, Nov. 24 (AP).—The Chinese government expects the American-Japanese talks at Washington, D. C., to fail, but does not believe war will follow immediately, a spokesman said today at a press conference. He said that the ABCD powers [America, Britain, China, and Dutch East Indies] were in perfect accord and that China had been constantly informed on the conversations.

COURT UPHOLDS CONVICTION OF MORAN, PARKER

The Illinois Supreme court in Springfield yesterday upheld the conviction of George [Bugs] Moran, notorious gangster in the dry era, and Frankie Parker, once known as the airplane bootlegger, who are under sentences of one year for conspiracy to counterfeit travelers' checks.

They were found guilty by a Criminal court jury before Judge James F. Fardy on April 30, 1939. The case against them was based on a scheme to flood the country with $500,000 worth of forged checks of the American Express company. Only $62,000 was involved in the trial.

Both Moran and Parker denied the charges, and said they were victims of a frameup. Judge Fardy sentenced each to a year in jail and fined each $2,000, the maximum penalty. Both Moran and Parker have been out on bond pending the appeal.

HEAR INDO-CHINA COMMUNICATIONS WITH FRANCE CUT

LONDON, Nov. 24 (AP).—The Exchange Telegraph news agency heard the Rome radio announce tonight that communications between Saigon, French Indo-China, and France had been interrupted.

Thailand Prepares to Fight.

BANGKOK, Thailand [Siam], Nov. 24 (AP).—The influential newspaper Suvarnabhuz, declaring that "any attack on Thailand will not be the walkover that a would-be aggressor might imagine," today predicted that the government will submit a bill to the legislature to mobilize the nation's resources on a war footing.

Rumors that reservists already have been warned to hold themselves in readiness could not be confirmed, however. The legislature is sitting in extraordinary session.

JUDGE R. L. HENRY ELECTED TO HIGH COURT IN EGYPT

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Nov. 24 (AP).—Robert Llewellyn Henry, a native of Chicago, was elected today a member of the general assembly of the Alexandria mixed courts of appeal.

This is the first time two Americans have sat simultaneously on the high tribunal. The other American judge is Jasper Brinton, formerly of Philadelphia. Henry, 59, had been a judge of the mixed courts of first instance since 1924.

[The courts are a holdover from the so-called system of capitulations which gave nationals of some foreign powers the right to be tried by their own laws in criminal cases.]

Actress to Wed

ASTRID ALLWYN.

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 24 (AP).—Astrid Allwyn, screen actress, said today she would become the bride of Charles Fee, west coast executive of a Boston insurance company. She said she and Fee had been neighbors for 14 months, but never met until he returned a book he had borrowed from her sister, Emma Christofferson. The actress, who was born in South Manchester, Conn., said the wedding would take place next weekend in Las Vegas, Ariz. She received a final divorce decree from Actor Robert Kent last December.

Asserts London Backs U. S. to Limit in Pacific Policy

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Nov. 24.—"London will back Washington to the limit in its Pacific policy," Alfred Duff-Cooper, the British coördinator in the far east, said tonight after a secret conference with the government which, he said, had reached a satisfactory conclusion.

HULL CALLS NEW PARLEY ON FAR EAST PROBLEM

4 Nations Attend; Bomb in Saigon Adds Tension.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24 (AP).—For the second time in a week Secretary of State Cordell Hull today summoned to a conference representatives of the four nations collaborating with the United States on the far east problem.

The conference lasted more than two hours and was attended by British Ambassador Lord Halifax, Chinese Ambassador Hu Shih, Australian Minister Richard G. Casey, and Netherlands Minister A. Loudon. Afterward state department officials said it was a continuance of last Saturday's discussion and that further meetings are contemplated.

No conference between Hull and Japan's special emissary, Saburo Kurusu, was scheduled today. Saturday night Hull talked for two hours with Kurusu and Japanese Ambassador Kichisaburo Nomura.

Bombing Adds to Tension.

At the state department today it was said there was no information concerning new and urgent instructions which the Japanese news agency, Domei, reported were sent to Tokio's negotiators in Washington.

The mysterious bomb explosion which wrecked the American consulate at Saigon, French Indo-China, yesterday, added to the tension arising from the far eastern developments.

There was no clew to the perpetrators of the bombing. Altho the United States has looked askance at Japanese infiltration into Indo-China, there was nothing to indicate whether the bombing was the work of Japanese extremists.

Walls Blown Down.

A preliminary investigation indicated the bomb was placed on a floor just outside the consulate office, where it exploded last night. A report from Consul Sidney H. Browne said there was no injury to personnel or to the official archives, but that inner walls and other parts of the consulate were blown down and furniture damaged. Saigon police took charge of the investigation.

Browne comes from Short Hills, N. J. Members of his staff are Vice Consul Kingsley W. Hamilton, Wooster, O., and Miss Carolyn C. Jacobs, Richmond, Mo., a clerk.

WHY HAS MAXWELL HOUSE COFFEE THAT·EXTRA-SPECIAL·RICHNESS?

From distant, sky-high plateaus Maxwell House brings you rare coffees—Central Americans . . . Medellins . . . Manizales—their flavor developed to thrilling perfection in the famous Maxwell House Blend!

• Fifty years ago a young Southerner named Joel Cheek blended the first Maxwell House.

Today his coffee is the world's largest-selling vacuum-packed brand. Yet each pound is still blended with the same traditional skill and care he used . . . to bring out all the heart-warming goodness of our choice, highland-grown coffees from Latin America.

For vigor, we select premium Central and South Americans—exquisite Mexicans . . . Costa Ricans . . . Guatemalas. For richness, the Medellins. For mellowness, the Manizales. For full body, the Bucaramangas.

These superb, upland coffees are always limited in availability in the United States. But fortunately we have secured ample supplies so that you can be sure of the same marvelous richness in every cup.

Today, ask for Maxwell House—a truly glorious blend of finer coffees.

Mexico: In the heart of the majestic Sierras grow coffees famous for their vigorous, winy flavor

Choose from these
3 SCIENTIFICALLY CORRECT GRINDS

Naturally, all coffee roasters—including ourselves—would like to put up a single "all-purpose" grind. But clever women know different coffee-making methods call for different grinds.

Therefore, Maxwell House offers 3 accurately correct grinds. Each is ground uniformly by precision grinders. This eliminates crushing, unevenness and waiting involved in store grinding.

Not only do you get better coffee by using the right Maxwell House grind for your coffee-making method, but you may also save money. As the directions on the tins show, Drip and Glass-Maker grinds give you the same richness with substantially less coffee than if you used Regular grind for these methods.

Don't Forget
MAXWELL HOUSE GIVES YOU MORE FLAVOR FOR YOUR MONEY

Because . . .
- There's more flavor in the Maxwell House blend—it's far richer in highland-grown, extra-flavor coffees.
- All the marvelous richness of flavor is brought out by our special "Radiant Roast" process.
- No flavor can escape—it's sealed, roaster-fresh, in the famous super-vacuum, Vita-Fresh tin.
- 3 scientifically correct grinds—Drip, Regular, Glass-Maker—assure full flavor by any coffee-making method.
- For extra value, save money and save shopping trips by getting the thrifty 2-pound tin.

PERIL TO MOSCOW GRAVEST OF WAR, RUSSIANS ADMIT

Nazis Throw 40 Divisions Into Critical Battle.

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Nov. 24 (AP).—The Red army was fighting one of the most critical battles of its history tonight against the onrush of massed Nazi tanks and men which battered at Moscow's second lines of defense and pierced within 50 miles of the capital.

The fate of Moscow admittedly was at stake. Russians described the danger as the greatest in the five months of war.

In a desperate attempt to ease the pressure on the central [Moscow] front they reported seizing the initiative on the northern Leningrad] and southern [Rostov] flanks with what they declared were their greatest counteroffensives.

Northwest of the Don river port of Rostov, military dispatches said 7,000 German dead were piled along a 70 mile battlefront where the Germans had been shoved back as much as 37 miles.

Continuing Street Fighting.

Rostov [which the German high command declared last Saturday was firmly in axis hands] was described as the scene of continuing street fighting as its garrison held key points against strong tank attacks.

Russian war reports said that southeast of Leningrad the rail line city of Malaya Vishera had been recaptured by a Russian counterattack which pushed German troops back to the outskirts of another important town. The Germans also were said to have lost several other communities west of the Volkhov river.

[A Moscow dispatch received in London said 3,000 officers and men in the 257th and 115th German infantry regiments had been smashed completely on the Leningrad front.]

Closest Approach to Capital.

It was here that the Germans, striking with terrific force, were said to have driven a wedge into Russian defenses in the closest approach to the capital yet reported in Russian dispatches.

[The Germans declared they had smashed to approximately 31 miles from Moscow in this region.]

At both sides of the wedge, around Kalinin and Volokolamsk the Red army was reported holding on.

Elsewhere along the Moscow arc of defense, however, the Russians were pushed back inch by inch under the weight of the attacking force which military observers here estimated at more than 40 divisions—roughly 600,000 men—and half the Nazis' tanks.

Pushed to Second Lines.

The German gains apparently were made in the Mozhaisk section, 57 miles west of Moscow; southwest of the capital, and south of Tula, which the Russians said the Germans were fighting fiercely to flank. It was in these sectors where defense forces were reported pushed back to second lines.

From the Crimea the only news reaching here was that the garrison of Sevastopol had driven the German right flank back several miles, recapturing several important heights.

Nineteen German and seven soviet planes were destroyed in Sunday air battles and the Red air force was active all along the front, the official communique said.

Report Turk Ships Barred from Sailing Black Sea

ANKARA, Turkey, Nov. 24.—Unofficial reports tonight from Istanbul shipping circles said Turkish merchantmen have been forbidden to sail beyond Turkish territorial waters in the Black sea in the direction of Bulgaria and Rumania. Turkey's merchantmen of 150 tons or less had been permitted to sail between Burgas, Bulgaria, and Istanbul. The reported new order, inspired by the sinkings of two small Turkish ships, will stop all merchant traffic in Turkish bottoms from the Bosphorus to axis held Black sea ports.

Fall from Bicycle Seriously Injures Noted French Pilot

VICHY, France, Nov. 24.—Michel Detroyat, the famous French acrobatic and speed pilot, is in a critical condition in a Paris clinic as result of a bicycle accident in the blackout. Detroyat ran his bicycle between the rails of disused car tracks and was thrown to the pavement. His injuries at first were thought to be unimportant but it was found that a fracture of the skull he sustained in an airplane accident at Tours in 1934 had reopened.

Nazis and Italians from Afghanistan Reach Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey, Nov. 24.—The axis colony expelled from Afganistan arrived today at Istanbul and went aboard the Rumanian steamers Bessarabia and Transylvania. The 180 Germans and 27 Italians will remain aboard the liners until axis consular officials at Istanbul complete arrangements for their transfer thru Bulgaria to the reich and Italy.

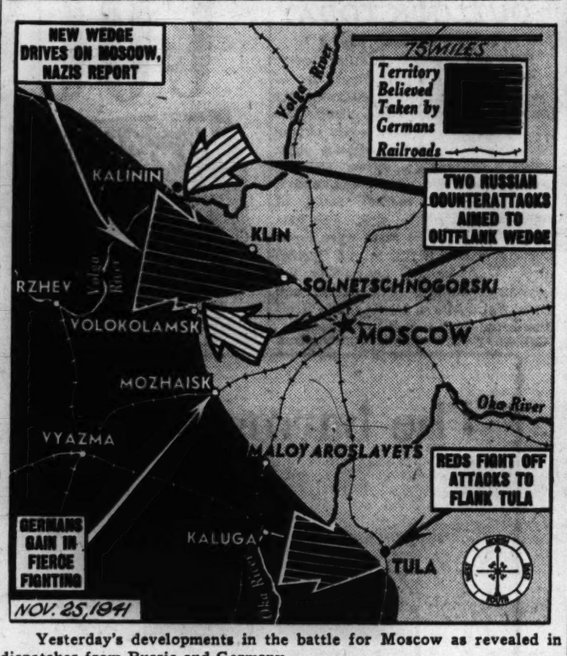
The Battle for Moscow



Yesterday's developments in the battle for Moscow as revealed in dispatches from Russia and Germany.

GERMAN BIG GUNS AND TANKS PRESS DRIVE ON MOSCOW

Destroy 14 Field Forts in Fierce Fighting.

BERLIN, Nov. 24 (AP).—German tank and artillery units were reported officially tonight only 31 miles northwest of the coveted prize of Moscow after capturing Solnetschnogorski.

The high command said the capture of the city, which does not appear on most maps, came "after embittered fighting." War dispatches said 1,400 Russians defending 14 three-story-deep underground casemates [field forts] were wiped out by German artillery and shock troops.

Two-Thirds of Way to Moscow.

Solnetschnogorski apparently is on the Kalinin-Moscow railroad, hence the Germans claimed their troops had gone two-thirds of the way to Moscow from the bitter fighting area of Kalinin.

The German air force destroyed 15 trains and interrupted several important rail lines in the Moscow area, military sources said.

West of Moscow along the Russian arc of defenses, German dispatches said nine other casemates of unusual strength had been overcome.

Nazi artillery silenced the concrete and steel casemates, these accounts said, to permit engineers armed with dynamite to approach and complete the destruction.

Big Guns Pound Leningrad.

Other heavy artillery batteries continued to pound besieged Leningrad in the northwest, the communique said, and declared Red army "breakout attempts" there had collapsed again with the soviets losing eight tanks—"of which seven were superheavy."

Nothing was said of operations in the southern Donetz basin area, but in the Crimea the Germans admitted the Russians still were holding out at Sevastopol, the big southwestern Red naval base.

In aerial operations over the vast winter front, German dispatches said 11 Russian locomotives, 80 trucks and many artillery batteries were destroyed.

Claims Nazis Shoot 2,000 Hostages in 4 Serb Towns

LONDON, Nov. 24 (AP).—Momtchilo Nincitch, foreign minister of the Jugo-Slav government here, said today the Germans had shot 2,000 hostages in four Jugo-Slav towns alone. He did not identify further the scenes of the executions.

FINN-SOVIET WAR A GRIM, ICY GAME OF HIDE AND SEEK

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ON FINLAND'S EASTERN FRONT, Nov. 24.—Finland's war against soviet Russia is stretching into the winter and on many long sections of the east Karelian front the conflict is a deadly game of hide and seek. Small patrols of picked soldiers numbering from 20 to 200 operate in the forests and tundras 50 to 100 miles away from their nearest base. Occasionally there are miniature battles, with tales of heroism reported on both sides.

Both sides have learned bitter lessons from each other. The Finns have adopted the soviet tactics of laying land mines along the trails and around the camps of their foes. Many of the mines were among the booty captured from the Reds. The Russians have learned how to ski and now are provided with white snowsuits which makes troop movements almost invisible in the snow covered landscape.

Land mines have proved one of the most effective weapons employed in the present war. They also are the most devilish. They retain their destructive force indefinitely and are difficult to discern.

Civilians Suffer Casualties.

In their retreat from occupied Finnish territory, soviet forces planted thousands of mines. Most of them have been discovered and removed, but many casualties have befallen civilian inhabitants who returned to their homes in these districts.

The Red army has many types of land mines. Some are slightly larger than a layer cake and have 10 pounds of high explosives in a cast iron mold. Others are tin boxes a foot square and three inches thick. They have five pounds of explosives, enough to wreck a motor truck or wagon. The smallest land mine is about as large as a brick of ice cream. It has enough explosives to blow off the foot of the man who treads on it. There are a noticeable number of one-legged Finns going around with crutches. Most of them are land mine casualties.

On the long northern sector of the front which stretches along the western shore of the White sea, the land mine is especially dangerous. Dressing stations and field hospitals are far behind the shifting battle zone.

A Vast No Man's Land.

No Man's land covers many thousands of square miles. There Finland's famous ski troops operate. Some of their casualties include famous ski runners who won world championships for Finland in the last Olympic games.

Winter has improved communications with the rear in this area. Lumber tracks, almost impassable in summer, in winter become "ice roads" which easily support the heaviest military equipment. Big snowplows fitted on American trucks keep roads open for ambulances and supplies.

In the 1939-'40 winter war the Russians controlled the air over Finland. Today, the Finns control the air over east Karelia. Finnish planes help their patrols by dropping food and supplies and, where possible, transport wounded to the rear. The 16,000 lakes in east Karelia are frozen and make good landing fields.

CHICAGOAN IN BRITISH AIR FERRY SERVICE KILLED IN ENGLAND

Elmer E. Uhlich.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Uhlich, 338 Downing road, Riverside, were notified by cablegram yesterday of the death of their son, Elmer E. Uhlich, in a flying accident in England. He was a civilian instructor in the British air transport service.

The cablegram, signed by the commanding officer of the air transport auxiliary at White Waltham field, near London, extended sympathy to the flyer's family, and promised details about the accident by mail.

Uhlich was 27 years old and had been flying about eight years. He joined the air ferry service in Canada last July and was kept in England to help train other pilots. The Uhlichs have 11 other sons and 4 daughters. One of the sons, Lawrence, is a United Air Lines pilot.

BRITISH TEST BIG 4 MOTOR PLANES TO RAID SHIPPING

LONDON, Nov. 24 (AP).—Big four motor Stirling bombers attacked German shipping off the Dutch coast today, the air ministry announced, leading to belief that the RAF is experimenting with new tactics.

This was the first reported use of such big planes for daylight raids on shipping, and it was suggested that the plan might be to use them more and more because they are better able to defend themselves than lighter bombers. The Stirlings have a four-gun rear turret, a two-gun front turret, and other armament amidships. Success of the experiment was indicated by the announcement that no British planes were lost but that German fighter planes were driven off, one was destroyed and others were damaged.

Sunday night the RAF attacked the German-held French ports of Lorient, Brest and Dunkirk.

F. D. R.'S EX-AID SUES ARMS FIRM FOR $687,000 FEE

Charles West Makes Claim for Getting Contracts.

New York, Nov. 24 [Special].—Charles West, former personal lobbyist for President Roosevelt, had on file in federal court today a suit against the Empire Ordnance corporation in which he claims a fee of $687,000 for his services in obtaining war contracts for the firm which manufactures munitions for the government.

Charles West.

West, a former Ohio congressman, was a New Deal undersecretary of the interior for three years until he was ousted for frequent absences from his desk. He became the President's contact man on Capitol Hill while a member of the house and remained a close friend of Mr. Roosevelt after his ouster.

His suit was filed in the Supreme court here last July, but was transferred to the federal court in New York on Sept. 24. The ordnance firm is incorporated in Delaware and West is a resident of Ohio.

Works on Percentage Basis.

West alleged in the suit that he was employed by the Empire corporation as agent to get war contracts under an agreement which provided that he was to get 1 per cent of the gross sales of the company's products during the year following his contract made about Nov. 1, 1940.

He claimed the corporation accepted orders for 70 million dollars and that a total of $700,000 was due him for his services. He received about $13,000 from the date of the agreement to May, 1941, and now has due him $687,000, he asserted.

The Empire Ordnance corporation was set up since the start of the European war. It formerly was controled by the Empire Securities company in which Elisha Walker, a partner in the international banking house of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., acquired a substantial interest in the spring of 1940. Empire Securities owns 59 per cent of the common stock of Willys Overland company, which has received many government contracts.

Held "Court" for Congressmen.

In his heyday, West was one of the most powerful figures in the administration. As a personal lobbyist to the President he treated congress to some of the most amazing scenes ever staged in the capital legislative halls.

West was wont to hold court in the offices of the speaker where congressmen sought his favor for bills. His promises captured many a house vote for administrative measures, and his nod gave the Presidential seal of approval for bills. His frown was a terrible "no" from which there was seldom an appeal.

The post of undersecretary to Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, was his reward for this work. However, he lost his $10,000 a year job in 1938 after the administration began suffering house rebuffs and James Roosevelt, son of the President, joined the official family as White House secretary and took over White House liaison work. West was appointed on Feb. 16, 1940, to membership on the processing tax board of review at a salary of $7,500 a year, but left it the following September.

They were married Nov. 5 at Peru, in La Salle county.

BRIDGES' LAWYER ARGUES ON ORDER FOR DEPORTATION

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24 (AP).—Defense counsel challenged the government's evidence today in a hearing on a deportation warrant against Harry Bridges, west coast CIO leader, alleging that the testimony of only two of the witnesses concerning the alien's alleged communist affiliation was considered.

Richard Gladstein, representing Bridges in argument before the immigration board of appeals, said the government had not offered evidence of sufficient weight to justify a deportation order.

Toll in Seminole Wreck Is 2 Killed and 80 Injured

Corinth, Miss., Nov. 24 [Special].—The toll in the wreck of the Illinois Central railroad's fast passenger train, the Seminole, was placed today at two dead and more than 80 injured. Mrs. J. W. Garman, 59, of Sylacauga, Ala., died of injuries in a hospital today. The 11 car northbound train, loaded with persons returning from a Thanksgiving holiday, was derailed near here yesterday. Railroad officials attributed the accident to a defective rail. Twelve of the injured were from the Chicago metropolitan area.

FAIR, WARMER! THAT'S WEATHER OUTLOOK TODAY

Fair and warmer weather today, with a possible high temperature of 44 degrees, was predicted yesterday by the local weatherman. Tomorrow is expected to be fair, partly cloudy and warmer, with probable light rains. Yesterday's brisk weather proved ideal for ice skaters, and a number scooted merrily about in various parts of the city. The lowest readings in the state were Rockford, 6 above; Elgin, 8, and Springfield, 11. At Land O' Lakes, Wis., the mercury dropped to 2 above, and Sault Saint Marie, Mich., found itself blanketed with a four inch snow.

THERE'S just one "automatic" that is fully automatic—General Motors' Hydra-Matic,* the drive that Oldsmobile offers. Hydra-Matic is the only drive that does all of your gear-shifting for you, throughout, four forward speeds—the only drive that discards not only the clutch pedal, but the entire conventional clutch assembly—the only drive that goes "all out" to heighten driving efficiency. Because gear-shifts occur at the proper instant, Hydra-Matic quickens acceleration and reduces engine strain. Because four speeds forward permit slower engine speeds, Hydra-Matic saves 10 to 15 per cent on gas. Because there's no work for your left foot and nothing for your right hand to do but steer, Hydra-Matic conserves your energy and contributes to your safety. No other drive does so much to step up and smooth out performance—so much to save time and effort for the driver. Try Hydra-Matic driving now in the new all-quality Olds B-44—the 100 H. P. Six or the 110 H. P. Eight. You'll like it—automatically!

ARMY SEEKING TO OUST CRITIC AIR PLANT HEAD

Propose Vultee Take Control of Consolidated.

Protests on Ouster

New York, Nov. 24 (AP).—F. Leroy Hill announced today he had protested to the war department its recent seizure of Air Associates, Inc., of Bendix, N. J., and what he termed his exclusion from duties in the firm of which he was president. He said he protested as a stockholder and director and wrote: "I waive no rights or claims which I may have resulting from damage to my interest thru this arbitrary and unconstitutional action."

In a letter to Acting Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, Hill mentioned Vice President H. I. Crow, and charged the department forced their resignations "as a condition of the return of the company's property to its owners." Hill and Crow resigned last Wednesday.

Troops moved in on the plant, where sporadic labor strife interfered with defense production, on Oct. 30 under orders of President Roosevelt.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—The war department is seeking to effect a change in the management of the Consolidated Aircraft corporation in order to eliminate its president, Maj. Reuben H. Fleet, it was learned tonight.

Maj. R. H. Fleet.

Maj. Fleet, an outspoken critic of the administration's war policies, has stated publicly it will take the United States more than eight years to carry the war to Hitler and that it will require 10,000,000 men to win the war.

The authoritative American Aviation Daily will publish a story tomorrow stating in part: "The war department is attempting to effect a change in management of Consolidated Aircraft corporation and negotiations have been under way for several weeks whereby Vultee Aircraft, Inc., would acquire the common stock holdings of Maj. Reuben Fleet, Consolidated's president, and members of his family.

Stock Worth $10,000,000.

"The report, verified by an official government source, indicates approximately $10,000,000 would be paid by Vultee for the Fleet stock. Maj. Fleet himself owns 348,822 common shares or nearly 30 per cent of a total of 1,291,574 shares outstanding Sept. 15."

This report was confirmed by war department sources in response to inquiries by THE TRIBUNE. There was no official confirmation, however, of reports emanating from the industry that the administration wants to oust Maj. Fleet because of his unshackled tongue.

Has $750,000,000 Orders.

The Consolidated Aircraft corporation, located at San Diego, Cal., has a backlog of aircraft orders of more than $750,000,000, the largest in the industry. The company manufactures bombers for the United States, Great Britain, Canada, the Netherlands Indies, and Australia. It builds the famous four-engined B-24 long range bomber, which the British call the Liberator; the navy's two engined PBY long range patrol bomber, which the British call the Catalina, and the 4-engined PB2Y navy patrol bomber, which the British call the Coronado.

Maj. Fleet has accused the administration of bungling the preparedness program. In a speech at a luncheon in San Diego for Sidney Hillman, associate director of the Office of Production Management, on Oct. 15, he said the United States had undertaken the job of licking Hitler without being prepared for it.

"This nation does not possess the equipment to do the job, therefore it has to get the equipment," he said. "In my opinion five million men can't do it."

10,000 CIGARS! ALL FOR YANKS AT CHRISTMAS

Dealers Join Many Others in Helping Drive.

"Smokes for Yanks!"

They came in wholesale lots yesterday as the time for sending Christmas presents to the American boys on the Atlantic and in the American bases from Iceland to the Caribbean grew shorter.

Chicago cigar distributors came to Tribune Tower with their gift—10,000 fine cigars to cheer the soldiers and sailors.

Charles A. Rubey, president of P. J. Rubey Co., Inc., and Chicago representative of the Cigar institute, brought Harvesters; B. J. Andresky, office manager of the General Cigar company, White Owls, and Joseph Hirschburg and Phil Buchstein of the Admiration Cigar company, Admirations.

Help from Many Quarters.

Harold Spector, president, and Raymond Spector, treasurer, of Spector Brothers, Inc., brought San Altos; S. W. Schwartz, branch manager of the G. H. P. Cigar company, El Productos; Leonard Lenit, sales manager of Joseph Lenit & Brothers, Don Carlitos; Harry Clew, branch manager, Bayuk Cigars, Inc., Phillies, and J. J. Harris, sales manager, Congress Cigar company, La Palinas.

Help in the movement to send cigars, cigarets, and tobacco came from many quarters during the day. The North Muskegon News of North Muskegon, Mich., joined the newspapers that are coöperating with Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., in the "Smokes for Yanks!" work from coast to coast.

Raymond A. Mueller of 1604 South 72d street, Milwaukee, Wis., volunteered to collect "Smokes for Yanks!" in his community. Mrs. H. W. Helmen of 1428 East Washington street, South Bend, Ind., wrote that she would enlist South Bend women in the campaign.

Cigarets, cigars, and tobacco meanwhile dropped into the hundreds of collection boxes in the Chicago metropolitan area.

Admission to Walkathon.

Phil Murphy, master of ceremonies at the Walkathon in the Coliseum, announced that Thursday night will be "Smokes for Yanks!" night. Women will be admitted that night for a package of cigarets and the amusement tax. The cigarets will be given to "Smokes for Yanks!"

Stores and offices in which "Smokes for Yanks!" boxes are nearly filled are asked to telephone the "Smokes for Yanks!" department of THE TRIBUNE, Superior 0100. Tribune circulation truck drivers, who carry identification cards, will call for the boxes.

Cigars may be purchased in packets of five for 25 cents, 25 for $1.10, or 50 for $2.20. A gift of cigars, cigarets, or tobacco will make some faraway boy happy at Christmas time.

Checks should be sent to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., Tribune Tower, Chicago. Gifts of cash or tobacco may be brought to the Tribune Public Service bureaus in Tribune Tower or in the loop at 1 South Dearborn street.

STREET CAR SLICED, SET FIRE BY TRUCK; 1 KILLED, 8 INJURED

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 24 (AP).—One passenger was killed and eight other persons were injured today as a big gasoline truck, with tank trailer attached, crashed completely thru a street car, setting it ablaze.

Neche De Matel, 45, meat cutter, was killed. The injured included the truck driver, Herbert Trowbridge, 35, and Bert Aslin, 30, and H. Longirl, 30, conductor and motorman, respectively, of the street car, which had 28 persons aboard.

TOLD OF FAULTS, TROOPS TO BEGIN NEW MANEUVERS

CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Monroe, N. C., Nov. 24.—Lieut. Gen. Lesley J. McNair expressed satisfaction today with essentials in last week's "battle of the Carolinas," in which 300,000 soldiers participated. Gen. McNair, chief of staff of army general headquarters, held a critique of the maneuvers here pointing out faults to be corrected.

He stressed the success of anti-tank units, pointing out in a review of the action that umpires ruled lost a total of 983 tanks. This was 118 more than were in the two divisions with the 4th army corps, the Red forces, but tanks ruled out of action by umpires' decisions reëntered the war next day.

The troops have moved into new concentrations areas for the start tomorrow morning of the second phase of the last of the army's 1941 field exercises. The opposing forces will be comprised of the same units that "battled" each other last week.

FIX TOTAL BOND OF $200,000 FOR A PAIR OF ROBBERS

Heavy bonds designed to keep them in jail pending trial were set yesterday by Judge Leon Edelman for James Rini, 23 years old, and Robert Angelo, also 23, alleged bandits and burglars. Both were held to the grand jury.

Bonds of $110,000 were fixed for Rini on 10 charges of robbery and one of assault to kill and of $90,000 for Angelo on nine charges of robbery. The total amount of $200,000 was one of the highest in recent years.

Police say the two defendants have admitted committing several hundred holdups and burglaries.

FORCED TO RAISE SLUSH FUND, SAY 9 STATE WORKERS

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 24 (AP).—The U. S. civil service commission's trial of 80 state highway division employés on charges of violating the Hatch act was recessed today until Jan. 7 after nine highway engineers testified that they were instructed by superiors to distribute pledge cards to state employés for contributions to the Democratic campaign fund in 1940.

Lawrence V. Meloyo, government prosecutor, said that the two day hearing had nearly completed his case against the J. L. Todd, Springfield district maintenance engineer, who was the first of the highway division employés to go on trial.

Todd produced figures today to show that he collected $2,543.14 in campaign funds from state employés in his district prior to the Nov. 5, 1940, election campaign.

Subordinates Testify.

Eight subordinate engineers, seven of whom are also accused of Hatch act violations, took the stand before Examiner James W. Irwin and related that they had followed Todd's instructions in distributing the pledge cards and collecting contributions which, they said, were sent by Todd to the Democratic state central committee.

Todd said pledge cards and mimeographed forms for keeping records of employés' donations were given to him and other district maintenance engineers at a meeting in August, 1940, in the office of Charles P. Casey, then director of public works and buildings.

Casey was not present at that meeting, Todd said. Instructions to distribute the pledge cards were given by Warren Brockhouse, Casey's assistant, Todd added.

Claims Fleming Attended.

Another high department official listed by Todd as present at the meeting was M. J. Fleming, now acting chief highway engineer, and one of those accused of Hatch act violations.

Other witnesses testified that in addition to the 2 per cent donation sought for the Democratic state central committee, the Sangamon county [Springfield] Democratic committee solicited the highway division employés for a 14 per cent contribution.

The federal civil service commission is investigating Hatch act violations instead of the justice department, because the offense is ranked as civil rather than criminal. The penalty for conviction is loss of office. The examiner is the sole judge. Where department heads are convicted the examiner may recommend that federal aid to the department be stopped. What action a state's attorney desires to take is up to him.

Police last night closed 114 taverns thruout the city for failure to renew their city liquor licenses on Nov. 1. Four of those closed were in the loop and 63 were on the south and west sides. City Collector Louis Rixmann stated that 8,430 licenses had been issued for the six month period beginning Nov. 1, as compared with a total of 8,664 for the last six months.

FORCE NEW DEAL TO RECALL TRICK WATERWAY PACT

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—Senate administration leaders were forced to send a Niagara Falls water diversion treaty with Canada back to the foreign relations committee today when a strong coalition of Republicans and Democrats objected that it contained language cunningly calculated to imply senate approval of the St. Lawrence seaway and water power scheme.

The senate's action indicated formidable opposition to the pending St. Lawrence waterway agreement with Canada, which President Roosevelt submitted to congress in legislative form, requiring only a majority vote of each house, when it appeared that the senate would not approve a treaty by the necessary two-thirds majority.

Treaty Twice Rejected.

The St. Lawrence project, twice rejected in treaty form by the senate, now is pending in the house as a $277,000,000 item in a billion dollar omnibus rivers and harbors pork barrel measure.

Sen. Tom Connally [D., Tex.], chairman of the foreign relations committee, moved that the Niagara Falls water diversion treaty be recommitted today when it became evident that a two-thirds vote for its approval could not be mustered. His motion carried with a record vote.

The Niagara Falls treaty, in the form of an exchange of notes, would authorize an additional diversion of 7,500 cubic feet per second by the United States and 6,000 cubic feet per second by Canada from the Niagara river above the falls "for the duration of the emergency and in all events subject to reconsideration by both governments on Oct. 1, 1942." A similar increase of 5,000 C. F. S. for the United States and 3,000 C. F. S. for Canada was authorized by treaty last May 20.

Questioned by Adams.

Sen. Alva B. Adams [D., Colo.] was the first to question the Niagara proposal and Sen. Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.] was the first to propose that the treaty go back to the foreign relations committee for further consideration.

Sen. Warren R. Austin [R., Vt.], a supporter of the administration's war policies, said correspondence between the state department and Canada treated "what we regard as a treaty as a mere piece of legislation."

"The language assumes that the St. Lawrence agreement will become law," Austin said. "There is no 'if' in this correspondence. The correspondent does not allow the thought to be expressed that there is a possibility that action by the senate in conformity to the constitution may result in a failure of that agreement."

The attending physician announced that both mother and child are "doing nicely." Miss Wrixon plans soon to continue with her career on the screen.

CAPITAL LAWYER SLAIN IN MYSTERY AT VIRGINIA HOME

Leesburg, Va., Nov. 24 (AP).—The body of Ward Loveless, 51 years old, Washington, D. C., attorney, was found early today stuffed into a small closet in his country home at Peonian Springs near here. The disordered contents of the house gave evidence of a terrific struggle.

Ward Loveless.

Loveless had been shot at least three times and there were cuts about the face and head.

A heavy buffet table had been placed against the closet door, which was only partly shut, with the victim's feet sticking out. The discovery was made by a Negro servant at 8 a. m.

Dined in Washington.

Authorities said Claude Honicon, who lives on a nearby estate and was Loveless' partner in real estate operations, reported he last saw Loveless about noon Sunday.

Loudoun county officers, working with Washington metropolitan police, moved to Washington tonight to question persons there. It was reported in the capital that Loveless had dined with friends at a club there last night.

An assumption that he might have returned to his Virginia home and surprised an intruder who killed and robbed him, gained support here from the fact that he was still in his overcoat when found. Officers were unable to find his wallet.

Mrs. Loveless went to Elkmont, Ala., a week ago to visit Miss Lucy Loveless, a relative of her husband, and so far as could be learned Loveless had planned to spend last night alone after his trip to Washington.

Automobile Is Missing.

A coupe belonging to Loveless was missing. Inside the house various objects were found in wild disorder. Silver vases, silver goblets, and candlesticks were strewn about the floor, some bent and dented. A watch was found lying on the dining room table. Blood was splattered about three rooms. Telephone wires to the house had been cut.

Loveless, a native of Iuka, Miss.

FALL FATAL TO WOMAN, 85.

LITTLE BUSINESS' MISSION: TO DIE.

The Providence Journal of Nov. 18 published an account of a meeting of Rhode Island business men which was addressed by Edward V. Hickey, manager of the Boston branch of OPM. Mr. Hickey urged small business men to seek out items in the government's war needs which their plants could be converted to produce.

One of his listeners asked him, "What about the fellow who cannot convert his plant to war use?" Mr. Hickey replied: "Let him die. Get him out of the way. For in the world to come there is room only for battlers. There is no doubt at all that thousands of businesses are going to liquidate."

Another question was about the part the jobber can play in the war picture. Hickey, according to the Journal account, asked his questioner if he was a jobber. Upon receiving a reply in the affirmative, the OPM official "picked up a bunch of flowers from a vase in front of him, held them toward some one and said, shaking his head sadly, 'Give them to him.'"

Hickey is one of that group of government upstarts who assume that America has already become a dictatorship. These fellows have been saying right along that a third of the American industry would be obliged to shut down. One of the burocrats phrased it as follows early last summer: "It is one of the profound ironies of our defense effort that its total effect may well be to obliterate the smaller enterprise from the American business scene."

The obliteration of the small business man, which was referred to in communist and Fascist countries as "the liquidation of the middle class," is not called for by defense needs. William S. Knudsen, who was called from industry to take charge of defense production and knows more about defense production than any one else, protested against the needless shutting down of small business several months ago. In a speech at New York he made this statement: "We have two schools of thought; one school says 'shut down'—if you are shut down you'll find something to open up with. The other school says let down gradually while you are building up defense and we will have less displacement of men and facilities. I happen to belong to the other school, as I see no particular object in having idle men and machines."

Only last week, a committee headed by Sen. Harry S. Truman [D., Mo.] reported to the senate that as little as 2 per cent of the strategic materials would save the 130,000 small manufacturers who are being crushed by priorities. And the same day a committee headed by Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.] reported to the senate that there were no shortages of materials, with the exception of tin and nickel.

The shortages almost without exception are fakes. The government is filled with Hickeys who falsely assert that the shortages are real, and that only concerns which can handle defense orders, which means for the most part big business, should be permitted to live. It is high time that congress handed the bunch of flowers to the highbinders who are destroying little business just for the fun of it.

CONSPIRACY TO DEFAME.

The trial of the Aluminum Company of America and its officers on charges of violating the anti-trust laws ended recently in an acquittal. It was one of the longest trials on record and one of the most expensive to the taxpayers and to the defendant.

Another anti-trust case, this one directed against the United States Gypsum company, has also ended in an acquittal. Judge Thomas A. Goldsborough a few days ago found for the company without even hearing any of the defense witnesses. The government had spent more than a month in presenting testimony intended to disclose a conspiracy to fix prices. The judge held that the government had failed to make a case.

About the same time the United States Court of Claims received a report from its examiner to the effect that the charge of fraud and collusion, which was the excuse for canceling the air mail contracts seven years ago, could not be substantiated. A dozen army flyers lost their lives because the administration trumped up a false charge against the air lines.

Under Mr. Roosevelt, the department of justice has brought charges of collusion, fraud, and conspiracy on the flimsiest of pretexts, as these recent decisions show. The chosen victims have been business men whose chief offense, it appears, was the fact that they had been successful. Among those who were put to the trouble and expense of defending themselves may be mentioned Mr. William S. Knudsen. If the government had succeeded in sending him to jail in the automobile finance case, he would not now be in a position to serve the government at a dollar a year.

Mr. Roosevelt's prosecutors charge conspiracy but are themselves engaged in a conspiracy to embarrass and defame American business. The recent record of acquittals established the fact that the administration is not so much prosecuting as persecuting. The indictments are given the widest publicity and it is only many months or years later that the acquittals are registered. Meanwhile business men whose attention ought to be concentrated upon the armament effort are obliged to concern themselves with preventing the government from putting them in jail.

CAN HITLER BE BOMBED INTO DEFEAT?

An Associated Press dispatch from London, published in THE TRIBUNE on Monday, suggested that the British may have given up the plan to subject Germany to heavy bombing this winter. A few months ago there was a good deal of talk in London and Washington about destroying German industry, communications, and morale by this means but, the correspondent notes, little has been heard of the plan lately and the bombing recently has been rather desultory. The loss of 37 bombers on Nov. 7 is believed to have weighed heavily in the decision.

If large scale aerial bombardment of Germany has been abandoned, the fact is of great significance for us, for it nails another lie which has been dished out to the American people. They were told that command of the air was all that was needed to overthrow Germany. Our doughboys would not be needed.

Today and for many months now, the Germans have massed their aviation on the Russian front. England has command of the air in the west and if any considerable quantity of Germany's aviation reserve is moving toward Libya, the British preponderance in the west should be greater now than ever. Still the cost of bombarding Germany from the air appears to be greater than the results warrant. The conclusion is that this war cannot be won with airplanes alone. Mastery of the air, while of undoubted military value, is not enough to win the war.

Another conclusion is inescapable: If England at a distance of only a few hundred miles, cannot successfully bomb Germany, what chance has Germany or any other power to bomb America successfully? Obviously none. The threat was invented for the purpose of frightening our people into a declaration of war. We now know that the peril was imaginary.

All that has happened in this war has been reassuring insofar as America's safety is concerned. Nobody talks nowadays about the Germans coming over here to conquer us. They haven't been able to cross even the twenty miles of open water which separate them from Britain, and if they can't do that, they surely can't cross 3,000 miles. The Germans have sought to blockade Britain with submarines, air patrols, and occasional surface raiders, but Britain is so far from being starved that it is able to compete with us in South American markets.

The campaign of the war mongers has been a campaign of lies. Fortunately for us, the events of the war have quickly dispelled the falsehoods.

MIDDLE WESTERN OPINION.

The recent exchange of cables between the editors of this newspaper and of the London Sketch, published last week, brought to THE TRIBUNE the largest mail it has ever received on an editorial subject. Because of the interest shown in the two statements, they have been republished as a pamphlet which may be obtained at The Tribune Public Service offices.

More than 97 out of 100 of our readers' letters favored THE TRIBUNE'S stand. While the size of the mail was unexpected, the opinions expressed were not. This middle western newspaper, manned by a staff coming largely from the middle western states and living in and all around Chicago, could no more go wrong on middle western opinion than could Lord Kemsley's Sketch go wrong on London opinion. There is probably no larger percentage of London-minded middle westerners than of American-minded Londoners, despite the fact that London hears no propaganda for the American point of view, while millions of dollars are being spent to propagate the British point of view in this part of the United States.

The middle west has been called the stronghold of isolationism. That term has degenerated to a label and in the hands of the war mongers the attempt has been made to make it an epithet. Whether the middle west is isolationist depends on what meaning is attached to the term. If, as some of the more strident hysterics in Washington and New York would have the people believe, isolationism means that those who follow it are blind to the fact that we live in dangerous times, the middle west is certainly not isolationist. Its people appreciate the necessity for a strong national defense as thoroly as do people in any other part of the country. They are putting forth something more than the average effort thruout the country to achieve that defense, both in industrial production and in the enrollment of their sons in the armed forces.

But if isolationism means that the middle west has refused to be panicked by palpably false stories that the United States is in danger of invasion or that its form of government can be overthrown from without, or that we as a nation are so weak that we cannot, if need be, stand alone, then perhaps the middle west is isolationist. It does not subscribe to the theory that the British fleet is the first line of defense for America, nor does it hold that the American way of life can be preserved by destroying all of its essentials at home in order to embark on insane crusades to the limits of the other four continents.

NOT SO FUNNY NOW.

While the memory of the first American soldier to die in the World war was being honored, it was being reported that recent naval casualties would create a demand for special bonuses and death benefits in the new undeclared war. A few years ago a group of college students asked for their bonuses in advance as the Veterans of Future Wars. It was regarded as a funny idea at the time. It is funny no longer. The youngsters guessed the intentions of their government correctly when they said it was going to call for their blood.

CHILDREN AND CULTURE.
[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

Evil lies not in comic magazines, but in a type of pseudo censorship which crops out from time to time. The latest is the plaint that 15,000,000 comic books distributed each month make up three-quarters of the reading matter of children between the ages of 9 and 14.

This lament is the outgrowth of an educational approach fast becoming extinct. It might well be termed the "spinach" approach, for, in effect, it tells children, "These other books are not nearly so exciting as the comics, but they are much better for you."

Many older readers will recall how Shakespeare was presented as something hard to take, but most vitalizing once it was down. Teachers on the blackboard diagramed the development of the plot with climaxes of various magnitudes carefully measured. Buried was the salient fact that the play had survived the rigors of time because it was exciting and spiced with genuine everyday humor. Happily, schools have made great strides in recent years.

We would feel more concerned about the human race if boys and girls lacked the imagination and adventurous spirit which create taste for comics. The evil lies primarily in censorship, for it adorns them with that added glamor for forbidden fruit.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

THE BOX-OFFICE PHILOSOPHER.

One of the unimportant things over which we puzzle now and then is why a football game in a small city, such as Ann Arbor, Mich., draws an attendance of 85,000, while a game of equal rank in a sports-minded metropolitan area, say Northwestern vs. Illinois in Evanston, draws 40,000 or less. Some box-office philosopher ought to give this matter his attention.

* * *

The explanation, we believe, runs deeper than relative seating capacity and alumni membership. It is, perhaps, a question of state-mindedness vs. city-mindedness.

* * *

A privately endowed university, like Northwestern, is not likely to recruit a great body of synthetic alumni. A state university, on the other hand, will find numerous loyal followers, brimming with ersatz enthusiasm, among the farm hands, gas vendors, plumbers' apprentices, and justices of the peace within the boundaries of the commonwealth. They will hop into their cars and travel hundreds of miles every Saturday, undergoing severe hardships for the anticipated pleasure of seeing the gallant lads of Dear Old State trim the lugs from T'Other State.

* * *

In addition, a seat of learning in a great city will encounter currents of cantankerous opposition, for no cause within the bounds of sanity, among its adjacent millions. For example, in 1924 the University of Chicago had a championship team, but its football stands held large hordes of townies who howled like wolves for its defeat. . . . We present the case as a pretty little problem for any one who likes to take the American mass-mind apart and discover what makes it tick.

* * *

Mr. Zuppke of Illinois ended his career, not only without oratory as he wished, but also without music. His last game saw no bands in picturesque and melodious parade between the halves. This can be charged up to the Roosevelt Thanksgiving, which took the horn-blowers out of their collegiate groove and home for turkey over the long week-end.

A MAN WANTED.

He never drinks, he never smokes,
He doesn't laugh at his own jokes,
And modestly he vows it's so
That there are things he doesn't know;
And when he sleeps he never snores,
Nor falsifies his golfing scores.
He knows that yesterday is gone,
That his tomorrow may not dawn,
And so he travels on his way
Resolved to live his life today.
He thinks for some men there's no hope,
Yet he is not a misanthrope;
When Nature's formed a certain man,
He doesn't try to change Her plan;
Belonging to an ancient school,
He still respects the Golden Rule.
He knows that birds, and bees, and flow'rs,
And sunshine, rivers, lakes and bow'rs,
And moonbeams, mountains, meadows, brooks,
And music, friends, and worth-while books
Will help relieve the strain and stress
And point the way to happiness.
And so, dear Lord, whene'er you can,
Will you please create such a man?

A Miracle in the Desert.

Railroad telegraph operators must report the exact minute when all trains pass their stations. The usual phrase in the west is, "O. S. train so and so by at such and such a minute." Don't ask me why "O. S."—maybe some old brass-pounder can say.

In a tiny station on the high plateaus of northern New Mexico a sleepy operator glanced out his east window one night, saw a brilliant light, and reached for the phone. "D. S. Grants," he called. D. S. [dispatcher] came in and said, "Go ahead, Grants." The operator then reported, "O. S. No. 3835 extra west by at 11:55 p. m." The dispatcher came back at him: "Son, one of us is screwy. Extra 3835 west left Thoreau 5 minutes ago—that would make him run at 360 miles per hour and a 3800 can't go that fast. Take another look quick."

The brass-pounder leaned forward, took another good look, and sheepishly said, "Pardon me, D. S., that was the moon comin' up."

A Slight Case of Eccentricity.

The other day a student at one of the more uppity North Shore prep schools was loudly declaiming about the numerous, nay infinite, disadvantages of the place. After this had gone on for some minutes I inquired, somewhat diffidently, if there were not possibly some who liked the place. He glanced askance at me for a second and then said very seriously:

"Sure, there are some who like it, but they are there to get educated!"

Why It's Called the "Sag."

The Calumet-Sag district takes its name from the Calumet river and the Sag swamp, its two principal land features. Calumet is a mutilated form of Kenominick or something similar, the Indian name for the river. "Sag" is the shortened form of "Awsoganoshke," the Indian name for the swamp. TOO TIRED TO SLEEP.

WE are all familiar with fatigue, but there is a vast difference between a comfortable sense of weariness and a type of exhaustion which leads inevitably to nervousness, restlessness, and insomnia. To keep going on one's nerves may be possible for a time, but, sooner than later, physical collapse will come.

Most of us like to fag out moderately and healthfully. In such a situation the toxins generated within muscles by work are disposed of easily. Not so when the accumulation is too great. Then it is that the waste products of excessive labor may so disturb the brain that sleep will become impossible.

How do we know when we have overdone; when we have run the human machine too fast or too far? Sometimes the body will actually display warning signs. Twitching may be experienced about the eyes; there may be unsteadiness on the feet; the hands may tremble; the heart skip a beat now and then, or twinges may be felt within the muscles.

When excitement maintains interest at an elevated pitch and these minor signals are ignored, emotional factors may come to the fore. Then it is that the most placid disposition may go out of control completely, with a display of jitters quite foreign to the individual.

Parents recognize this picture in their children. They know instantly when their little ones are approaching the limit of endurance. Voices become more shrill and tempers crack. Many of our behavior problems in youngsters develop from episodes of this character—oft repeated. Again, lovers' quarrels may arise subsequent to an evening of entertainment which is quite too strenuous for nervous systems to withstand.

Strangely enough, animals appear to have more sense than human beings when it comes to rest. Some of us have never acquired the ability to relax—not even for a few minutes. The body is active constantly and the mind is whirling with thoughts. I have long advocated a brief interval of 30 minutes lying down for all men and women past 50 years of age. If possible, this should be observed after lunch. If not, a period following the evening meal will be helpful. A few short 10 minute stretches with the eyes closed and the world shut out will save many a break.

Sleeplessness is not a disease in itself. It is the result of some physical upset—possibly within the digestive tract, involving the solution of food. Many chemicals produced from our edibles may not go on to complete assimilation. For a while, at least, they may prove stimulating to the higher brain centers and induce wakefulness.

A simple remedy is to change the order of the day, with particular reference to meals. Without decreasing the total consumption in 24 hours, breakfast and lunch may be relatively heavy. The evening meal, however, may consist merely of a glass of milk, a toasted sandwich, and a baked apple. Several of my friends have adhered to this plan with marked relief. It is suggested when no adequate explanation of the condition can be found.

A glass of carbonated water at bedtime has the effect of filling the stomach and bringing about a mild stimulation of the mucous lining. Seemingly, it aids in emptying the pouch. Such a program may have an important influence upon dreams. One who is bothered routinely will find that under this regimen he can enjoy four or five hours of undisturbed slumber.

OVERGROWTH OF BONES.

O. I. writes: What is acromegaly?

REPLY.

A portion of the pituitary gland helps to regulate growth. Overactivity on the part of certain of its cells may result in giantism. Another manifestation is acromegaly—wherein the bones, muscles, etc., of the hands and feet are enlarged.

IN THE SOLDIERS' LEISURE.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Last Friday members of Chicago draft boards spent a day at Fort Sheridan and saw the operation of an "induction center." We were favorably impressed with the housing of the soldiers, the excellence and fit of their uniforms, and the amount and quality of the food.

It is when the soldier begins his leisure period that improvements should be made. I comment:

Billions have been appropriated for armaments. Surely, out of these staggering amounts the government can provide each camp with recreation centers, athletic and football fields, and athletic equipment for all sports familiar to Americans. Our soldiers are entitled to have fun on their time off and as they are unable to buy equipment from their $21 a month salary, it is the duty of the war department to furnish it.

It is the government's duty to furnish the soldier with motion picture entertainment or "free movies." Our soldiers haven't any money left over for "movies." Failure to provide for this is cheap and miserly.

The soldier is entitled to free train and bus fares on his furlough to visit his family, or in any event, a transportation rate so low that it will cause him no financial burden.

Post canteens and exchanges should be operated on a nonprofit basis. At least the soldiers should operate their own exchanges with authority to dispose of the profits as they see fit.

When profiteering is discovered in any town near an army camp, the government should construct post exchanges and permit the soldiers to operate the exchanges. Any merchant who will overcharge a soldier does not deserve to be in business.

We have actual instances where discharged soldiers have reported to the draft board offices that their employers have refused to reinstate them in the position they once held. Congress should, at once, amend the act providing for rehiring of soldiers and make it mandatory for an employer to reinstate a discharged soldier to a position he held at the time he entered service or provide him with an equally good position. The present law is "weasel worded" and gives an unwilling employer a way out. A patriotic employer does not need compulsory legislation. The unpatriotic employer needs a legislative club to make him act decently.

HARRY A. ASH.

A NEW CONTINENT NEEDED.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—And now that we have not one but several good 5 cent cigars, it seems that what the world needs more than anything else today is a 20th century Columbus to discover a new continent whereto could migrate all—among the peoples of all nations—who are war and tax weary, and sick of political planning of political paradises.

STANLEY POLD.

MR. HOOVER'S APPEAL.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Tonight the greatest living American made what he said he hoped would be his greatest speech.

This man who toward the end of his occupancy of the White House was the object of a deliberate campaign of vilification by his successor, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and an accomplice, Charley Michelson, spoke with a passion not born of revenge. He spoke with an eloquence not acquired in a preparatory school nor developed over a tea table, but distilled from a deep desire to keep the country he loves from being led unwillingly into war.

Insofar as American participation was concerned, two figures dominated the scene of the first World war—Gen. Pershing, militarily, and Herbert Hoover, economically. What greater counsel can the American people want than that gathered from such a vast array of experience by our former President? If politics were eliminated, where else could we hope to find a man so preëminently qualified to advise us? Or are his selfless efforts in vain?

There is still time, if we will but use it, to keep our country from the poverty, heartache, and slavery of war.

ELBERT H. LONG.

TEACHERS' SALARIES HERE.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—I understand that the schoolteachers of Waukegan are to receive a bonus of $100 above their regular salaries on account of the increase in the cost of living, while Chicago teachers are operating on a 7½ per cent cut in salary on account of the depression.

Since the date of this cut in salary, the national income has been more than doubled, and so have the earnings of labor and farmer. I make a motion that the full salary be restored at once to our teachers, retroactive to Sept. 1. Who will second the motion?

FINDS COURTESY IN LIBRARY.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—I was surprised to read a letter in your Voice column today, signed Scribe, wherein the writer termed our public library employés curt, indifferent, and careless.

As a patron of the library for over forty years, I have never known of such conditions to prevail; in fact, I have always considered our library employés as efficient, courteous, and ever ready to aid library patrons. Of course I have no right to doubt "Scribe" in this particular case, but may I add that I have never been shown more consideration, either by a privately operated or public institution, than has been shown me by library employés.

I am in no way connected with the library, nor have I any relatives connected therewith.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. If an administrator does not turn over an heir's share of the estate [2] who do you go to to collect your amount? The administrator is the mother and keeps the money without the children giving her that right.

3. Can she make out a will and disown two of the children and [4] will their father's share away from them?

5. Does an heir have to collect his share in a certain time or can he collect at any time even if it be years? B. A.

1. We assume that you mean that nine months have elapsed and the estate is ready for distribution.

2. The first step is to ask the administrator. The next would be to ask the clerk of the court to bring pressure to bear on him to close the estate.

3. Yes. As to her own assets.

4. No. As to assets that they may have inherited from their father. We assume that the assets were not held in joint tenancy between the mother and father.

5. Depends on facts that are not before us. It would be preferable for you to act promptly.

Test Your Horse Sense

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE.

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 31.

1. Which one of these is known as the crescent city?
   New Orleans Detroit Los Angeles Miami
2. The brightest star in the sky is which one of these?
   Arcturus North Sirius Antares
3. Which movie actor is rarely photographed kissing any actress?
   Robert Taylor Bing Crosby Clark Gable Franchot Tone
4. William S. Knudsen, one of the two famous directors of the OPM, was born in Canada Denmark England Belgium
5. The other director of OPM, Sidney Hillman, was born in Russia Canada Scotland France
6. The Irish potato is an American product, but it had a difficult time being popularized, for people used to think it was poison. Others maintained that it would sterilize the soil so no other crops would ever grow. But it has now become one of the staple foods of mankind. One of America's famous newspaper publishers, Fred D. Jordan, has suggested this problem today of matching the indicated 1941 yields with the five states that produce the most potatoes.

[a] Pennsylvania [v] 45,360,000 bushels
[b] Maine [w] 28,560,000 bushels
[c] Idaho [x] 26,866,000 bushels
[d] New York [y] 23,674,000 bushels
[e] Michigan [z] 20,600,000 bushels

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

THE STORE OF THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

THIS YEAR, MAKE ALL THE OLD CHRISTMASES NEW AGAIN

Hang holly at every window, pine boughs over the pictures and laurel at the fireplace.

Go out and sing carols with your neighbors, come back to a roaring fire and string cranberries and popcorn for the tree. Invite a lonely friend to have Christmas dinner with the family—make it a beautiful day with a walk in the snow, parlor games, and the old stories when the tree is lit at twilight. Christmas Eve, only after the most grown-up child has reluctantly gone to bed, stuff the stockings, stack the tree with presents, put out the lights and tiptoe upstairs yourself.

Christmas morning—in that terrific moment when the family comes tearing into the living room—be glad you can give them the things they need, the silly little things they adore, the deep-down comforting joy of Christmas at Home.

This year, give with thanks, for the lights on the tree are the lights of the world—they must never go out.

DE CORREVONT TO APPEAR ON SPORTS REVIEW

Bill De Correvont, one of the most highly publicized football players of all time, will tell his own story of his intercollegiate football career on Bob Elson's Sports Review at 6:15 o'clock this evening. Bill will be interviewed by Elson on the wave of rumors which have attended his every move since he entered Northwestern in 1938 after leaving Austin High school in Chicago.

The weekly song concert, presented from W-G-N's main audience studio by the popular Northerners vocal and instrumental group, will be heard at 9:30 p. m. Conducted by Harry S. Walsh, the program features lovely Lois Wallner as soloist. Highlighting the broadcast will be two modern medleys— a "Caravan" selection and "The Girl Who Smiles"—which will be presented by the entire cast.

Beginning tonight, Hal Leonard, his magic trumpet, and his versatile orchestra—starting a new engagement at the Trianon ballroom—will be heard over W-G-N and Mutual as part of the famed Dance Parade.

At 22, She Is Admitted to Federal Bar Practice

Miss Belladonna Villines, 22 years old, a graduate of De Paul university law school, was admitted to practice before the federal bar by Judge Philip L. Sullivan in the United States District court yesterday. She was presented by her partner, Miss Antonia E. Rago. Miss Villines is one of the few women to be admitted to the federal bar in Chicago in recent years.

It's an Old American Custom

When motor cars looked like Grandpa's surrey, we thought they were wonderful. But compare them to the streamlined beauties we have today!

Remember when electric lights hung from the ceiling like balls of fire? A swell gadget then—but miles behind the marvelous lighting of 1941.

Making a good thing better is an old American custom! And it's an old custom of Kellogg's, world-famous makers of cereals. Over the last 25 years untold Americans have praised the goodness of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. But now a marvelous bran from one of the world's softest wheats gives ALL-BRAN new lightness, new crispness, new flavor!

Your grocer now has the improved "golden soft" ALL-BRAN. You'll find it just as effective and twice as delicious as any ALL-BRAN you've ever tasted. If you'd like to ward off constipation due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, eat ALL-BRAN every day, drink plenty of water, and "Join the Regulars"!

IT'S READY TO GO! ENTRIES ARRIVE FOR STOCK SHOW

Opens Saturday in 20 Acres of Amphitheater.

BY GAIL COMPTON.

The stage is set for the world's greatest show—the 42d annual International Live Stock exposition, which will open Saturday in the International amphitheater at 41st and Halsted streets. Stalls, pens, and booths fill the 20 acres covered by the amphitheater. The vanguard of the 12,546 blooded animals entered from 41 states and five Canadian provinces, already has arrived.

Cattle and sheep from Oklahoma A. and M. college are on the scene, as are the first of the calves belonging to 4-H club members. Then, today, a train of 115 cars is scheduled to bring 2,500 more cattle to the exposition from the region around Schleswig, Ia.

Each year the cattlemen in that area, renowned for the superb quality of its stock, combine their various shipments and send them into the exposition in one great train.

Other Competition.

But it is a mistake to consider the exposition only in terms of prize farm animals. The grain and hay competition likewise is on the grand scale. More than half of the 5,000 samples in this division are here already and more are pouring in daily. Yesterday a sample of winter wheat arrived by air mail from Corcoran, Cal. It was sent by Elmer C. Von Ghahn, who had to pay $15.95 postage.

There is a record entry list for the show, with Illinois topping all other states. One hundred seventeen stockmen from 60 Illinois counties have entries in the individual live stock classes. Their animals represent 25 different breeds.

With this total strength, Illinois stockmen are hoping to win the largest number of championships and blue ribbons, as they did last year. Then they collected 45 championships and 156 first prize awards.

From 17 States.

The junior live stock feeding contest again will attract the interest of thousands. The 4-H club youngsters will parade their fat cattle, sheep and swine in their own contest, and the winners will compete against the adult breeders for the honor of showing the grand champion.

A record entry has been listed for the junior feeding contest, with 691 beeves registered by 554 boys and girls from 17 states. This compares with 480 steers shown by 401 exhibitors from 11 states last year.

Adult breeders and stockmen have learned to keep a careful eye on the junior contest, as the last three grand champions have been shown by a boy or girl less than 18 years old.

Cash prizes totaling $100,000 will be awarded the winners. Officials expect that more than 500,000 visitors will attend the eight day exposition.

COLLECTOR ROBBED OF $100.

G. A. Hallgren Jr., 25 years old, 6926 Michigan avenue, was collecting rent for his father's real estate agency yesterday when a Negro placed a knife at his side, forced him into an alley at 4131 Prairie avenue, and took $100.

On W-G-N Show

Ethel Shutta joined the "Affairs of Tom, Dick, and Harry" last evening over W-G-N and the Mutual network and learned more about the "three bears" than had been told her as a little girl.

Bud [Tom] Vandover, Marlin [Dick] Hurt, and Gordon [Harry] Vandover, in the rôle of 1941's three bears, capitalized on "Ethel" for numerous gasoline gags, sang "The Bearded Lady" and "Little Guppies" with accompaniment from Bob Trendler and the W-G-N Dance orchestra and provided the audience-packed studio as well as listeners with a half hour of comedy and music.

Miss Shutta, currently presenting her famous talents at the Chez Paree, offered "Having a Lonely Time [Wish You Were Here]," then fooled the trio when she refused to believe their story of what terrible reputations they had attained as Romeos.

The regular Monday evening program is produced under the direction of William A. Bacher, with Ed Allen as announcer and Paul Larmer as writer.

HIT-RUN DRIVER HUNGRY; LEAVES A WOMAN DYING

Oak Park police last night arrested Clifford Germain, 36 years old, in his home at 700 South Oak Park avenue, Oak Park, after a car which shortly before had struck and killed Mrs. Angeline Guelfi, 58, of 1619 South 50th court, Cicero, had been traced to him.

Detectives Robert Chester and Wesley Matters said they found Germain at dinner, that he admitted having struck Mrs. Guelfi at Cicero and 16th street, Cicero, but added:

"I was hungry. Why shouldn't I come home to eat?"

Arthur Worthy, 57 years old, 1 West 112th place, died yesterday in the South End hospital of injuries suffered Saturday when he was struck by an automobile at 113th and State streets. The driver was George A. Detry, 54, of 6627 Drexel avenue.

John Schriba, 51, of 4802 Bernard street, was killed when his truck skidded and ran into a pole on Route 14, one mile north of Harvard, McHenry county.

George Otis Gray, 23, of 6339 8th avenue, Kenosha, died in Evanston hospital of injuries suffered earlier in the day when his car skidded and sidewiped two trucks on Skokie highway near Lake avenue in Wilmette.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 851 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 594 were killed in Chicago, where 23,607 were injured in the same period.

$652,000 BOOST ESTIMATED FOR CITY'S BUDGET

Provides for Increase in Election Costs.

City Controler Robert B. Upham estimated yesterday the city corporate [operating] budget for 1942 will be approximately $55,342,000 or $652,000 more than the 1941 figure.

Upham said his estimae is $4,147,000 below requests for 1942 appropriations made by city department heads. The major increase in his estimates is in the board of election commissioners.

Two Elections Next Year.

The election board, Upham said, asked for $964,000 more than the $742,793 appropriated for that board in 1941. The increase, he said, will care for the expense of the primary and general elections next year. Upham reduced the increase to $703,000.

"That means," the controler said, "that the actual city expenses will probably be lower than they were last year."

Upham said he has recommended a new expense of $126,000 in the building maintenance bureau for the operation of the service men's center at 184 West Washington street.

Police Increase Rejected.

Departmental requests included an increase of $945,000 for the police department and $1,057,000 for the fire department. Both departments asked for 300 additional men. Upham indicated those requests were denied in his estimates.

The controler explained that estimates are subject to adjustments and that his final figures will be available Thursday. These will be sent to the council finance committee which will use them as a basis for preparation of the 1942 budget.

COMMUNITY FUND CHIEFS INTENSIFY DRIVE FOR FUNDS

Group chairmen of the industrial division of the Community Fund drive met yesterday to plan a special effort to obtain $700,000 necessary to fill the campaign quota of $3,583,000. E. P. Brooks, division chairman, said that unless there is a spurt in subscriptions the campaign cannot be completed as planned early next month. He said that 5,000 business and industrial concerns which have failed to report subscriptions of employés have it within their grasp to make the drive a success.

JUSTICE OF PEACE IS FINED $25 FOR ERRATIC DRIVING

Justice of the Peace Gene S. Reget of 137th street and Monticello avenue, Bremen township, was fined a total of $25 last night by Police Magistrate Edward Brookfelt of Dolton on charges of disorderly conduct and driving from one side of the street to the other. Policeman Grover Cogswell, who arrested Reget in Dolton Nov. 16, testified that the justice of the peace was driving from side to side, became abusive when stopped, announced that he was a justice of the peace and didn't have to show his drivers' license, and threatened to "get" Cogswell's job. Reget said he would appeal the fines.

HOLD UP TAVERN; TAKE $425.

Two Negro gunmen held up Carl Brin in his tavern at 1410 Roosevelt road yesterday and robbed him of $425.

THESE 2 BANDITS DRINK, STEAL, AND THEN GIVE BACK!

Two holdup men, or a reasonable facsimile thereof, dropped into the Blackstone grill at 2612 West 63d street last night, downed three beers each, then produced two revolvers and a sawed off shotgun. After taking $30 from the till, $5 from James Joyce, the bartender, and a total of $16.55 from four customers, they ordered Joyce to carry out to their car two cases of beer, five quarts of whisky, and six fifths of wine. Returning, one placed his shotgun on a table and did a little jig, then went behind the bar and poured a drink for every one, including William Gervais, the owner. They then handed each customer $1, except the one from whom they had taken only 55 cents, and went happily into the night.

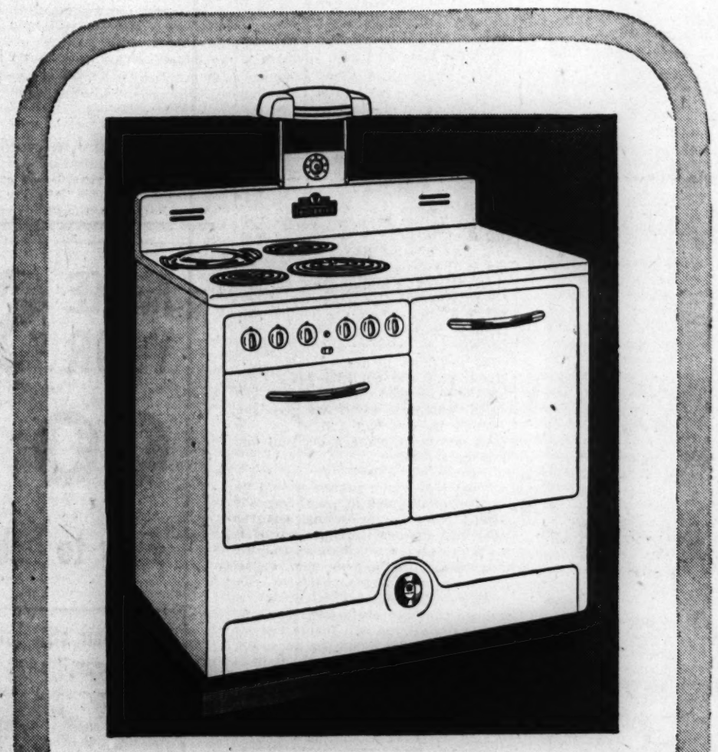
Vitamins are valuable . . . don't pour them down the drain!



Six more reasons why electric range cooking is better!

Clean—No soot or grime . . . pots and pans stay bright without scouring or scrubbing.

Fast—Cooks foods as fast as foods should be cooked.

Automatic—Set it . . . forget it. Cooks complete meals while you're away.

FRIGIDAIRE • GIBSON
HOTPOINT • WESTINGHOUSE

Free Installation—in any 1, 2 or 3-family entirely residential building in Chicago now using Edison Service.

Electric Cooking

helps keep vitamins in the food—saves minerals and rich natural juices, too. That's why foods taste better—are more nourishing

Why pay good money for nourishing food—and then lose the health-giving vitamins when you cook it?

Vegetables cooked with electric heat require little or no added water. Healthful vitamins and minerals are not "boiled out" and then poured down the drain.

BY MARTHA MURPHY.

Blustery winds and snowy streets seem to make opera evenings especially gala, for as at last night's performance of "Falstaff," true winter weather finds feminine opera-goers wrapped in their most luxurious furs. Even the tiny children who were permitted to stay up late last night to hear Shakespeare's rollicking tale of a fat knight, sung in English, tucked their fingers in fur muffs or mittens.

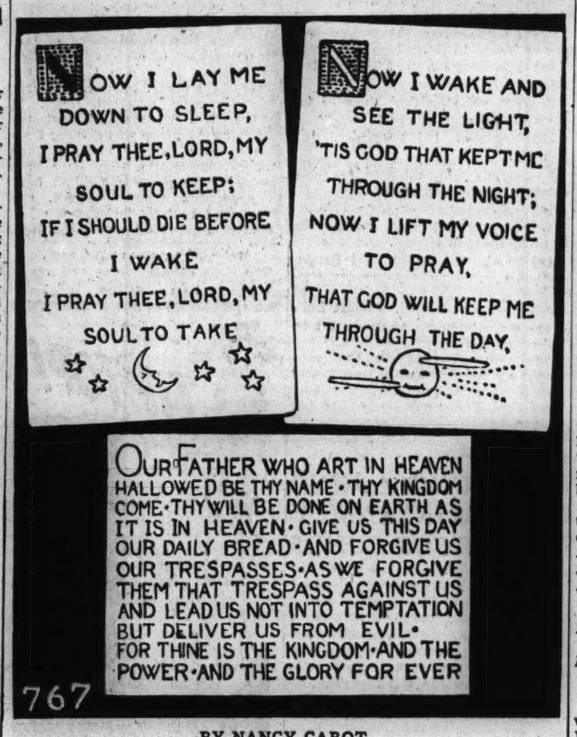
Mr. and Mrs. Barnett Faroll were among last night's early arrivals. Mrs. Faroll wore an ermine wrap and exquisite white chiffon gown trimmed with glittering silver braid.

A group of young people came in together from Miss Carol Fox's dinner party. Mrs. James G. McMillan, president of the Illinois Opera guild, had offered use of her box to the Opera guild junior who brought in the most new members for the junior group. Miss Fox and Miss Mary Jane Brummel tied for the honor and their guests included Miss Jeanne Kimball, Miss Theodora Bremner, Arthur Cummings, George Foster, William R. Harper, and Robert Bassett.

Mrs. Frederick Woodward was certain of keeping warm. Besides the black velvet wrap with face framing petal collar of blue velvet which she wore, she carried a silver fox jacket to slip over her shoulders during intermissions. Mrs. Otho S. Ball and Mrs. Eugene Howard were two others who wore warm furs. Mrs. Ball chose a chinchilla cape and Mrs. Howard, a white fox cape with matching hood edged in fox.

Mrs. John Alden Carpenter and Mrs. Jacob Baur, who came in together, also wore luxurious furs—Mrs. Carpenter mink with wine velvet and Mrs. Baur an ermine cape.

Three Prayer Samplers



NOW I LAY ME DOWN TO SLEEP, I PRAY THEE, LORD, MY SOUL TO KEEP; IF I SHOULD DIE BEFORE I WAKE I PRAY THEE, LORD, MY SOUL TO TAKE
NOW I WAKE AND SEE THE LIGHT, 'TIS GOD THAT KEPT ME THROUGH THE NIGHT; NOW I LIFT MY VOICE TO PRAY, THAT GOD WILL KEEP ME THROUGH THE DAY.
OUR FATHER WHO ART IN HEAVEN HALLOWED BE THY NAME · THY KINGDOM COME · THY WILL BE DONE ON EARTH AS IT IS IN HEAVEN · GIVE US THIS DAY OUR DAILY BREAD · AND FORGIVE US OUR TRESPASSES · AS WE FORGIVE THEM THAT TRESPASS AGAINST US AND LEAD US NOT INTO TEMPTATION BUT DELIVER US FROM EVIL · FOR THINE IS THE KINGDOM · AND THE POWER · AND THE GLORY FOR EVER

Mrs. 'Sol' Smith Writes Book of Juvenile Verse

Having lived a full life as member of a prominent Chicago family, wife of a bank president, mother of four, and grandmother of nine, Mrs. Fredrika Shumway Smith will start a new career Thursday when her first book of children's verse will appear in book stores.

Mrs. Smith, who lives at 1242 Lake Shore drive with her husband, Solomon A. Smith, president of the Northern Trust company, admits that she is an author purely by accident.

For her children, and later for her grandchildren, she wrote whimsical verses describing their reactions to the little incidents which loom large in youthful eyes. Friends clamored for copies. Finally she decided to have some of the verses printed privately. The publisher changed her mind about that. And the result will be "The House in the Tree."

How would you like to be a bird
And live up in the sky
And when you wished to take a trip
Just spread your wings and fly?

And then perhaps you'd go and find
What makes the sky so blue;
I think it would be wonderful
To live like that, don't you?

Another poem, in which "Granny" will not be hard to identify, follows:

We like to go to Granny's house
And make a lot of noise;
She lets us muss the rooms all up
And gives us lots of toys.

She lets us do all sorts of things
And does not seem to care
If we eat all her cookies up
Or use her rocking chair.

We love to go to Granny's house:
It's big and high and spacious;
And Granny never scolds at all—
She only says "Good gracious!"

On Sunday Mrs. Smith will depart for New York to be there for her first book's official "première" and to enjoy a brief literary "fling." Mr. Smith will accompany her. They'll stay until Dec. 5 or 6.

Mrs. Laura Hughes Lunde will talk on the Illinois legislature at a luncheon meeting of the Zonta Club of Chicago today at the Palmer House.

Front Views and Profiles

One On Every Corner.

Mrs. Edward T. Allen of London, who has taken a house in Evanston for the duration of the war, received a letter from her son, Dennis, who is with the Oxford [shire] and Buck [inghamshire] light infantry in England. "I met such a nice chap here from Chicago," her son wrote. "His family keeps a chemist shop or something there. Their name is Walgreen."

Metropolitan Mosaic.

The Chicagoan who observed, as he awoke after a night of intemperance, "I feel as tho the CIO were holding a convention in my head."

Bereft.

Among the seemingly irrelevant questions which applicants for relief have to answer in Chicago is, "What political connections have you?" To this an old Negro woman gave sad reply last week. "Mistuh," she said, "Ah ain't got a one. They all is dead or Republicans."

Sheer Elegance.

To this we feel compelled to add the remark of Hyacinth, Negro houseman at a University of Chicago fraternity house. "Ah don't go cabaraying no mo'," Hyacinth confided. "Ah has only high class parties at mah house. We listens only to opera when we plays our poker."

It Isn't Done.

A bookman tells the story of the English lord who paid Sangorski, the great English binder, 1,000 pounds some years ago for an especially bound book. A week later he brought it back, and complained gravely, "Your precious binding has cracked straight down the back." Sangorski tore the book from the lord's hands, examined it and turned on him in rage. "You've been reading this book!" he cried.

Parlor Game.

Shep Vogelgesang, Chicago architect, who has built himself a home around a Vermont cliff, paused briefly in town last week to tell of his new enterprise in Vermont: an herb farm. Aside from providing panaceas for a few of the ills of the world, it keeps his guests busy, for in front of each he sets a bowl piled high with calendulas, those brilliantly hued marigolds. The guests ignore the blossoms and, while they chat, strip off the leaves. It takes six guests all evening to accumulate a pound of the leaves which, when dried, are used in making a burn ointment.

Improbable Encounter No. 1234.

To the long list of events which, if they really happen, would enliven the study of history and maybe change its course, we now add one about Robert Todd Lincoln. A veteran Chicago newspaper man will go to his grave insisting this tale of the son of Abraham Lincoln is true, but if so, why didn't he write it 20 years or so ago when it happened?

Mr. Lincoln was an old man then, and on his way back to Washington after a brief social call at his law office here, the firm of Isham, Lincoln & Beall, that firm whose name lingers on altho all the principals are dead. He was on the observation platform of the Capitol Limited as it inched out of the station when a shambling, white haired man, as old as he, came spurting thru the gate lugging a suitcase.

"Here, old man, give me your suitcase," Lincoln called, and helped him clamber over the side. For a moment they chatted briefly, the newcomer volatile with gratitude. Then, extricating a card, he handed it to Lincoln, picked up his bag and hurried inside. Lincoln fingered the card idly and finally looked at it. It bore the name, "John Wilkes Booth Jr."

Vassar Club to Meet.

The North Shore Vassar club will meet at 2:30 o'clock today in the home of Mrs. Harold Bopp, 1232 Forest avenue, Evanston.

Fun Has Begun in Gift Courts and Toy Shops

BY REA SEEGER.

Ladies, gentlemen and small fry . . . the fun's begun! Gift courts are open, those exciting strongholds where Christmas merchandise has been accumulated in one large bazar area. By this clever arrangement all you see for yards around you are ideas for gifts and more gifts.

There are Christmas card collections ready for your quick or leisurely selection . . . some grand spots where chairs and lamps make selection comfortable, others where cards are pyramided so that you can see many at a single glance. The wrappings, string, stickers, seals, ribbons, cords and strings are also at hand, with official charts of foreign mailing deadlines thoughtfully hung about in strategic spots.

Toy sections are open, and nothing since the building of the tower of Babel can compare with the noise and racket to be heard in these well filled sections. In them, your best mannered offspring suddenly roars and yells with the best of the gas house gang, but you can park him there . . . take time out for a moment of silence or a spot of something to fortify yourself for further raids on other busy spots . . . and find him still yelling when you return.

And now is the time really to do some early shopping. Even tho you are one of the crowd that prefers to push, pant and punt with a lot of slightly punch drunk last minute shoppers, you do help the nice people behind the counters by getting your shopping done before the Christmas eve closing whistle.

Mate-Thief Gets Scolding from Adviser

It appears almost unnecessary to refer to a case in which a girl is in love with a married man whose wife refuses to grant a divorce. But it seems that girls need to be reminded time and again of the folly of such a situation. A good old-fashioned spanking might do a lot of good if it could be administered to one reader who writes that she is discouraged because she is 26 and not getting any younger.

She says she has been going with this man for two years. She also says that she doesn't like to brag, but she is the cause of breaking up his home. Of course she has told her girl friends about the romance. They laugh at her when she claims her lover is going to get a divorce without his wife knowing about it. He is good and kind to her, she says, and she is glad she got him away from his wife because she loves him so much. Whatever advice we give, she assures us she will follow for she feels she must make a decision one way or the other.

What this young woman should do is give up the man at once! She was wrong from the beginning, and the only way she can right her wrong is to stop seeing this man so that he may return to the wife who, apparently, loves him too much to give him up. The outsider might try to realize that the man, deep down in his heart, always will blame her for breaking up his home. In her heart she always will fear that thought. It just isn't in the "works" that one can get away with making others unhappy, as she hopes to make this wife unhappy.

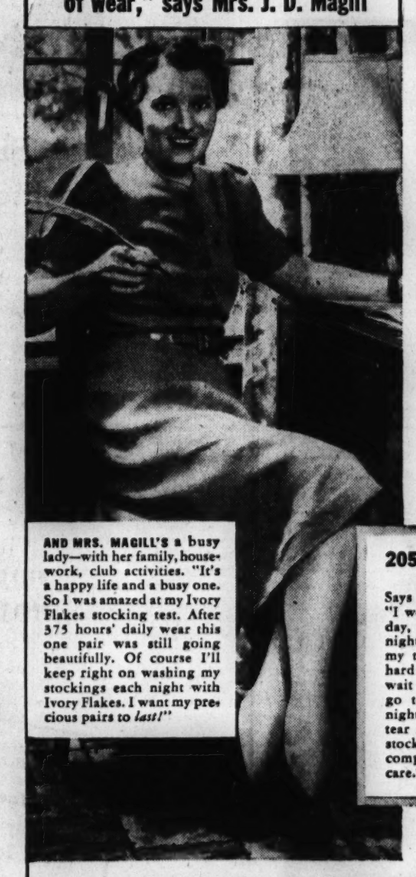
MAKE YOUR STOCKINGS GO FURTHER!

Easy to help precious stockings wear longer!

"One pair still good after 375 hours of wear," says Mrs. J. D. Magill



AND MRS. MAGILL'S a busy lady—with her family, housework, club activities. "It's a happy life and a busy one. So I was amazed at my Ivory Flakes stocking test. After 375 hours' daily wear this one pair was still going beautifully. Of course I'll keep right on washing my stockings each night with Ivory Flakes. I want my precious pairs to last!"

PRETTY SILK STOCKINGS are possessions to treasure these days. So longer stocking wear is even better news than ever!

GOOD NEWS for Mrs. Magill, Irina Andoga, Mildred Kelly, and hundreds of others who made Ivory Flakes famous "one-pair tests"—and got such remarkable wear. . . . Good news for you! Because they're happy to make their secret yours! . . . It's simply this: Be sure to wash your stockings with pure Ivory Flakes after every wearing! Don't give perspiration and soil a chance to harm delicate stocking threads and colors!

TONIGHT—start your stockings on this gentle Ivory Flakes care for longer wear. These new Double-Quick Ivory Flakes dissolve twice as fast—even in lukewarm water. Rich, silky-soft suds fluff right up fast! . . . Two minutes, and you're through. A nice clean pair of stockings hung up to dry! Get Ivory Flakes today. Save your stockings!

IRINA ANDOGA GETS 201½ HOURS' WEAR!

And through this test she played in summer theatres, danced, hiked, and went flying. "I really do appreciate finding out how to get the most wear I can out of my stockings. Now they'll always get their Ivory Flakes sudsing after every wearing—to help them last."

205 HOURS for MILDRED KELLY, Waitress

Says delighted Miss Kelly: "I wore this pair day after day, washing them every night with Ivory Flakes. And my test was exceptionally hard on the stockings. I wait on table, dance a lot, go to business school at night. A lot of wear-and-tear for one pair of pretty stockings. And a very big compliment to Ivory Flakes care."

Ivory Flakes helpful hints for longer wear!

1. Wash your stockings with pure Ivory Flakes promptly after every wearing. Get rid of perspiration and soil that weaken the fibers.
2. Use lukewarm Ivory Flakes suds. (Strong soaps and hot water can cause fading.)
3. Don't rub. Gently squeeze pure Ivory Flakes suds through your stockings.
4. Dry away from heat and strong sunlight . . . Let Ivory Flakes care help your stockings give longer wear. (A pure, gentle soap is kind to delicate hosiery threads and colors.)

Betty Mead Hartz Will Make Her Bow to Society Dec. 26

BY JUDITH CASS.

THERE'S a brand new debutante on the list today and a new party on the Christmas calendar. Mr. and Mrs. W. Homer Hartz of Lake Shore drive have decided to present their daughter, Miss Betty Mead Hartz, at a tea-dance on Friday, Dec. 26. Her party will be from 4 to 7 o'clock at the Woman's Athletic club.

Miss Hartz, who attended the Girls' Latin school, is studying this year at Mount Vernon seminary in Washington, D. C. She has one brother, William Homer Jr., who is stationed as an ensign in the navy at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. As a day after Christmas debutante, she will share the spotlight that day with Miss Shirley Hopkins, who will bow formally at a dinner dance in the Bal Tabarin of the Hotel Sherman.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Cox have a new son, Stephen Stanford, born on Sunday at the Passavant hospital. The baby's grandparents are Mrs. Rensselaer W. Cox and E. M. Nicholas of Columbus, O. Mr. Nicholas will come to Chicago for Christmas. The Coxes have two other sons, William Jr. and Nicholas.

Miss Harriet Bermingham Stays with Grandparents.

Miss Harriet Bermingham, daughter of the Edward J. Berminghams, is staying with her grandparents, Judge and Mrs. George A. Carpenter of Scott street, while Mr. and Mrs. Bermingham are at the Drake. The Berminghams recently came to Chicago after having spent the summer and autumn on their Wyoming ranch. Later they will go south to their plantation at Enon, Ala.

Mrs. Clow Laflin [Beatrice Clow] and Cedric Hagenbuckle of New York were married in Alexandria, Va., on Friday. Mr. Hagenbuckle and his bride will keep the New York apartment which the former Mrs. Laflin took when she moved east several months ago. The two Laflin children, Lynn and Mary Brewster, will come west with their mother and Mr. Hagenbuckle for a Christmas visit with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Clow Jr. of Lake Forest. Mr. Hagenbuckle is an instructor in the progressive Dalton school in New York.

Miss Helen Forsyth and Lieut. Frank D. Case Jr., whose engagement was announced Saturday, have decided to be married while he is still at home on leave from his naval aviation duties at Norfolk, Va. The ceremony will take place at 8 o'clock Friday night in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Forsyth of Evanston, and will be followed by a reception there. Since Lieut. Case does not know just how long a leave he will have, he and his bride will go directly to Norfolk. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Case of Chicago.

Miss Mary Jane Forsyth will be her sister's maid of honor and Mrs. Auwell Fogarty of Des Moines, Ia., will be matron of honor. Miss Betty Lindsay will be bridesmaid. The bridegroom's cousin, Lieut. Arthur A. Frank Jr., will be best man, and Edward H. Walworth and Mr. Fogarty will be ushers.

Longmeadow Hunt to Hold Landowners' Party Dec. 12.

The week-end after next will be a busy one for hunting circles. Friday, Dec. 12 is reserved by the Longmeadow hunt for its annual landowners' party, and the following night the Dunham Woods Riding club will hold its hunt ball.

As chairman of the landowners' party, Frank F. Fowle Jr., is making plans for a buffet supper, to which the landowners will be invited over whose grounds the Longmeadow rides on its regular Saturday and Tuesday afternoon hunts. Last year the party was held at the Illinois Golf club. Denison B. Hull and Ross J. Beatty Jr., joint masters of the Longmeadow will give the master's breakfast on Dec. 7 in the Hulls' home in Winnetka. The Longmeadow definitely has canceled its hunter trials for this year.

The Wayne-Du Page rides under Charles R. Lindsay III. as M. F. H. As such he is supervising plans for the hunt ball on the 13th.

Two Will Entertain at Tea Today for Their Mothers.

Mrs. Spencer R. Keare and Mrs. Bowen L. Schumacher of Highland Park will entertain at tea today in the former's home for Mrs. Schumacher's mother, Mrs. Albert Dyer Lowenthal, and for Mr. Keare's mother, Mrs. Charles R. Keare of Chester, Pa. The senior Mrs. Keare will be visiting her son and daughter-in-law thru the holidays.

Mrs. G. Corson Ellis is in charge of arrangements for a tea which the English-Speaking union will give at the Arts club this afternoon for Mrs. Christopher Freemantle, a member of the executive committee of the union in London. Mrs. Freemantle will speak on "Build a Better Britain." Mrs. Ellis has asked Mrs. Paul Magnuson, Mrs. J. Beach Clow, Mrs. Keith Carpenter, Miss Harriet McLaughlin, Mrs. Winston Elting, and Mrs. Harry Wilmerding to assist at the tea tables.

Alumnae of Smith College Usher at Benefit Tonight.

Some of Chicago's prettiest young Smith college alumnae will be ushering tonight at a benefit performance of "Hay Fever," sponsored by the Chicago Smith college club under the chairmanship of Mrs. Victor L. Lewis. On duty in the aisles of the Goodman theater will be Miss Margot Webbe, Miss Alice Graff, Miss Marjorie Hamilton, Miss Marjorie Shay, Miss Mary Lyon, Miss Jean Delaney, and Miss Emily Harmon. Mrs. Lawrence T. Herman will be in charge of the ushers, who also will serve coffee during the intermission. Miss Ann Goddard will decorate the tea table in yellow and white, the Smith colors, and Mrs. Herbert E. Bradley and Mrs. Grant Laing will pour. Proceeds from the benefit will help to send a Chicago girl to Smith college.

Program Vendors for Benefit Concert Next Monday Night

Miss Barbara Behrens and Miss Helen Sawler will be program vendors at a benefit concert to be given next Monday night in Orchestra hall under the sponsorship of the board of trustees of the Chicago Junior school. The St. Louis Symphony orchestra, conducted by Vladimir Golschmann, with Mischa Mischakoff, violinist, as soloist, will give the program. Mrs. William A. Osgood of Glencoe heads the committee on arrangements. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Unusual Song Cycle Given by English Tenor

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The Civic theater housed a première of unusual interest last night when the English tenor, Peter Pears, and the Illinois WPA Symphony orchestra gave a first Chicago performance of the song cycle, "Les Illuminations," by the English composer, Benjamin Britten. Mr. Britten conducted.

The song cycle is based on the feverishly mystical outpourings of Jean Arthur Rimbaud, the curious French poet whose creative life fell entirely between his 16th and 18th year and who during this short period saw and imagined and expressed the world with an almost epileptic intensity and perversity. His intuitions resemble Dostoevski's rather than those of anybody of his own western world.

The vocal part was ably handled by Mr. Pears, who had done it on the occasion of "Les Illuminations'" first American performance in the east last spring.

Mr. Britten introduced another work of his, the Sinfonia da Requiem. Seldom does one encounter a new piece so completely incomprehensible. The ear is baffled by its instrumental texture and passes nothing on to the mind. Either the composer himself has failed in the task of communicating to others by means of his music what he himself felt or the orchestra [still far from its mid-season form] put before us something considerably different from what the composer intended.

Before Mr. Britten's appearance Albert Goldberg, one of the orchestra's regular conductors, presented a first downtown performance of Beecham's transcription and arrangement of excerpts from Handel's "The Faithful Shepherd." The conductor handled his tempi and his instrumental intensities sensitively and achieved a persuasive performance. The concert closed with the Theme and Variations from Tschaikowsky's Suite for Orchestra, No. 3.

Events on the Stage

The engagement of "Tobacco Road" at the Paramount theater in Hammond, originally scheduled for three days beginning Thursday, has been abruptly canceled. Protests by the local Legion of Decency led Mayor Frank R. Martin to withdraw permission for the performances. A year ago "Tobacco Road" was allowed to play in Hammond without municipal objection.

The current revival of "Blossom Time" will continue at the Grand Opera house until Dec. 20. On Christmas night, the Shuberts' production of "The Student Prince" will take over the theater in the hope of snaring profitable holiday trade. The long awaited Rodgers and Hart musical, "Pal Joey," will come to the Grand on Jan. 12, with Vivienne Segal and George Tapps in the principal rôles.

Occidental President Is Honored by Alumni

Chicago alumni of Occidental college, Los Angeles, Cal., paid tribute to Dr. Remsen D. Bird last night in the Union League club on the occasion of the 20th anniversary of his presidency of the college. Dr. Bird, who is president of the Association of American Colleges, flew here from Washington, D. C., where he was a week-end guest at the White House. He had attended several academic meetings in the east. Classes from 1897 to 1940 were represented among the alumni.

Falstaff Sung in Sparkling, Expert Manner

"FALSTAFF."

Opera in three acts and six scenes. Music by Giuseppe Verdi. Libretto by Arrigo Boito, after Shakespeare. Presented by the Chicago Opera company in the Civic Opera house, Monday evening, Nov. 24, 1941.

THE CAST:

Sir John Falstaff	John Charles Thomas
Alice Ford	Dusolina Giannini
Ford	Hugh Thompson [debut]
Nanetta	Virginia Haskins
Mistress Page	Hertha Glaz
Dame Quickly	Sonia Sharnova
Fenton	Felix Knight [debut]
Dr. Caius	Giuseppe Cavadore
Bardolph	Anthony Marlowe
Pistol	Douglas Beattie
The host	Philip Fein
Stage director	William Wymetal
Conductor	Laszlo Halasz [debut]

BY CECIL SMITH.

Verdi's "Falstaff," the matchless jewel among operatic comedies, gleamed and sparkled last evening. With the part of the fat knight safely entrusted to John Charles Thomas, who by now has grown into an extraordinary identification with both the music and the action, and with the brilliant, chattering vocal ensembles projected with delicious gayety by Dusolina Giannini and an admirable group of associates, the performance became one of the most expert of the season.

Laszlo Halasz, the young conductor and artistic director of the St. Louis Opera company, made his debut in the pit and showed by his complete command of the dazzling and difficult score that he possesses a conducting talent of major dimensions. His tempi were uniformly well paced; his coordination of the continual orchestral counterpoint with the intricacies of the vocal parts was superb; and he persuaded the orchestra to play with tonal beauty, balance, and expressive nuance.

Mr. Thomas' Falstaff has ripened and grown, so that he now presents a less caricatured figure than he used to. By greater economy, both vocal and histrionic, he makes all his points very tellingly, and I can honestly say, as I could not last year, that this is one of the distinguished operatic characterizations of our generation.

Hugh Thompson, son of the noted New York music critic, Oscar Thompson, made his début with the company as Ford. His gift for the stage is exceptional; his singing is intelligent and musical despite a young voice that has not yet attained true operatic solidity. Felix Knight, another newcomer, sang the tenor part of Fenton with attractive lyric flow, but with scarcely the volume a big opera house needs.

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

We were delighted to see that one of last year's crop of excellent Christmas gifts is making a return engagement this season. It's for the woman who likes simple, smart tailored accessories—a compact, lipstick, and little vial of perfume in a baby-calf leather case.

This made a great hit with us for several reasons. Every woman has to carry a compact and a lipstick, but most cases for them are too fussy. This one, beautifully made and quite sturdy, remains a joy no matter how long it's used.

The compact is a single, of gold metal, with a good mirror and hinges that will stand up under a lot of wear and tear. The puff is big enough. The vanity itself is of simple design.

The lipstick case, also in gold metal, is equally smart, and the little perfume flask [filled with delightful scent, by the way] has the same simplicity. All three pieces fit perfectly into the leather case, which is severely plain with a flap opening. The leather is in green, prune, red, or brown. The price, $7.50.

The woman who likes quality without frou-frou will like this. It's intensely practical because it saves her bag linings and keeps compact and lipstick within easy reach. And it's a treat to the eye. ELEANOR NANGLE.

"Justice Deferred"

By William MacLeod Raine

SYNOPSIS.

Jack Waugh, who, when a small boy, saw his father ambushed and murdered in Santa Rita, returns there 20 years later determined to bring the murderers to justice. He rescues Mary Lane from a holdup and possible kidnaping and finds she is the stepdaughter of Corbett Carey, who sent his father the letter that lured him to his death. Corbett explains he had been jockeyed into sending the letter by Warren Tracy, now a foreman at the Clinton ranch. Jack is convinced that old Ab Clinton instigated the murder to gain possession of the Waugh ranch. Two of old Ab's sons are rich and prominent in Santa Rita. His other son, Brad, is running the ranch and is believed to be as crooked as his father, who, still living, owns a controling interest in the ranch. Abner Clinton III., grandson of old Ab, is Mary's suitor and a straightforward young man. He persuades his grandfather to let him try to settle the Waugh affair with diplomacy and to give him a job at his Uncle Brad's ranch. Jack visits the Carey ranch, adjoining the Clinton's and talks to Corbett's son, Carl. He learns that Fallon, who was the first to arrive on the scene of his father's murder, now works for the Clintons, and has since the murder. Jack and Carl call on Fallon, but their visit is interrupted by Tracy and Ike Parker. In a fight that follows, Parker is disarmed and Jack gives Tracy a terrific beating. Jack hires Fallon to protect him from the Clintons.

INSTALMENT XIV.

ALIBI.

Young Abner looked at Tracy, not without pleasure. He had in his youth had one or two run-ins with the foreman, and it gave him some satisfaction to see his mauled and battered face. A bully brought low meets with very little sympathy.

"I don't see how a car could get round to do so much damage," he replied. "My guess would have been a buzz saw."

"No, sir—a car. It hit him when he wasn't looking." Brad took time out to giggle before he continued. "The boys weren't doing so well this morning. Ike had his little troubles, too, Warren says. He had his gun lifted out of the holster.

"Did a car do that, too?" Abner asked innocently.

"Get the boys to tell you all about it. They will be tickled to spill the story of their adventures."

"Maybe you had better do your own dirty work if you don't like the way we do it, Brad," suggested Parker, an edge to his voice.

"What I don't like is that you didn't do it," Brad retorted. "I sent them to bring Jim Fallon here for a little pow-wow and they just couldn't do the job," he explained to his nephew. "They met a tenderfoot and he talked them out of it."

"O, he talked them out of it."

"He made gestures, too, I reckon. Wasn't that what you told me, Warren?"

A swift light came to Abner. "Was that tenderfoot named Waugh?" he asked.

"Step right up to the head of the class," his uncle replied. "You guessed it first shot outa the box."

Abner examined again with amused and leisurely insolence the flat, ugly face of Tracy. The eyes were badly bruised and discolored. One of them, nearly closed, was an angry purple shading into a yellowish green around the edges of the swelling. Both cheeks were cut open, and there were ridges here and there where lashing fists had crashed home. The upper lip was twice its normal thickness. Judging by the evidence, Waugh had done a very thoro job.

"You ought to have him arrested for assault with deadly weapons, Warren," young Clinton suggested, his manner suspiciously innocent. "Was he chopping at you with an ax?"

"I'll take care of him," Tracy snarled. "Don't you worry about that."

"I'll try not to," Abner promised. "But it is not right to pay for protection from the law and not get it. Here you are, a quiet, peaceable citizen going about his business and a big bully jumps on you and pretty nearly murders you."

"Cut out the family stuff," the foreman ordered roughly. "Or you'll find I'm not so damned peaceable." It was bad enough to have Brad riding him. He was not going to put up with this squirt's derisive mock sympathy.

"I don't blame you for feeling sore after what he did to you."

Tracy's vanity protested. "I hit my head against the door of the car and got knocked out. When I was down he jumped on me."

"Couldn't Ike do anything to help you?"

"Carl Carey covered Ike with a gun."

"With Ike's gun, after he had borrowed it from Ike," Brad mentioned helpfully.

Parker was disgusted with the lies of his companion. "What's the sense of trying to crawl out of it, Warren? This bird whipped you fair and square with his fists. I never saw a better, cleaner job. You were about thru before you hit the car door, and he never touched you while you were on the ground."

"And about the gun?" Abner inquired softly.

"I tried to keep the guy from getting out of the shack. He handed me a jolt on the chin. While I was still counting stars, Carl helped himself to my gun."

"I ought never to have allowed two such babes in the woods to go alone," Brad mourned, with his silly little giggle.

"I'll fix that fellow Waugh's clock for him if I never do anything else in this world," Tracy said viciously.

"You'll do as you are told, nothing more and nothing less," Abner announced very gently and distinctly.

The foreman stared at him, completely taken aback. He had always regarded Abner Clinton III. as a dude, of no importance at all in his scheme of things. "What's that you say?" he demanded.

"I'm mentioning that you are a hired hand of the ranch, here to take orders and obey them."

Anger beat up into the battered face of Tracy. "If you think——"

Brad cut off his savage retort. "The boy is right for once, Warren. You can't draw A. C. checks and play your own hand. What I say goes here. Don't forget that."

"Are you telling me to lay off this Waugh?"

"No. I'll be telling you to go after him plenty, after I've figured out the way to do it. Until then you won't lift a finger to him. The first thing I would do if I were you would be to fix up that face of yours so it doesn't look so much like a pounded beefsteak. If you don't the boys are liable to do some grinning when they see you."

As soon as the Clintons were alone Brad asked his nephew how he happened to come to the ranch.

"Grandfather sent me," Abner answered.

"What for?"

"To take care of this Waugh business."

"No. We're to try diplomacy first. It's a pity you let Jim Fallon slip thru your fingers."

"Until last night I didn't know a thing about Waugh being in the state. Why didn't the old man tell me earlier?"

"If you had gathered Fallon in last night we would have been sitting a lot prettier."

"How did I know there was such a hell of a rush? Why didn't you come out last night and tell me, since you're mixing yourself up in this?"

The question was a direct hit, altho Abner did not tell his uncle so. He ought to have done that and cut out the dance at the club. If he had come 12 hours earlier they could have rounded up Fallon before Waugh had met him. Probably it was too late now to prevent the line rider from telling this audacious stranger what he knew about the killing of his father.

"How much does Jim know?" he asked.

"Plenty," Brad answered.

"Enough to get the family in bad?"

"Maybe." The older man eyed the other suspiciously.

"Will he spill it to Waugh?"

"How do I know? Not if he has any gratitude. I've fed him for 20 years. But I never yet had a rider with any loyalty. What's your sudden interest in this?"

Abner drew a letter from his pocket and handed it to his uncle. The man behind the desk read it with no satisfaction. It was a curtly worded note from his father telling him that his grandson Abner would be in charge of the fight against Waugh and that the ranch facilities were to be subject to his orders.

"I don't get this," Brad said, his beady eyes fixed on the youngster. "What in hell has got into the old man? I've run this ranch for a dozen years. Does he think I'm going to turn it over to a fool kid who hasn't got a nickel in it and never did have sense enough to pound sand into a rate hole?"

Brad this grandfather still owned 75 per cent of the stock in the ranch properties Abner knew as well as Brad did, but he did not think it wise to mention this just now. Naturally the older man was angry at what his father had done. There was reason enough for resentment. Abner Clinton III. had never done anything but go to school, play, and spend money lavishly. Why promote him to a job that might have to be handled competently to save both Brad and his father a lot of trouble?

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Nothing is better than plain apple pie, America's favorite dessert, but there are many almost as good versions of apple pie, including apple and cranberry, apple and mincemeat, apple and pineapple, apple and cheese, apple and cider. Of course, an apple and cider pie is nothing more nor less than apple and apple, for what is cider but apple juice?

Apple and Cider Pie.
6 tart medium apples, sliced
Cider
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
Pastry for double crust

Cover apples with cider and simmer until almost tender. Add butter, mixed flour, sugar, and spices. Pour into pastry shell, which has been baked for five minutes in a 450 degree oven. Cover with lattice strips of dough and bake eight minutes more at 450 degrees. Then reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 25 minutes longer.

The following recipe is for plain apple pie with cheese for an upper crust. Omit the cheese and use a top pastry if you want the standard dessert. The variation is really wonderful, especially if you choose a good, nippy, aged cheese for the topping.

Apple Cheese Pie.
Sliced tart apples
¾ cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
Thin slices of nippy American cheese
Pastry for one crust

Slice apples into pastry lined pie pan. Mix sugar, flour, cinnamon and salt, and sprinkle over apple. Dot with butter. Bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees, for 15 minutes, then reduce heat to moderate, 350 degrees, and bake half an hour longer. Ten minutes before end of baking time, lay slices of cheese over apples, completely covering them. Cheese will melt into apples and should brown lightly on top. Serve this pie warm. A one crust apple pie may be baked and served warm with a topping of cream cheese and whipped cream.

Here's a luscious applesauce pie which may be made with canned or fresh applesauce.

Almond Applesauce Pie.
2½ cups fine rusk crumbs
½ cup ground almonds
1 cup brown sugar
¾ cup butter
1½ cups thick, unsweetened applesauce

Butter the bottom and sides of a deep pie pan. Cover bottom of pan with a cup of rusk crumbs, sprinkle with half the almonds, then half the sugar. Pour applesauce over this, then top with another cup of crumbs, the rest of almonds and sugar. Top with remaining ½ cup crumbs and dot with butter. Bake 25 minutes at 350 degrees, moderate oven. Cool and serve in wedges with whipped cream or cream cheese.

Mayflower Society to Hear Dr. William Mather Lewis

Dr. William Mather Lewis, president of Lafayette college at Easton, Pa., will be the principal speaker tonight at the 45th annual dinner of the Illinois Society of Mayflower Descendants at the Blackstone hotel. Dr. Lewis is a former mayor of Lake Forest. More than 200 Mayflower descendants are expected at tonight's banquet, according to Charles L. Blatchford, governor of the society.

TODAY'S PRIZE RECIPE

A jellied cider salad is easy to make and has an unusual flavor. This one was so good that it is being awarded today's $5 recipe contest prize. Mrs. Margaret Dixon, 608 Plum street, Marshall, Ill., sent in the recipe.

Send your own favorite recipe to the Recipe Contest, CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Perhaps it will be a prize winner, too.

CIDER GELATIN MOLD SALAD.
[10 servings.]
1 package orange gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup cider
1¾ cups diced tart apples
¾ cup seeded Tokay grapes
½ cup chopped nuts
⅛ teaspoon salt

Dissolve gelatin in hot water and cool. Add cider and allow to thicken somewhat. Fold in other ingredients, pour into wet or oiled molds, and chill in the refrigerator until firm.

Good Morning!

"Scarface" certainly brought a flock of gruesome memories! And if we get into another war, we'll be entertaining those memories' horrible children a few years from now!

This is the picture, based on the life of Capone, that Chicagoans weren't permitted to see while gangster rackets flourished in our city. Now? Things are very different, a foreword tells us. . . . Well, the rest of the world, including Waukegan, has seen "Scarface," and if you and you and you are interested—there the old film is, holding open house at the Woods theater.

Every episode, you are told, is founded on an actual occurrence. . . . And so you will recognize the Valentine day massacre, the O'Bannion affair, and various other happenings in their picture resurrections. . . .

Seconding Mr. Muni's superb performance are smart characterizations by George Raft, C. Henry Gordon, and Vince Barnett. . . . I couldn't care for either Ann Dvorak or Karen Morley. . . . Amateurish—or something. And such makeup, my DEARS! Interesting to see what strides have been made in that respect and as to photography since the dour days of 1933.

See you soon.

Universal day—How much service do you actually render your community? A good day to think about it.

December—Those in a 5-year ought to get themselves ready for the coming month by getting things in order. You won't want to bother next month. You will be too busy being seen and getting around among the people who count. The whole feeling of the month is expansive, a sort of glamor may color your holiday, and, if you deserve them, gifts are not unlikely from unexpected quarters. Little or big rewards come to those who have been doing a good job. There probably will be a great temptation to spend too much, but if your receipts are bigger now, as they should be, then you can afford to be generous and a little more extravagant. A feeling of power and of advancement should be felt.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 24.—You check in at Paramount, look over the production sheet, and find there are seven pictures shooting. Next week there will be 11, not counting a defense short, and they will crowd the compact studio to the utmost. Seven, even, are too many to wide-eye in a morning, so you pick and choose.

First you take the biggest production, Mark Sandrich's "Holiday Inn," and you find a Cinderella story. Since no Hollywood day is complete without a Cinderella story, the column is in the bag already. . . . Cinderella, in this picture, is Marjorie Reynolds, who is playing opposite Bing Crosby. Miss Reynolds, now a married young lady, started in the movies when she was 4, and now, finally, she's in the big time because of an emergency.

The emergency was the starting date of "Hollywood Inn." Irving Berlin had written the show, immense budget details had been settled, Fred Astaire and Crosby had been engaged, and the picture must start rolling because pretty soon Bing had to be ready for another one, "Road to Morocco," or something. And a personable dancing and singing gal for Crosby had not been found. They had Virginia Dale to pair off with Astaire—but who for Crosby?

"Mark," said Danny Dale, the dance director, to Sandrich, "I know the girl if I can only remember her name. She was in all those college shows we did about five years ago. She was pretty and had personality and could dance. . . . No, not Betty Grable. She was around in the same choruses, but she's not the one."

Danny spent a day trying to remember her name and finally found it in old records. Marjorie Moore. It took more time to track down Marjorie Moore because she had married a guy named Jack Reynolds, and she had changed her name to Marjorie Reynolds. When they found her she got the job, and Paramount believes she may be another Ginger Rogers or something.

Marjorie, between the college movie days and now, had been working steadily but unnoticed in movies. Her family had brought her to Hollywood from Buhl, Idaho, before she was 4, and when she was 4 she was acting with Viola Dana and stars like that. Then she went to school for a long time, with occasional periods in the films. Five years ago she was an ideal chorus kid for the college movie cycle.

An agent got hold of her, said she had a big future—but not in singing and dancing. There was no future in that stuff; straight acting was the thing. So she did straight acting with Boris Karloff and once was the heroine of 35 westerns in 35 weeks.

She married Jack Reynolds, an assistant director at Sam Goldwyn's. When Sam was casting "Ball of Fire," he needed a lot of pretty dancers and he sent Reynolds cruising around all the local joints looking for same. Mrs. Reynolds always went with her husband and helped him look. . . . She'd wait outside Goldwyn's office while Reynolds reported on his search, and Sam never saw her.

And then Danny Dare remembered her—and Bing! She was with Bing.

THE Kitchen Kibitzer

Too bad the carving knife is so dull. If only you hadn't stored it in a drawer with all the other knives! That blade should have been better protected!

Those link sausages are going to shrivel right down to next to nothing if you don't turn the heat lower. And put a little water in the pan for them to simmer in, unless you require them very brown.

* * *

Yes, there is such a thing as getting too much gelatin into a pudding or dessert. You don't want it gummy, do you? Then better stick to the standard proportion, 1 package of flavored gelatin, 1 tablespoon or envelop of unflavored gelatin to a pint of liquid.

* * *

Goodness me, don't drain the olive liquid down the sink! It's good in soups and sauces, grand for thinning salad dressings.

* * *

Grated orange rind is full of flavor. It's grand for breakfast toast. Add it to sugar, let stand a few hours or overnight, then butter and spread the toast with orange sugar. Brown under broiler. Um-mm, good!

* * *

That's a handsome roast of pork, dear lady! Don't forget to roast some apples along with it. Or serve it with sliced, browned-in-butter apples. Don't add any sugar, please.

* * *

Aren't refrigerator rolls the grandest invention, tho? All the really hard work of roll making can be done several days before you want to serve hotbread. And that's a comfort to a busy cook who's gonna have company.

* * *

Looks as tho there are several cans of half used fruit in that refrigerator. Put 'em together in a greased casserole, sprinkle with sugar and dot with butter. Then spread muffin batter over the fruit, bake and serve this swell pudding hot, with cream.

White Collar GIRL
BY RUTH MACKAY.

His Budget and Hers.

The problem of a wage-earning husband and wife and a sensible division of their earnings is seldom dragged out into the open and discussed in a forthright manner. Credit is due, therefore, to the writer of the following paragraphs, whose suggestions may not fit every one, yet are certainly thought provoking.

1. "The wife should contribute from her earnings to each of the several sections of the budget except clothing and personal expenditures of the husband. . . . We see no reason why she should not contribute her full share [one-third to two-fifths] toward food expenditures and as much toward each of the other principal types of expenditure as seems fair. [Presumably the husband will carry the burden of life insurance premiums and so forth, except when the wife has an unusually large income.] The remainder of her earned income should be hers for division among her clothing, personal, and savings columns of the budget."

2. "If it is necessary or desirable to employ a cook or part time housekeeper the pay for this help should come from the wife's earnings."

3. "The wife should realize that she benefits substantially by the family partnership basis. She will have the benefit of a better home than a woman living alone on her salary could ordinarily afford. She will also have a much higher degree of protection against serious illness, unemployment, etc., than she is likely to have living alone."—From "How to Make Your Budget Balance."

Making Some Changes.

"There are no ugly women. There are only women who do not know how to look pretty."—Antoine Berryer. And that, in a sentence, is the philosophy of one of our town's newer "charm schools" where business girls come out of their coccoons like the proverbial butterflies.

Instructed in the principles of makeup, dress, voice culture, and posture, the girls see themselves, perhaps for the first time, as others would like to see them. "There'll be some changes made," they hum as they twist and stretch and exercise on small mats on the floor.

Regardless of what sort of job they hold—whether they stand, or sit at a desk, or walk from one end of the city to the other—the girls have the same fault: poor posture.

And yet, good posture, the experts tell us, can be acquired by any one who will balance the old fashioned beanbag on her head a few moments daily.

Thoughts About a Job!

What she's thinking when applying for a job:

I wish I'd worn my other dress!

I wonder if he's hiring a secretary for himself or his crochety old uncle [like the last job].

How much salary shall I ask?

If I get the job can I make good?

What he's thinking when interviewing her:

A nice, becoming, businesslike dress!

How much salary shall I offer her?

If I give her the job will she make good?

LAST TUESDAY'S QUESTION.

Question 35: Rubber bridge; East-West vulnerable. The bidding proceeds:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 spade	Pass
2 clubs	Pass	?

You are South, and hold:
♠ A Q 7 5 2 ♥ A J 3 ♦ 8 4 ♣ 10 7 6
What call do you make?

Answer: Pass. Your partner passed originally, hence you are under no obligation to respond to his two club takeout. Your opening bid was an irreducible minimum, therefore any rebid incurs considerable risk. Your best bet, by far, is to settle for a part score, which your reasonable club support makes likely. [Twenty points demerit for 2 spades; 40 points demerit for 2 no trump or 3 clubs; 50 points demerit for any other call].

TODAY'S HAND.

East, dealer.

NORTH
♠ J 7 2
♥ K 10 6 4
♦ 9 5
♣ A Q 5 3

WEST
♠ K Q 6
♥ None
♦ Q 8 7 3 2
♣ K 10 9 6 4

EAST
♠ 5

♦ A K J 10 6 4

SOUTH
♠ A 10 9 8 4 3
♥ Q 9 7 5
♦ None
♣ J 7 2

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 diamond	1 spade	2 clubs	2 spades
3 hearts	3 spades	4 diamonds	Pass
4 hearts	4 spades	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

South's bidding was highly aggressive. As may be seen, however, East-West passed up a beautiful opportunity when they failed to go on with diamonds. Five diamonds would have been absolutely cold.

West opened his fourth best diamond, and declarer ruffed. With four hearts appearing in dummy, it became obvious that West was void, since East could not have rebid the suit on fewer than five. The fact that East had started with a diamond bid placed him with a 6-5 distribution. This left West with five diamonds and implied strongly that he had both the king and queen of spades, since with that diamond length and less strength in spades, he would not have doubled a four spade contract. Declarer's danger, then, was that he would lose two spade tricks, the heart ace and a club trick.

With the one thought of reducing these losers to three, declarer led a low club to the queen and, when it held, ruffed dummy's remaining diamond. He then led a low trump toward the jack. West had to put in his queen and now found that he could not make a return without costing himself a trick. A spade return from the king would reduce his trump winners to one; a diamond return would permit a ruff in dummy while declarer discarded a club and, finally a club return would permit declarer a free club finesse and rid him of a club loser.

Since there was a chance that East had the club jack, West chose to exit in clubs. But declarer let the lead ride to his own jack, laid down the ace of spades, and then led a heart toward dummy. The king lost to East's ace, and now a finesse was established against the heart jack and eight. Declarer needed two entries to dummy for these finesses, but East himself had to supply one entry by returning either a heart, or a diamond that could be ruffed. Dummy's club ace supplied the other entry.

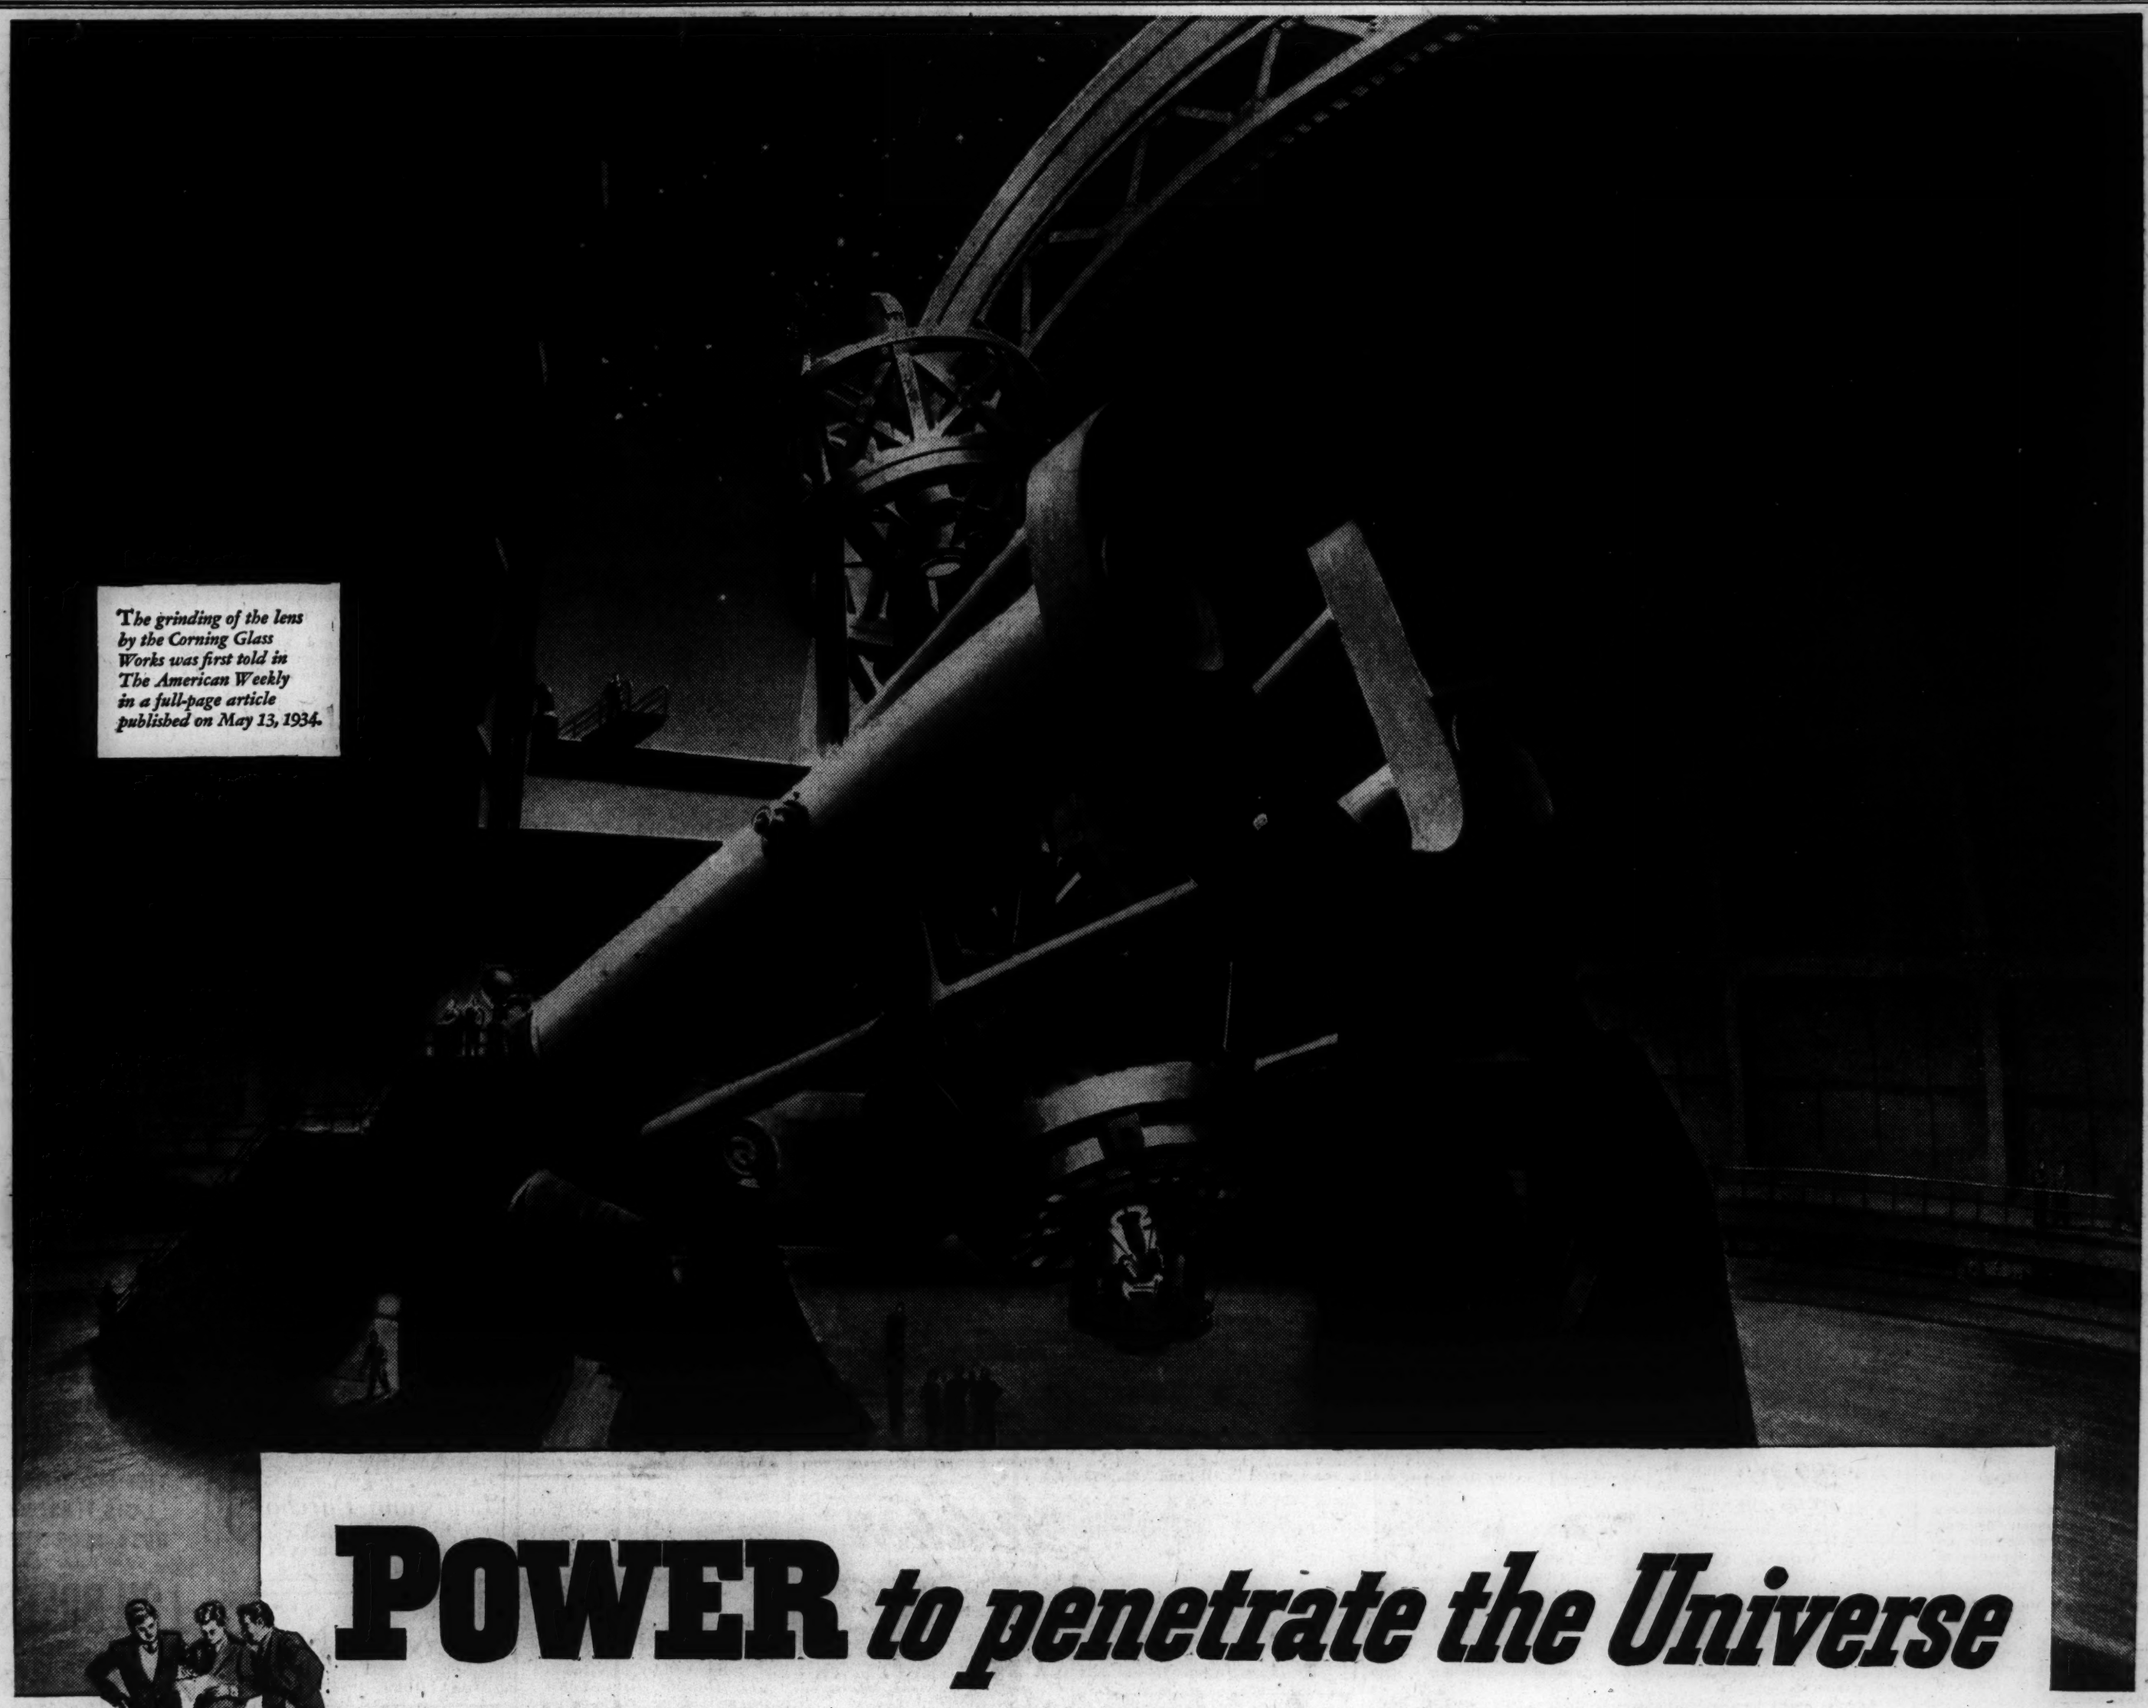
TRIBUNE ADVERTISING FEATURES



The grinding of the lens by the Corning Glass Works was first told in The American Weekly in a full-page article published on May 13, 1934.

POWER to penetrate the Universe — Power to move America!

In 1942 the moon will be brought within 24 miles of the earth—or so it will seem to a group of astronomers gathered on Mt. Palomar, California, for their first look at the heavens through the California Institute of Technology's new telescope.

In this great telescope is a 200-inch mirror—twice as large as the largest ever made before—a great contribution to Science.

The Giant of Palomar will disclose limits in the universe never reached heretofore—double the light of truth for the minds of people.

What is power?

In a telescope it is the ability to pick up the faint light of stars a billion light-years away.

In a magazine it is the ability to interest and teach more minds than any other.

The American Weekly, the magazine distributed nationally through 21 great Sunday newspapers, is unique. It is the "Giant of Palomar" which enables an advertiser to bring his product's name, appearance and merits within view of the buyers in 7,323,945 homes (A.B.C. figures for 3 months ended March 31, 1941).

To the advertiser who desires to widen the scope of his activities, The American Weekly offers the greatest force in advertising—BIG COLOR PAGES with the greatest circulation in the world—to tap the greatest mass market of all time at the lowest cost in the history of advertising. They multiply visibility—provide the GREATEST size, within the view of the MOST people.

A cycle of these BIG COLOR PAGES—or smaller color units or black-and-white space punctuated by BIG COLOR PAGES—will inspire the sales force, get dealer co-operation and store display, in fullest measure, and build up a consumer response beyond anything else in the entire field of advertising.

And if the advertiser is a star of lesser magnitude, the power of The American Weekly will make his announcements seen . . . though his advertising space may be as small as 28 lines. For these advertisements also enter the same 7,323,945 homes . . . For example, the following two paragraphs in a letter just received from an executive of Matteson-Fogarty-Jordan Company, Chicago advertising agency:

> ". . . you might like to know just how the Associated Distributors' (Chen Yu Nail Lacquer) advertisement, which ran in the March 2 issue of The American Weekly in the space of 108 lines, came out.
> "As you know, this ad cost $1,026 and, to date, we have received a total of 11,303 coupons which call for 25¢ each. This shows a cost of a fraction of a cent over 9¢ per inquiry. I might add that it is still pulling."

A national advertiser has this choice: To concentrate his advertising dollars and do a major job, reflected in the giant "200-inch mirror" of The American Weekly—or to be seen less clearly by scattering his appropriation with a little radio, a little magazine, a little newspaper and a little outdoor.

The American Weekly has a new, major presentation, showing where the dollars are NOW! . . . where these dollars can be reached most economically NOW! It's worth the time of any executive to listen to the story of "THE ADVERTISING DOLLAR."

INDIANA AND PURDUE NAME MOST VALUABLE

BOWLING'S BIG 80 WARMS UP FOR TITLE SHOW

Stars' Condition to Be Major Factor.

BY C. H. BEUKEMA.

The nation's 80 ranking bowlers—70 principals and 10 alternates—who have been invited to take part in the All-Star eliminations and national match game finals which open in the Coliseum a week from Sunday, Dec. 7, and continue for eight afternoons and nights, have gone into intensive training for the grind.

Their interest in this unusual sports show sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc. and the National Bowling Proprietors Association of America is expressed in letters thanking the sponsors, and they also make it clear that they intend to be ready to bowl the maximum requirement, 75 games in eight days.

These participants declare they have been honored by being chosen to compete in what promises to be the most important event in match bowling. They believe that the tournament's future depends largely on their performances and the manner in which they are received by Chicago's huge ten pin following.

They Must Be in Shape.

Bowlers—and there are 16,000,000 of them in the nation—appreciate the need of a star's being in top shape for the kind of test these All-Stars have ahead of them. Every bowler who drops the game, probably for golf during the summer, knows that he needs weeks to get back into shape just for league play in the fall.

The coming tests will require each of the All-Stars to roll five games of medal play a day for four days. After that the high 11 will roll 55 games in four days, 11 five game matches.

The ten alleys on which the tournament is to be rolled will be new. Construction of the alleys will be completed tonight or tomorrow and actual laying of them will be started next Monday morning.

A group of ten Chicago All-Stars will renew their training chores tomorrow night when they practice for a single's day's tournament assignment—five games across 10 alleys. This preview is scheduled for 11:30 p. m. at the Dearborn-Jackson recreation and will be followed by others at the same center. Other Chicago bowling proprietors also are planning to have All-Stars perform during the next several days. It is anticipated that a number of matches will be scheduled at various houses on days just before the event opens.

Jimmy Blouin on Program.

Actual competition leading up to the tournament is scheduled again this week-end when Ned Day and Lowell Jackson meet in the last of the 30 game blocks of their championship match on Jackson's home alleys in St. Louis. Day has established a long lead in their previous 90 games, but Jackson is expected to substantially reduce the champion's margin in the St. Louis block. They are to decide their match in the final 40 game block, to be rolled on the opening four nights of the Chicago tournament.

Day, as champion, is to receive $1,500 for his performance while Jackson will be paid $750. Presentation of the awards will take place at the close of their competition Wednesday night, Dec. 10. Jimmy Blouin of Blue Island, bowling's first match game champion, who retired undefeated in 1924, will make the presentation.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The amazing Blackhawks tonight will play the New York Rangers in Madison Square Garden, and their Chicago fans—the old faithfuls and the re-won backsliders reclaimed by recent heroics—are forecasting Paul Thompson's rapid hockeyists will outskate the fifth place New Yorkers.

Tho partial to their home ice, on which they have scored four victories in four games, the form sheets indicate the Hawks should win tonight, likewise in their stopover game in Detroit Thursday as they return to Chicago to again engage the Rangers.

First Meeting of Year.

Tonight's engagement will be the first meeting between the Hawks and the Rangers, but league statistics are encouraging to the Chicagoans. The Hawks have won five, tied one, and lost one; the New York lads have won three, lost five, and tied none. The Rangers have scored 27 goals but have had 29 scored against them. The Hawks, in two fewer games, have scored 14 goals and have had only 12 scored against them. In their last four games the Rangers have scored 18 goals, four more than the Hawk total for seven games, but have won only one of their last four matches.

While the Hawks will be vying with quite a few newcomers in tonight's games, they will have to contend with some old time stars who have brought them trouble many times. The Colville brothers and Shibicky line still is scoring as of old and Bryan Hextall, who scored 26 goals last year to top the league in actual tallying, still is all over the place. Lynn Patrick, who scored 20 goals last year, is shooting hard as ever.

New Goalie Earns O. K.

The Ranger defense may not be as tight as of old but those who know the work of the new goalie, Sugar Jim Henry, say he has what it takes. And in the starting lineup at defense will be Art Coulter and Babe Pratt, both well known to Chicago hockey followers.

President Bill Tobin of the Hawks said yesterday that advance ticket sales for the next game here Sunday with the Rangers have indicated a sellout even should the Hawks get pushed around a little on their two game road trip.

The Measure of a Man.

How can we tell the measure of a man?
By what he was or what he is today?
We do not know what he will be tomorrow
For tomorrow is still too far away.

The man will count for something should he be
One who gives heart and soul to every chore;
Whose smiles are cheerful signs of friendliness,
Who is liked by all because he's not a bore.

That man will measure fully up to all
The standards that the world expects of men—
Upright, sincere, ambitious, proud, and kind,
Who, failing once, will try and try again. —Anne C. Korpics.

DE CORREVONT TO PLAY SUNDAY WITH PRO TEAM

Bill De Correvont, Northwestern university senior half back who concluded his college athletic career Saturday against Illinois, said last night he would play Sunday with the New York Yankees in a charity football game against a Negro all-star team, but that he understood he would retain his amateur standing.

De Correvont said Steve Juzwik, Notre Dame senior, would meet him in New York and that both of them would play with the Yankees, receiving only their expense money. De Correvont plans to play New Year's day in the East-West game at San Francisco, to which he has a tentative invitation.

"I won't play pro ball," De Correvont declared, adding that Sunday's game is the closest he expects to come to the professional leagues. "I've got enough of football—and when you've got enough, you've got enough."

He said he would fly to New York tomorrow.

EXPECT 100,000 WILL WATCH LEO BATTLE TILDEN

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

There was an important memo placed upon the desk of Barnet Hodes, corporation counsel and secretary of Chicago's Own Christmas Benefit fund, yesterday morning. It read: "Reminder to contact meteorologists re weather prediction for Saturday's game between Tilden Tech and Leo." Hodes failed to find a weather expert risking a guess on conditions five days away, but he predicted 100,000 will watch the all-city contest between the Catholic and Public School league champions in Soldiers' field.

Hodes glanced at the ticket shelves and reported 77,000 seats already have been sold. He said interest in the prep spectacle, which will be an all-south side affair for the sixth time since the series was inaugurated by the benefit fund in 1934, indicated an additional 23,000 tickets will be disposed of during the week and at the gate on the day of the contest.

Name Game Officials.

Hodes also announced all details for the presentation of the contest were completed in the offices of A. H. Pritzlaff, Public School league director of physical education, yesterday afternoon. The officials who will serve in the game are E. F. Fendt, Lewis institute, referee; Sam Pecoraro, Dallas university, umpire; John Cella, De Paul university, field judge, and Pat Pierce, De Paul university, head linesman.

There will be marching drills by 1,200 soldiers and 1,200 sailors from nearby camps and naval training stations at 12:45 o'clock, a half hour before the start of the game. A flag raising event will take place at 1 o'clock. The program also will include exhibitions by 50 baton twirlers, the Tilden Tech, Fenger, Senn, and Crane Tech drum and bugle corps; ROTC units, and 12 bands.

Look for Offensive Battle.

Those who watched the two league championship games over last weekend are convinced the game can develop into a wide open affair. Tilden Tech revealed its offensive stars in Ray Schumacher, Eddie Uvodich, and Len Mazzaco when it conquered Fenger, 20 to 18, for the Public School league title last Saturday. Leo's offense will be sparked by Henry [Babe] Baranowski, the Chicago district's outstanding player this season, whose long runs and passes enabled the Lions to whip Fenwick, 20 to 0, last Sunday in the Catholic league's final round.

The Lions assembled to plan preparations for the game yesterday, but one regular member of the squad, Guard Frank Lauro, was missing from the meeting. Lauro's mother, Mrs. Josephine Lauro, died Sunday night in her home at 6008 South Wood street while Frank was in a hospital for examination of a rib injury. X-ray pictures this morning will determine whether or not Lauro will be available for the game against Tilden Tech.

Savoy Boxers Selected for League Match

BY FRANK MASTRO.

The Savoy Athletic club's team, which will meet the Ashland A. C. tomorrow in its first Chicagoland Amateur Boxing league match, was named yesterday by Coach Eddie Nichols. The interclub event will be held in Social Turner hall, Belmont avenue and Paulina street. Squad members follow:

A Capable 112 Pounder.

Adams, Calhoun, and Johnson are the outstanding boxers of the Savoy delegation. Adams, who resides on the west side, recently upset Celestino Voldez. A student at Tilden Tech High school, Adams has been boxing for a year and a half with better than average success.

Johnson, who is 18 years old and resides with his widowed mother at 4445 South Michigan avenue, defeated Manjarrez in a previous fight two weeks ago. The achievement was his 40th triumph in 50 appearances during a two and a half year campaign.

Heavyweight Rivals Meet.

The contest between Lang and Hodge also will be the third between the heavyweight rivals, the former winning decisions in both earlier battles. However, both were hard fights and there was little to choose between the boys despite the disparity in their sizes. Hodge is only 5 feet 10 inches tall and weights 186 pounds as against Lang's height of 6 feet 6 inches and 220 pounds.

Other league bouts bring together Madison Athletic club and Fort Sheridan, and Milwaukee and Catholic Youth organization at CYO center gymnasium, also scheduled for tomorrow. Fred Caserio, manager of the West Suburban club, will take his color bearers to Camp Grant Thursday for a match there against the soldier fighters on Thursday.

Buddy Ryan, competent welterweight of Springfield, Ill., has been added to the Madison club's team. He will serve as an alternate in the show against Fort Sheridan, which also has two alternates in Bob Davis and Al Blosmore, heavyweights.

Moseley, Illinois Boy, Named Yale Captain for 1942

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 24 (AP).—Spencer D. Moseley of Highland Park, Ill., son of an all-American on Walter Camp's 1916 Yale eleven, today was chosen to lead the Elis' 1942 football team. Moseley, 22 years old, and successor of Capt. Alan Bartholemy of Portland, Ore., played all but a few moments in every contest this season despite a broken jaw. He is a center.

George C. Moseley, the father of the new Blue gridiron leader, played end on one of Yale's greatest elevens. His son takes over at a time when football here is at an all-time low and with prospects for improvement none too good.

The Hoosier sophomore was the iron man of the squad, playing 468 minutes of a possible 480 against Detroit, Notre Dame, Texas Christian, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Iowa, Northwestern and Purdue. He figured in 14 of Indiana's 15 touchdowns, scoring seven himself for individual honors and passing for seven more. The only Indiana touchdown in which Hillenbrand made no direct contribution was the one scored against Notre Dame, but in this instance he made a shoestring catch of a pass from Full Back Earl Doloway which put the Hoosiers in scoring position.

Contributes 1,615 Yards to Offensive.

Hillenbrand contributed 1,615 yards to Indiana's offensive by all methods, and averaged two yards per trip on his runs. In 140 attempts Hillenbrand had a gross gain of 510 yards, but lost 231 yards on forward pass attempts for a total net gain of 279 yards. He completed 18 of 55 passes for 412 yards, caught eight passes for eighty-nine yards, returned four pass interceptions for ninety-five yards, averaged 36.4 yards on his punting with 474 yards in 13 kicks, returned 42 punts 561 yards and brought back eight kickoffs for 179 yards.

The young half back scored Indiana's first and last touchdowns of the season. He set up the Hoosiers' first score in the opening game against Detroit by completing a thirty-one yard pass to Quarter Back Eddie Herbert and then drove over from the 3 yard line.

He registered the first of Indiana's two touchdowns against Texas Christian, going over standing up after taking a pass from Doloway, good for a thirty yard gain. Hillenbrand then passed twenty-one yards to Chuck Jacoby, Chicago sophomore right half back, for Indiana's second score. He opened the Hoosiers' offensive against Nebraska by ramming over a touchdown from the 6 yard line, and then pitched a twenty-five yard touchdown pass to Jacoby and a twelve yard pass to End Kenny Smith for a third score.

Badgers Will Remember Him.

Hillenbrand played a part in all four of Indiana's touchdowns in the Wisconsin game. He passed twenty-four yards to Jacoby for the first one, returned a punt eighty-eight yards for the second, passed eleven yards to Smith for the third, and, in four plays, engineered an Indiana ninety-nine yard advance that netted the fourth touchdown when Lou Saban, sophomore quarter back, caught Hillenbrand's thirty-one yard toss on the Badger 30 yard line.

Against Iowa Hillenbrand ran thirty-five yards for Indiana's touchdown and returned a punt forty-one yards before slipping to the ground in an effort to elude the only Hawkeye tackler within reach of him. He was responsible for both Indiana's scores against the Northwestern Wildcats. Hillenbrand intercepted one of Bill

JOE LOUIS SUED FOR $10,500 BY MARVA'S LAWYER

Suit for $10,500 was filed in Circuit court yesterday on behalf of Attorney Bindley C. Cyrus against Joe Louis, Barrow, better known as Joe Louis, world's heavyweight boxing champion—and his reconciled wife, Marva Trotter Louis.

Cyrus charges that he was retained by Mrs. Louis Oct. 9, 1940, to obtain a property settlement for her, and that he filed her divorce suit last July 3. The couple was reconciled Aug. 19, and the suit was dropped, but Cyrus was never paid for his services, he charges. He is seeking $10,000 in attorney fees and $500 for expenses. The suit ask a jury trial.

WILT, INDIANA RUNNER, TAKES HARRIER TITLE

Rhode Island State Wins Team Crown.

East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 24 [Special].—Fred Wilt, lanky Indiana university distance runner, defeated 93 of the nation's best cross-country runners today to capture the individual title in the national collegiate meet over the four mile Michigan State college course.

Fred Wilt.

Rhode Island State Wins Title.

Rhode Island State, winner of the IC4-A title in New York last Monday, won the team championship with 83 points. Penn State, with 110 points, finished second, and Connecticut was third with 114. Purdue, Western conference champion, tied with Michigan State, for fourth place with 121 points.

Wilt apparently was not bothered by the chilly wind as he stepped off four miles in 20:32.3. His time compares with 20:30.2 the record set last fall by Gilbert Dodds of Ashland college. Today's meet was run over a slightly different course and therefore became a new meet course record.

Holderman Finishes Eighth.

Rhode Island State, 83; Penn State, 110; Connecticut, 114; Michigan State, 121; Purdue, 121; Notre Dame, 137; Michigan Normal, 166; Miami, 166; Illinois, 202; Cornell college, 251; Butler, 333; Oberlin, 335; Earlham, 350.

HINSDALE HORSE SHOW OFFICIALS ARE ELECTED

Reelection of Walter P. Saunders as president of the Hinsdale Horse Show association was announced yesterday following a meeting of the board of directors. Other officers voted in for another term were James A. Hannah, Robert P. Hasbrook, and John M. Price, vice presidents; E. P. Essley, secretary, and A. T. Huizinga, treasurer.

Saunders announced that the association has decided to hold its annual outdoor horse show in 1942, with mid-June as the probable time and an Oak Brook polo field as the place.

BATTLE FOR PRO FOOTBALL TITLE RUNS TO FORM

Giants Dominate East; Bears, Packers West.

BY EDWARD PRELL.

One thing is certain in this 1941 National Football league race—the New York Giants will be in the title play-off for the sixth time in nine years, or since 1933 when the system of matching the eastern and western division winners was devised.

At least the eastern section of the race has run true to form. The Giants added several young players last fall and stepped up their offensive tempo. They brought in fellows like Len Eshmont of Fordham, George Franck of Minnesota, and Howard Yeager of Santa Barbara State, three fleet half backs. They strengthened their line with replacements, too. So it was no surprise when Steve Owen's Giants, always a solid, steady eleven, drove their way to the top.

Western Competition Tight.

The western division has run a more or less true course, too. The Bears, as defending champions, were favorites to repeat, even tho no league title holder has done this since 1933. But even those who liked the Bears' chances conceded that Green Bay's Packers never can be counted out. So here they are, apparently on a twin track which will lead to a tie and necessitate a play-off on Dec. 14.

Elmer Layden, commissioner of professional football, yesterday announced that arrangements for a possible western play-off and the title game between the sectional winners will be made next Monday in Philadelphia. The Washington Redskins could make this a two team meeting by knocking off the Packers Sunday in the capital city. This could happen, too, as the Redskins will have nothing to lose, having been eliminated Sunday by the Giants.

May Change Date.

Tossing of a coin has been the procedure in the past to determine the battle ground for division play-offs. The championship game, originally scheduled for Dec. 14, may be moved back a week if there is a western play-off. It will be played in the west under a system of alternating it between the east and west.

The Chicago Cardinals, assured of their best season in four years, were given a double holiday for beating Cleveland 7 to 0, and will return to work tomorrow for Sunday's game in Detroit against the Lions. Not since 1937, when they won five games, lost five, and tied one, have the Cards won as many as three games. The victory over the Rams was No. 3. Last year under Jim Conzelman for the first season, the south siders won 2, lost 7, and tied 2. The Cards have lost five and tied one and after playing the Lions meet the Bears Dec. 7 in Comiskey park.

The graduates of old Halas U., or those past players of the Bears, will have their annual reunion the night of the game with the Cardinals. It will be held in the Palmer House.

Players and coaches of the Cards and Bears will be guests at the Interfraternity club's Pro Huddle at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon in the grand ballroom of the La Salle hotel. Pictures of the Cardinals' recent losing battle with the Packers in Green Bay will be shown.

De Correvont's passes and raced seventy-two yards for the first. Hillenbrand, Bob White, and Jacoby then ran the ball to Northwestern's 26 before Hillenbrand darted thru right tackle to the Wildcat 3. Here the versatile half back lateraled to Jacoby, who swept Northwestern's right flank.

His Touchdown Beats Purdue.

Since the T. C. U. game, third on Indiana's schedule, Hillenbrand shouldered the responsibility of offensive leadership on the Hoosier eleven. Playing the safety position, he handled 42 punts and fumbled only once, in which case he was tackled hard by Wisconsin's Dave Schreiner. But Hillenbrand offset his error when he ran the next punt back eighty-eight yards for Indiana's second score.

Whenever the opportunity presented itself Hillenbrand, as the signal caller, gave his back field teammates a chance to carry the ball over the goal line. After his pass to Ted Hasapes, an end, had put the ball on Purdue's 3 yard line last Saturday, Hillenbrand sent Full Back Bob White against the Boilermaker right tackle. When White lost a yard Billy duplicated the play and crashed over for the score.

Hillenbrand Rips Thru.

In the Nebraska game, first in which Hillenbrand was in command of Indiana's offensive, he ran the ball to the Cornhusker 3 yard line and gave Howard Brown, sophomore quarter back, two chances to take it over. On third down Hillenbrand ripped thru.

Hillenbrand also has turned in outstanding defensive performances, several times bringing down ball carriers who appeared to be headed across Indiana's goal line. He is the first Indiana sophomore ever named the school's most valuable football player.

PURDUE PICKS COMBS

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 24 [Special].—Bill Combs, senior right end from Lowell, Ind., tonight was named Purdue's most valuable player for the season. His selection was announced at the annual football banquet following a vote by his teammates. Altho weighing only 175 pounds, Combs was an outstanding defensive player thruout the season. Combs now becomes a candidate for the Silver Football trophy annually awarded by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE to the player judged most valuable in the Western conference.

Combs, who is 21 years old, is in the School of Science, where his professors say he is as good at blocking tough problems as he is at breaking up plays by the opposition on the gridiron. He will be graduated in June with Tom Melton, co-captain and guard on the present Boilermaker team, thereby completing a partnership that began in Lowell High school, where both were line bulwarks for a mighty eleven.

Mal Elward, the Boilermaker coach, who learned about end play while starring at Notre Dame and later was line coach on the staff headed by the late Noble Kizer here, rates Combs as one of the greatest defensive wings he has seen.

BIG NINE GAMES DRAW 1,811,388 TO SET NEW RECORD

Western conference football teams played before 1,811,388 spectators in the season just ended to set a new all-time attendance record. Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of the conference, told members of the Wailing Wall at their weekly luncheon meeting yesterday in the Sherman hotel. The previous record, Maj. Griffith said, was 1,799,898, established last year.

EXAMINE ALL CYO BOXERS TODAY FOR TOURNAMENT

Final physical examination of all novice, beginners, and open division boxers entered in the Catholic Youth organization's 11th annual Christmas Fund boxing tournament will be held today in the CYO Center, 31 East Congress street.

Dr. James V. Russell, staff physician, will conduct examinations from 4 to 6 p. m., and from 7 to 9 p. m. for boxers who will be unable to be present at the afternoon examinations.

Wrestling, as of Yore: No Groans in Bout Tonight

George Macricostas, heavyweight of Athens, Greece, will reintroduce the once popular catch-as-catch style of wrestling in his bout tonight against Alfred Johnson, mat coach of the Minneapolis Athletic club, in Ashland auditorium, Ashland boulevard and Van Buren street. In recent years, wrestling has been featured by burlesque artists. Steve Savage of Chicago, veteran 215 pounder, and Art Saxon of Lodi, Cal., will be principals in a semi-windup engagement. In preliminary encounters Rudy Strongberg, member of the 1932 German Olympic weight lifting team, will oppose Billy Bartush; Dr. John Bonica of New York will face Andy Rascher, former Big Ten mat title holder, and Einer Olsen of Racine, Wis., will encounter Joe Banek.

SPOLDI RALLIES TO EARN DRAW AGAINST JOYCE

Aldo Spoldi, claimant of the European welterweight championship, put on a desperate rally in the last two rounds to hold Willie Joyce to a 10 round draw in Marigold Gardens last night.

Joyce Changes Tactics.

Joyce appeared unhappy as he sat on his stool between the third and fourth rounds, but in the fifth he changed his tactics and carried the fight to his 26 year old opponent. He cut Spoldi's lips with accurate punches in the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds.

In the ninth and 10th Spoldi had the crowd on its feet screaming as he delivered two blows to Joyce's one. Joyce however, erased a smile from Aldo's face with a jarring right to the head in the final round, but Spoldi put over a final swift right which closed Willie's left eye.

A capacity crowd of 1,735 contributed to a gross gate of $2,526. The windup principals each collected 20 per cent of the net receipts of $2,106.59 or $421.31.

O'Brien Defeats Capalby.

Don Wallenfang, welterweight, and Billy Pierce, middleweight, both of West Allis, Wis., won four round preliminary contests, the former beating Arnold Dear of Indianapolis and Pierce defeating Mike Edwards of the south side.

Matchmaker John R. Strachan has returned from a shopping trip to New York in possession of Tommy Tucker's signed contract for a 10 round contest against Booker Beckwith in Chicago Stadium, Dec. 12, but the match first will have to receive the approval of Arthur Wirtz, Stadium treasurer and vice president, before it becomes official. Promoter William R. Rand will confer with Wirtz on the matter today.

Ferrara Loses Decision to Francisco Montaneri

New York, Nov. 24 (AP).—Francisco Montaneri, 146, Genoa, Italy, scored an eight round decision over Tony Ferrara, 147½, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., in a rough feature bout in St. Nicholas palace tonight. Montaneri piled up an early lead and was never headed. Tony suffered a slight cut alongside the right eye in the second round.

Two Leo Stars

John Riddle to Manage Reds' Birmingham Club

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 24 (AP).—Paul Florence, president of the Birmingham baseball club, tonight announced the signing of John Riddle, veteran catcher, as the Barons' manager for next season. Riddle will be playing manager for the Cincinnati Reds' Southern association farm club here.

PINSCHERS LEAD WITH 136 ENTRIES IN WESTERN SHOW

BY BOB BECKER.

A total of 1,227 dogs has been entered in the annual Western Specialty Clubs association show to be held Saturday and Sunday in the Coliseum, with exceptional entry records for Doberman Pinschers, cocker spaniels, Great Danes, and Boston terriers.

Dobermans again lead the entries with 136. Cocker spaniels rank second with 112 entries, Great Danes third with 74, and Bostons fourth with 60. The other breeds, and number of entries, are:

Boxers, 59; Chihuahuas, 59; Scottish terriers, 56; Irish setters, 54; poodles, 53; daschunds, 51; fox terriers, 49; collies, 46; chow chows, 46; German shepherds, 46; bulldogs, 45; standard schanauzers, 41; bull terriers, 40; English setters, 36; Pekingese, 34; Sealyham terriers, 33; Schipperkes, 31; English springer spaniels, 25; Pomeranians, 23, and Irish terriers, 18.

Dr. Ewing to Attend.

The oldest Scottish terrier breeder in the United States will be one of the exhibitors in the show. He is Dr. Fayette Ewing, 80 years old, of Pineville, La., the founder of the Scottish Terrier Club of America and honorary president of that organization. According to Robert Blain, vice president of the local Scotty club, Dr. Ewing has not attended recent shows due to ill health and next week's show will be his first in several years. The pioneer Scotty breeder is owner of the Nosegay Kennels and will have an entry in the show.

Mrs. John G. Winant, wife of the United States Ambassador to Great Britain, will have four dogs entered in the Scottish terrier specialty, Blain stated. Her handler, Robert Gorman of the Winant's Edgerstoune Kennels in Concord, N. H., will handle her entry. Last year one of Mrs. Winant's entries, Heather Independence of Edgerstoune, went best of breed at the specialty show.

Spatzie von Werderhavelstrand, a perky little dachshund, is one dog that will travel a long way for the show. Spatzie is owned by Lynne Overman, Hollywood motion picture actor. According to Elmer A. Walther, secretary of the Central States Dachshund club, Overman's dog comes from one of the most distinguished families in the history of dog shows. The pet of the Overman household is the grandsire of Herman Rinkton, whose name is mentioned only with reverence among dog folk.

Maybe He'll Get Gong.

The prize dogs of many other famous households will also come to Chicago for the show, according to A. F. Kramer, president of the specialty clubs association. Among them will be Pillicoc Gregory, a black French poodle owned by Maj. Edward Bowes, noted master of ceremonies of amateur hours on radio.

Most Valuable Players Named by 28 Public League Elevens

Twenty-eight of the 34 schools which competed in the Public School league's 1941 football campaign have named their most valuable players for the Noble E. Kizer Memorial trophy awarded by the Purdue club of Chicago. Two of the remaining six are Tilden Tech and Fenger, which met in the finals last Saturday. The others are Senn, Harrison Tech, Steinmetz, and Kelvyn Park, which are expected to name their candidates within the next few days. The Catholic league's 14 teams also are expected to announce their selections this week. The 28 players honored by their teammates follow:

Funeral services for Mrs. Josephine Lauro, mother of Leo High's Frank Lauro, who died last Sunday night, will be held Thursday morning in St. Theodore church, 62d and Paulina streets. . . . Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre cemetery. . . . Hirsch High's eleven will be honored at a banquet in the Plaisance hotel Saturday night. . . . Morton had the heaviest team in the Suburban league this fall, but lost seven games in a row. . . . Fred Dillon, former De La Salle basketball coach, has charge of the concessions in Soldiers' field. . . . Dillon is extremely popular with newspaper men, particularly on chilly afternoons in the press coop when steaming cups of coffee are sought.

Dennis Shanahan, Hirsch's most valuable player, is the son of the late Edward C. Shanahan, government agent who was killed by Martin Durkin, automobile thief and gunman, in 1925.

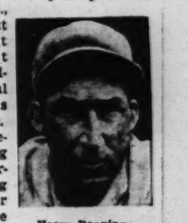
Butler Football Team to Be Honored Thursday

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 24 [Special].—Butler university's football team, which concluded its season with a record of five victories and four defeats, will be guests of the Blue Key, national honor fraternity, Thursday night. Arch Ward, sports editor of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will be the speaker.

HARRY DANNING MAY WEAR A CUB UNIFORM IN 1942

Cards Also Press Sales Talk on Mize.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.



Harry Danning

Just what the Cub bosses are going to do when they set up shop at the Jacksonville, Fla., convention next week they don't know, at least James Tim Gallagher, general manager, says all is in darkness.

But rumors began flitting around yesterday, indicating that plans for getting out of the depths of the second division next year already have been drawn up and that appropriate moves will be made during the course of the annual ivory fair.

The Cubs, of course, haven't got much with which to stock up their bait can. After two lean seasons the cash drawer is barren, so claims the G. M., and not much of the ivoryware they now possess is choice enough to attract cagey shoppers. But despite these slight handicaps they may be able to work out something calculated to bring an improvement.

Leiber Cubs' Chief Bait.

The rumors already have linked up Jim Wilson, the Cub manager, and Bill Terry, who performs similarly for the Giants. The latter has a fellow Wilson will take if proper arrangement can be made. The fellow involved is Harry Danning, currently the Giants' No. 1 catcher.

Terry's interest in a possible trade is supposed to be centered in Hank Leiber, whom he traded away three years ago, along with Gus Mancuso and Dick Bartell for Bill Jurges, Ken O'Dea, and Frank Demaree. Leiber's bat also is a handy article, but because of other matters he is reported to be ticketed as the club's choicest trading item.

Mize Can Be Had.

Wilson also is known to be flirting with the idea of using John Mize, the Cards' first baseman, as a means of filling the hitting void. The Cards have been hinting at a transaction of this kind for several years and are not the kind easily discouraged. They began to operate on Wilson almost as soon as he was named Cub manager.

The eloquent Branch Rickey of the Cardinals' sales department would prefer to have cash on the barrel head, but if the Cubs don't have the dough, as they claim, he would deftly switch to ivory as a consideration.

BUDWEISERS SWEEP SERIES; GAIN ON GILLS

The Budweiser bowlers reduced the J. F. Gills' lead in the Windy City league to two games last night by sweeping a series from the Old Style Lagers while the Gills beat the Sunnyford team, 2 to 1. Jim Beverka of the Vogels led the individual scorers with 679. Scores:

CHARGES POWER SALE BY SEIZED PLANT BLOCKED

Oklahoma Chief Blames Federal Bureaus.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 24.—Officials of Oklahoma's Grand River dam authority, whose $25,000,000 hydro-electric project has been taken over by the federal government, charged today that interference by Washington authorities prevented dam officials from negotiating the sale of power to two national defense projects.

In one instance, they asserted, the Public Works administration stood in the way of the sale of power to the army cantonment at Neosho, Mo. A power sale to this project looked promising, they said, but PWA, thru which the dam was financed, declined to build transmission lines to service the cantonment.

Block Powder Plant Deal.

The officials declared that the sale of a large block of power to the E. I. du Pont de Nemours company's $60,000,000 powder plant at Chouteay, near the dam, was blocked by the determination of the war department that a steam generating plant should be built inside the powder plant. Consequently, contracts were made only for a comparatively small amount of power during the construction period and for permanent standby purposes.

The big dam and power plant was placed under control of the Federal Works administration Friday on an order from President Roosevelt to prevent management difficulties at the dam "from interfering with full use of the power" for national defense.

Gov. Leon Phillips, who termed the action "dictatorial" and an invasion of state's rights, conferred today with Edward P. Marshall, attorney for the dam authority, and Attorney General Mac Q. Anderson, to discuss a possible recourse.

Sees Little Chance to Resist.

While reiterating his contention that the seizure is "high handed dictatorship," the governor indicated he sees little if any chance to resist the federal action. He is expected, however, to determine some course after further consultation with the dam authority.

One question the legal talent is studying concerns the duties and responsibilities of the dam authority, now that the project has been taken from its control. No belligerency has been shown on either side; the authority taking the view that acts of congress cannot be disobeyed.

The law on which the President's order for the seizure was based on the federal power act. The law provides for payment of compensation to be determined by the power commission, but a question involved is how the board can protect Oklahoma as owner of the dam in the matter of compensation.

Like "Taking Your Watch."

"The future of the board" said Gov. Phillips "may not be determined for two years or more until we return this government to a democracy. The seizure of the dam is an invasion of state's rights, and it is a mockery of good government. They have no more right to do this than to take your watch.

"When I was a boy," said the governor, "I was reading American history, I wouldn't have believed that property could be taken under the war powers of the President without congress first declaring war. What's becoming of the constitution?

"The Tennessee Valley authority is a white elephant and now they want to give it energy from Oklahoma's Grand river dam. I regard the action in taking control from the state board as highly unjustifiable. I don't like dictators anywhere."

Friends of the governor say he reorganized the board in control of the dam last July, and its personnel was termed satisfactory by agents of FWA who has been sent to Oklahoma. In its short history, the project has had trouble at intervals.

Cost More Than 25 Millions

The state legislature passed the enabling act creating the Grand river dam authority in 1935. At that time Gov. Phillips was speaker of the house. In October, 1937, the PWA made its first grant of $20,000,000. From then until October, 1941, PWA later FWA, has allotted $5,113,636 more fo rthe project. Of this total, $11,113,636 is a grant and $14,000,000 is a loan.

When Gov. Phillips took office the dam board appointed under the preceding administration had made an agreement that GRDA would build a bridge across the reservoir to cost $349,000. Late in 1939 Phillips asked the dam authority to pay $869,000 for the cost of replacing roads and bridges to be inundated When this was denied, the governor in March, 1940 called out the National Guard and declared martial law at the dam to prevent the closing of the gates before the state's damage claim was paid. There were battles in court over this, but last winter an agreement was reached that was deemed a "moral victory" for Phillips.

TERRY AND THE PIRATES—FREEDOM OF WORSHIP

ELLEN W. VOGLER, A CHICAGOAN FOR 96 YEARS, IS DEAD

Recalled Many Events of Early Days.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ellen W. Vogler will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow in Our Lady of Mount Carmel church, with burial in St. Boniface cemetery. Mrs. Vogler died Sunday in her 97th year in her home at 3260 Lake Shore drive.

Mrs. Ellen Vogler.

Mrs. Vogler was born in Kinzie street, a block from the old John Kinzie home, April 15, 1845. Her parents, John and Barbara Weckler, had settled in the city before it was incorporated. As a girl, Mrs. Vogler attended St. Mary's Catholic school at what is now Madison street and Wabash avenue. It was no easy task getting to school those days. She had to cross the river, and the most convenient means was a hand drawn ferry.

Recollections of Old Chicago.

Mrs. Vogler remembered the sawmill which stood where Tribune Tower now stands. She remembered, as she described it, the "planting of State street." But one of her most vivid recollections was the Lincoln-Douglas debate in Bull Head grove, at what is now Madison street and Ogden avenue.

That was in 1858. She and 33 other girls of her age, all dressed in white and representing the then 34 states, were sent to the debate by the local Democratic club. Mrs. Vogler was selected to present a bouquet of roses to Douglas. Her presentation speech was, "In the name of the Democratic party I wish you victory."

Marries Trunk Manufacturer.

In 1861 she became the bride of Herman Vogler, who came to America from Germany in 1854, one of the few survivors of the storm wrecked vessel, New Era. He died in 1900, after many years as a trunk manufacturer.

Mrs. Vogler leaves a son, Frank A., and two daughters, Mrs. Ella Schnetzky and Miss Agnes B. Vogler.

YOUTHS FORGET GUN IS LOADED; ONE WOUNDED

Richard Peterson, 16 years old, 6359 Haft street, was in a critical condition last night after having been shot accidentally by a hunting companion, Ben Grammat, also 16, of 6111 Naples avenue. The two and a third boy, Charles Davis, 16, of 6068 Naples avenue, were returning from hunting northwest of the city. When they reached the 6500 block of Milwaukee avenue they stopped to take apart a .22 caliber rifle. Peterson held one end of the gun and Grammat the other. Both youths had forgotten the chamber of the gun contained a cartridge. The gun discharged. Peterson was taken to Swedish Covenant hospital.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Elise Goldenberg.

Mrs. Elise Goldenberg, 95 years old, founder and principal owner of the Goldenberg furniture stores, died yesterday in her apartment in the Congress hotel. She had been ill seven weeks. Mrs. Goldenberg was born in Oppenheim, Germany, and came to Chicago in 1866. She founded the furniture company in 1880. Ten years ago, at the age of 85, she crossed the ocean to visit her native city. Mrs. Goldenberg leaves a son, Max, president of the company, and a daughter, Mrs. Lena G. Brede. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 936 East 47th street.

Charles S. Williston.

Services for Charles Stoddard Williston, general solicitor for the Pullman company, will be held at 2:30 p. m. today in the First Congregational church in Evanston. Mr. Williston, 70 years old, died suddenly Saturday in his offices in the Pullman building. He had served the company for 40 years. He lived at 1509 Forest avenue, Evanston. Surviving are his widow, Harriett; two sons and two daughters.

Frank Dowd Comerford.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 24 (AP).—Frank Dowd Comerford, 48 years old, of Framingham, president of the Boston Edison company, died today. He was one of the nation's youngest major business executives. At the age of 34 he became head of the New England Power association. Last June he resigned to devote his full time to the Boston Edison company.

Robert Weege.

Masonic rites for Robert Weege, head of the Weege Cartage company, who died Sunday, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 2500 North Cicero avenue. Burial will be in Elmwood cemetery. Mr. Weege was 50 years old, and lived at 1632 South Prospect avenue, Park Ridge. He leaves his widow, Alice, and a son.

Lieut. Comm. Isaac S. K. Reeves IV.

ST. LOUIS STRIKE CRIPPLES ARMS MAKING PLANTS

Rail Group 'Ready for U. S. Control.'

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 24 (AP).—Millions of dollars of armament work in St. Louis factories was tied up today when 8,500 AFL machinists walked out in a general strike stemming from a dispute with AFL hoisting engineers over which union should represent 24 garage workers.

International headquarters of the union in Washington, D. C., said the walkout was unauthorized and that the men had been asked to return to work.

About 400 industrial plants were affected in varying degree. One was the Curtiss-Wright corporation, which reported its production of airplanes was "seriously curtailed." Bush-Sulzer Brothers, working on 15 million dollars of orders for navy engines and anti-aircraft ordnance, said its operations virtually were stopped. Tonight 800 members of an aircraft union, employés of the Curtiss-Wright and McDonnell aircraft corporations, affiliated with the machinists, voted to support the strike.

Quarrel Over Jurisdiction.

The dispute had this background: A month ago the machinists and hoisting engineers quarreled over which should have jurisdiction over 24 garage workers at the $35,000,000 Weldon Springs, Mo., TNT plant.

About 110 AFL machinists struck at the TNT plant and at the 100 million dollar St. Louis small arms ammunition plant. Their work was taken over by millwrights affiliated with the AFL carpenters' union.

Protesting because the 110 machinists had not been reinstated and also demanding jurisdiction over the garage workers, the machinists called a general walkout.

Joseph Keenan, labor relations expert for the Office of Production Management, announced after his arrival from Washington that a conference with officials of the rival unions would be held tomorrow.

RECESS RAIL PARLEY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24 (AP).—Railroad labor and management representatives recessed a day long discussion of the threatened railroad strike this afternoon and announced that they would report the results of their negotiations to President Roosevelt at his convenience.

George M. Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, told reporters that a committee of union and carrier representatives would probably see Mr. Roosevelt tomorrow. He declined to say whether any agreement had been reached in the conferences.

Before entering the meeting A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, said his organization was "about ready to go to the President and suggest that the government take over control of the railroads."

Alvanley Johnston, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Engineers, declined to say whether any agreement had been reached on wage increases demanded by the brotherhoods. The unions have rejected increases recommended by a Presidential emergency board and the operating groups have called a strike for Dec. 7.

Crash Picket Line.

Freeport, Ill., Nov. 24 (AP).—A group of workmen today crashed a picket line that had been maintained by AFL machinists for six weeks at the plant of the Burgess Battery company. Police were called but violence was limited to scuffles. Company spokesmen said about 250 men had notified President D. W. Hirtle that they were ready to go to work.

Picket lines were strengthened during the afternoon and no more workers were able to enter. The plant has been closed during an argument between the machinists' local and an independent union over majority membership.

[The National Defense Mediation board called company and union representatives to a hearing in Washington on Dec. 1, asserting in telegrams that the strike threatened to disrupt production of materials "essential to defeat our enemies." This was the board's first use of this phrase, previous messages having stated "essential to national defense."]

Welders Fail to Report.

Morgantown, W. Va., Nov. 24 (AP).—One hundred welders employed by a subcontractor at the 40 million dollar Morgantowr ordnance works failed to report for work today in protest against what was termed discrimination by the steamfitters local, No. 449 [AFL], of Pittsburgh.

A spokesman said the welders, along with 126,000 others in the nation, recently formed an independent union and sought a charter from the American Federation of Labor. He said that unless the welders' demands were met by the AFL a strike of welders would be called tomorrow in plants thruout the country.

LABOR FORCE GROWS.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24 [Special].—The railway labor force of the United States totaled 1,218,000 employés in the middle of October, its greatest strength in 10 years and 13 per cent larger than in October of last year, the department of commerce reported today.

Crawford State Savings Bank Payment Authorized

A 5 per cent payment amounting to $49,306 to 6,500 depositors of the Crawford State Savings bank, Chicago, has been authorized, Arthur C. Lueder, state auditor, announced yesterday. It will bring total payments to 30 per cent.

An index of 125 on the chart means that the dollar buys 25 per cent more than in 1926. When prices go up, the dollar buys less—when they go down, it buys more. The purchasing power of the consumer's dollar (as measured by the cost of living) as shown on this chart has been stable twice in the 15 year period: from 1926 to 1929 and from 1938 to 1941—each time the fluctuation was confined to a 3 cent range. From 1929 to 1933 the buying power of the dollar rose 29 cents and from 1933 to 1937 it fell 14 cents.

Strive to Halt Strike of Truck Loaders Today

An effort will be made at 10 a. m. today to settle the strike of 2,300 loading dock workers which went into effect yesterday. The strikers are members of the Highway Drivers' union, a local of the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters. They are employed on about 250 loading platforms in this area.

Yesterday a committee of employers and another of union officials held separate meetings in preparation for a conference this morning at which the employers will make an offer. Their proposal will be presented to the union membership at 2 p. m.

Hopeful of Settlement.

Both sides appeared hopeful of settlement, but each was equally firm in the stands that led to the walkout. The workers have demanded an increase of 20 cents an hour [from 55 to 75 cents], time and a half pay for Sundays and for all hours exceeding eight each day, a week's vacation with pay, double pay for legal holidays, and a closed shop.

Despite the stormy session Sunday night, at which the strike was voted, yesterday passed quietly. Police were vigilant, but all was reported quiet around the loading docks.

An agreement was reached whereby no materials required for the armament program would be delayed in transit. In addition any perishables now in possession of the trucking companies will be delivered.

Sergt. George Barnes of the police labor detail said that the union meeting yesterday was orderly. At the meeting of the employers in the Hotel Sherman it was understood there will be no appeal to Washington, D. C., for immediate intervention.

Charge Agreement Violated.

The entire strike question is to be decided by the federal mediation board on Dec. 2. Last Saturday night it had been agreed that the strike would be held in abeyance until then.

John L. Keeshin, general chairman of an employers' committee, charged that the union had violated its agreement. John T. O'Brien, secretary of the union, said the walkout was voted because the companies were "stalling."

In Washington the mediation board announced it has asked the United States Conciliation service to look into the strike.

CIO UNION SUED OVER STRIKE IN CASTINGS PLANT

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 24 (AP).—The Atlas Drop Forge company, closed by a strike of United Automobile Workers-CIO, filed suit in Circuit court today against local 724 of the union demanding damages of $100,000. The action charged the union had failed to perform a contract by calling the strike.

The Forge plant, from which soldiers in army trucks removed castings for armament use last Saturday, was closed when the union accused the company of having failed to abide by all terms of the month old contract. Mediation conferences got under way today.

STRIKE OF 800 ARMS WORKERS ENDED QUICKLY

The strike that started yesterday morning at the Pioneer Gen-E-Motor corporation, 5841 Dickens avenue, and tied up work on two and one half million dollars' worth of army and navy orders, was settled last night, and the workers will report for duty this morning.

Under the agreement, the company granted 800 employés, including 450 women, a 10 per cent wage increase, and the AFL and CIO machinists' unions agreed to a consent election next July to determine which shall be the bargaining agent.

Set Western Union Labor Election for December 5

Three thousand employés of the Western Union Telegraph company, Chicago office, will vote to select a union bargaining agent, it was announced yesterday by Charles A. Graham, regional director of the National Labor Relations board. The election will be held Dec. 5, at 107 West Van Buren street, under the direction of Ross M. Madden, election expert for the board.

"AGAIN AND AGAIN"

In an address broadcast to the nation and the world on Sept. 3, 1939—the day that Great Britain and France declared war on Germany — President Roosevelt declared:

"I have said not once but many times that I have seen war, and that I hate war. I say that again and again.

"I hope the United States will keep out of this war. I believe that it will. And I give you assurances that every effort of your government will be directed toward that end.

"As long as it remains within my power to prevent, there will be no blackout of peace in the United States."

OPA DRAFTING CEILING PRICES FOR NEW AUTOS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24 [Special].—The Office of Price Administration disclosed today that it was drafting a ceiling price schedule for passenger automobiles at levels now prevailing in the industry.

Officials of the OPA met today with representatives of virtually all automobile manufacturers, discussed the need for government control, and obtained necessary price data. Next week they will meet with passenger car retail dealers on the question. Only new cars would be affected.

Big Furnaces Roar Again as Mines Reopen

Blast and open hearth furnaces were being put back into operation yesterday as "captive" coal mine workers returned to their jobs, but steel company officials indicated it will be several days at least before normal production can be resumed.

The American Iron and Steel institute reported that as a result of the strike, called by the CIO United Mine workers to enforce demands for a union shop, the nation's steel mills will operate this week at 95.9 per cent of capacity, against 97 per cent last week. The current rate is the lowest since the week beginning Aug. 11.

Blast Furnaces Roar Again.

The two Carnegie-Illinois corporation Chicago area blast furnaces closed down last week because of the coal situation resumed operations, but company officials said two or three days will elapse before pig iron production again is normal. One of the furnaces is at Gary, Ind., and one at South Chicago. The company's Chicago district ingot steel production rate dropped from last week's 103 per cent to 101 per cent.

Carnegie-Illinois expected to have all nine of its blast furnaces which had been closed down in the Pennsylvania-Ohio district back in operation today.

Most Mines Reopened.

Union officials said virtually full production was restored in the captive mines during the day. An exception was the Bunsenville mine at Danville, Ill., where 1,000 workers were scheduled to return to their jobs today.

Meantime, it was announced in Washington that arbitration of the mine dispute will begin tomorrow, probably in New York City.

UPHOLDS CITIES' RIGHT TO OUST UTILITY LINES

The State Supreme court in Springfield yesterday affirmed its own decision of last April holding that cities in Illinois can compel public utilities to remove their equipment from streets if their franchises have expired.

Yesterday's decision was handed down after a rehearing involving the city of Geneseo against the Illinois Northern Utilities company and the village of Heyworth against the Central Illinois Electric and Gas company. The two municipalities several years ago built municipal power plants and ordered the private utilities to remove their facilities.

The Supreme court, in upholding the position of Geneseo and Heyworth in April, reversed a ruling it had made in 1939 and overruled the stand taken by the Illinois Commerce commission, which claimed jurisdiction over removal of utilities' equipment. The court thus strengthened the powers of cities to control the use of their streets and weakened the commission's authority over public utilities' operations.

TAX REPORTING BUT NOT PAYING MADE PAINLESS

Simplified Treasury Form Introduced.

The treasury department yesterday unveiled a streamlined income tax return form as part of its current program to remove the pain from the task of reporting income. Paying the taxes, however, will be more painful than ever.

The revised form 1040 may be used to report individual income by any taxpayer, regardless of the size of his income. Formerly it was restricted to those whose gross income was more than $5,000.

May Ignore Two Pages.

He is required merely to fill in pages one and two, ignoring the last two pages. Business men will have to complete the entire four pages.

The revised 1040 form is distinctly different from the simplified 1040A form which was introduced by the 1941 revenue act.

Ask Home Priority Revision; Fewer Chicago Offices Vacant

Appeal to Nelson

BY AL CHASE.

The United States Saving and Loan league, a national organization of savings and building and loan associations which do over 40 per cent of the country's small home financing, asked yesterday that priority ratings in building materials be given to home building for owner occupancy, taking precedence over rental units.

A telegram was sent to Priorities Director Donald M. Nelson of the Office of Production Management, asking him to reconsider the priority policy as outlined on Oct. 9, which placed home remodeling at the top of the list, homes to be built to rent next, and homes built for sale or occupancy by the owner third. The appeal was signed by Morton Bodfish, executive vice president; A. D. Theobald, assistant vice president, and others of the loan league.

Opposes Subsidized Housing.

Several hundred thousand families would build or purchase small homes for their own occupancy if priority ratings were adjusted, the telegram to Nelson asserted. It also declared that small home building by owners for their own occupancy is better for the nation than large federal subsidized housing projects for rental tenants.

The telegram asks that a first priority rating be given to any worker in a defense area [Chicago recently was officially designated a "defense area"] who wants to build his own small home.

"To date priority policy has given preference in the housing field to production of housing for rent," the telegram reads. "The effect is to discourage or cut off the prospective home owner-builder and most small building contractors and to encourage large unit construction, commend landlordism, and make plausible large expenditures by the government for company defense houses."

Following home building by individuals for their own use, the telegram suggested to Nelson that priority ratings be given to small homes for sale and owner occupancy in defense areas, and then "proper recognition of repairs, modernization, and rehabilitation, all ahead of rental

Rate Best Since 1929

There are fewer vacant offices in Chicago's downtown buildings than at any time since 1929, according to a survey just completed by the Building Managers Association of Chicago, thru its rental committee headed by J. W. Benjamin, of Willoughby & Co.

"Our survey shows that on Oct. 1 the average vacancy in these buildings was 16.6 per cent," Benjamin said. "This was the lowest since 1929, when it was 14.5 per cent. In 1930 the vacant space amounted to 17.5 per cent. In 1931 vacancies went to 20.4 per cent and reached bottom in 1934 when it was 29.2 per cent. Since then there has been a gradual improvement in the demand for office space, culminating in the present 12 year peak."

The survey covered 156 office buildings, including North Michigan avenue, having a total rentable office area of 26,783,000 square feet. Of this amount 22,329,000 square feet were occupied.

URGES STRICTER CONTROLS OVER USE OF CAPITAL

Post-War Planning Asked by Purcell.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 24 (AP).—Ganson Purcell, Securities and Exchange commissioner, suggested today an intergovernmental committee to streamline "corporate structures and financial conditions for defense as well as postwar needs."

Ganson Purcell.

Purcell, in an address before the Economic Club of Detroit, said, "It seems most unwise not to initiate now some temporary measures of conservation and direction of capital usage beyond that which can be attained solely by allocation and priorities of materials."

Such a program, Purcell said, should be closely interlocked with the general emergency program.

Hints at New Controls.

"That there is no shortage of capital ahead of us is indeed in itself a very debatable point, when one

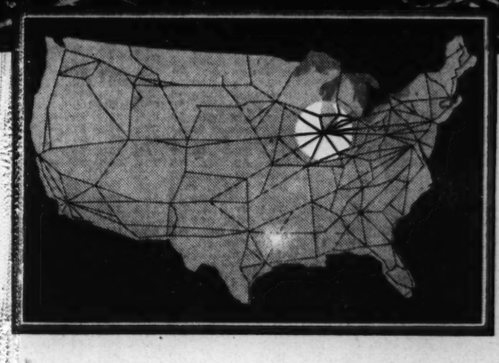
Where the Nation's Airways Meet...



CHICAGO is the only city in the United States served by eight major airlines. Its Municipal Airport has 9 hard-surfaced runways—more than any other airport. These runways total 12 miles. The longest is 7,226 feet and the widest 300 feet. It is the only airport with parallel runways in all directions. It is the best equipped field in America.

Passenger arrivals and departures at the Municipal Airport, in 1940, were 621,524. And travel in 1941 is setting even higher records.

Air transportation has given a new tempo to business in the United States, just as it has expedited the nation-wide services of this Bank.

STOCKS FALTER AFTER RISING ON MINE REOPENING

Price Index Unchanged; Volume Dips.

New York, Nov. 24 (AP).—Stocks faltered in today's market after an early modest upturn based apparently on the coal strike peace and hopes for a quick settlement of the railway wage dispute.

Dealings, fast at the start, slackened later and many initial gains running to a point or so were reduced or canceled. At the close, however, plus signs outnumbered losses by a wide margin.

The Associated Press' average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 40. Transfers totaled 819,990 shares compared with 853,840 Friday.

Steels Lose Early Gains.

Steels, out in front at the opening on the prospects of the resumption of fuel supplies, slipped subsequently. A drop of 1.1 points in this week's mill operations was in line with expectations.

Stocks began to stumble when negotiations between carrier management and union representatives in Washington again ended without an agreement.

The foreign news was about a standoff marketwise, with reported fresh Nazi drives in Russia tending to offset British successes in Africa.

CHICAGO LIST RALLIES.

Chicago Stock exchange issues rallied yesterday in transactions totaling 32,000 shares. Of 119 issues traded, 61 advanced, 29 declined and 29 closed unchanged.

Commonwealth Edison, with 3,350 shares traded, closed unchanged at 22¾. Others traded actively included Middle West, 2,250 shares, unchanged at 4; Chicago corporation, 1,100, up ⅛ to ⅜, and Great Lakes Dredge and Dock, 750, up ⅛ to 12¼.

PURE OIL PROFIT FOR 9 MONTHS IS 50 PCT. LARGER

New Prospectus Shows Production Gains.

Fifty per cent larger earnings and general improvement in all phases of its operations were reported by Pure Oil company, Chicago, for the nine months ended Sept. 30 in a revised prospectus filed yesterday with the Securities and Exchange commission in Washington.

Its consolidated net income for the period, subject to year-end adjustments and audit, was $10,045,304, or $1.78 a common share, against $6,700,000, or 95 cents a share, in the corresponding 1940 period.

The company, which normally does not release interim reports, filed the revised prospectus in connection with a 44 million dollar issue of 5 per cent convertible cumulative preferred stock issued last year.

11 Per Cent of Issue Unsold.

Eleven per cent of the original issue remains in the hands of underwriters. The SEC requires a revised prospectus when distribution of an issue has not been completed within 13 months after its registration date.

The prospectus also disclosed Pure Oil production of crude in the nine months was 18,484,000 barrels, against 17,424,000 barrels in the 1940 period. The company processed 23,999,000 barrels of crude oil in the first nine months of 1941, against 21,885,000 barrels in the first nine months last year. Sales of all petroleum products amounted to 1,111,404,000 gallons, compared with 998,298,000 gallons a year before.

Rayonier Profit Smaller.

Profit of Rayonier, Inc., producer of pulp used in making rayon filament yarn and paper, declined in the three months ended Oct. 31 because of rising federal taxes, but production and sales expanded, the company reported yesterday. Net income was $935,760, equal to 65 cents a share, against $1,053,557, or 77 cents a share, in the corresponding period a year earlier. The period is the second quarter of the company's fiscal year.

Federal taxes were $1,343,467, against $994,553. E. M. Mills, president, said demand for pulps is so heavy that the facilities of the entire industry are being pushed to the limit. He predicted such conditions will prevail "for some time."

Morgenthau Awaits Congress' Call to Reveal His Tax Plans

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—While declining to discuss any details of the treasury's tax plans, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. said today that he is ready to go before congress with treasury recommendations as soon as he is invited.

But congressmen have not been anxious to hear Morgenthau's proposals, especially since word leaked out of his informal recommendations to them several weeks ago which included a 15 per cent withholding tax on salaries, as well as an increase in social security taxes.

It is understood that this plan has since been modified to lop off part of that 15 per cent and make it more palatable to congressmen, who fear the wrath of voters when the entire house runs for reëlection next November.

Changes Forced Savings Stand.

Morgenthau declared today that neither he nor any one in the treasury will give the slightest inkling on their tax plans before he goes up to Capitol Hill. But, significantly, he declined to throw down reporters' inquiries on his stand on a forced savings plan. Previously during the last two years whenever "forced savings" was mentioned the treasury chief vigorously expressed his opposition to such a move.

Now he appears willing to accept forced savings on the English pattern, and the withholding tax and social security levies would enter this category.

The treasury needs funds desperately to finance the armament program, with the savings bonds and stamps sales falling far short of supplying sufficient money to meet these costs.

Plans December Financing.

Morgenthau said today that there will be new financing in December. He said details have not been decided nor could he disclose the prospective total. It is likely, however, to entail a pretty heavy chunk of new borrowing. There will be nothing tricky about it in the form of borrowing, he indicated, thus dismissing at least temporarily the idea of special issues for savings banks, insurance companies, etc.

Morgenthau said that he has requested the congressional tax committees to invite him to Capitol Hill to present his program, but no invitation for a definite appearance has been received yet.

URGES STRICTER CONTROLS OVER USE OF CAPITAL

Post-War Planning Is Asked by Purcell.

"It is clearly apparent that the joint guidance of the various government agencies will be needed in order to let industry know whether the specific financing programs which it contemplates during the emergency are proper in view of inescapably pertinent economic realities."

He said the SEC already was working "in a very small way" toward the guidance of investment capital by including in registration statements information as to whether materials or labor will be available for the purposes specified by the registrant.

Urges Debt Reductions.

"Unless the investor is given this protection of disclosure of these important facts," Purcell declared, "his savings are apt to be diverted from national defense into an enterprise which is unable to put his cash to work."

Approving the tendency of some companies to refinance outstanding debt issues, Purcell said many could "reduce if not completely eliminate debt from their corporate structures."

"This they should do," he commented, "and if it is not done voluntarily the government—preferably thru the medium of an interdepartmental group—should be in a position to require that it be done wherever refinancing plans are in process."

OPEN BIDS TODAY ON REFUNDING OF SANITARY BONDS

The Sanitary district of Chicago this morning will open bids for 3 million dollars of 20 year refunding bonds to be dated Jan. 1, 1942, Ross A. Woodhull, president of the district board of trustees, announced yesterday. The proceeds will be used to redeem a like amount of outstanding bonds which are callable Jan. 1.

The district also will redeem with cash on Jan. 1 an additional $3,626,500 in bonds. Next July 1, $3,633,000 in bonds will come due for optional redemption, and part of this may be paid from tax revenues, it was indicated.

HAY MARKET.

Timothy No. 1 or light clover or alfalfa mixed, $19.40@20.00; best No. 2, $18.50@19.00; fair No. 2, $17.50@18.50; choice alfalfa, $19.00@24.00; No. 1 rye straw, $15.00; No. 1 oat, wheat, or barley straw, $12 per ton in carloads.

RAIL BONDS SUSPENDED.

The New York Stock exchange has suspended from dealings New York, Chicago, and St. Louis railroad 10 year 4 per cent collateral trust notes, due 1946, which have been called for redemption.

People and Events

The 15th annual meeting of the Chicago Better Business bureau, scheduled for tonight in the Palmer House, has been postponed because of the inability of Price Administrator Leon Henderson to leave Washington at this time. Sterling E. Peacock, business bureau president, said that altho a new date has not been determined, the meeting will be held soon when Henderson will be available.

The first meeting of the season of the Stock Brokers' Associates of Chicago will be held today in the Field building, 135 South La Salle street. Edward P. Rubin, president of Security Supervision, Inc., will be the principal speaker.

Paul C. Raymond, assistant cashier of the American National Bank and Trust company and a faculty member at Northwestern university, will address a meeting of the Associated Retail Credit Men of Chicago tonight in the Palmer House.

David Himmelblau, senior partner of David Himmelblau & Co., will speak before the Chicago chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants Thursday in the Furniture Mart.

Maurice J. Broderick, Chicago, assistant to the president of Altorfer Brothers company, Peoria, Ill., maker of washing machines, has been elected a director, succeeding the late Henry Altorfer Sr.

INDIANA UTILITY FILES 65 MILLION IN NEW FINANCING

Big Pacific Gas Bond Issue Placed on Market.

Prospective financing by the Public Service Company of Indiana, Inc., was increased to $65,200,000 yesterday when the company registered a $13,200,000 issue of 3⅜ per cent first mortgage bonds with the Securities and Exchange commission.

The company also registered a previously announced 42 million dollar 3⅜ per cent bond issue, which is to be sold publicly, and announced 10 million dollars will be borrowed from six banks and two insurance companies. The $13,200,000 issue will be sold to eight insurance companies.

Proceeds will be applied toward the redemption of outstanding obligations of several utility companies consolidated recently into Public Service of Indiana, and to provide funds for construction.

Offer Pacific Gas Issue.

Public offering will be made today of 25 million dollars in 3 per cent first and refunding bonds of the Pacific Gas and Electric company, for funds to help finance a 60 million dollar construction program. An underwriting group headed by Blyth & Co. will offer the bonds at 105 and accrued interest.

Glore, Forgan Co., head of an underwriting group planning the public offering of 135,000 shares of Marshall Field & Co. common stock, filed an SEC amendment indicating an offering price of 14½ a share. The stock closed at 14⅝ on the New York exchange yesterday. The prospective offering is from the holdings of Marshall Field III. and his older daughter, Barbara Field Bliss.

Ten thousand shares of Masonite corporation common stock were offered after the close of the exchange by Smith, Barney & Co. at 24⅞. The offering, from private holdings, was oversubscribed.

Market C. & E. I. Bonds.

Wertheim & Co. offered $460,000 Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad income mortgage 5s of 1997 at 27⅜, less a concession of ¾ point to members of the National Association of Security Dealers.

John Naveen & Co. is reoffering $1,170,000 of Detroit Street Railway 1 per cent notes maturing Dec. 1, 1942, to Feb. 15, 1946, at prices to yield 0.30 to 1 per cent.

EXPERT ADVISES 8% RETURN FOR COACH COMPANY

Dr. H. B. Dorau, utilities expert and economics professor at New York university, testified yesterday that the Chicago Motor Coach company is entitled to earn an annual return of at least 8 per cent on its property valuation. Dr. Dorau appeared as a witness for the company at an Illinois Commerce commission's inquiry into whether the 10 cent coach fare should be reduced.

An 8 per cent return would amount to earnings of $800,000 a year on the company's claimed property valuation of 10 million dollars. Previous witnesses for the company have testified that its earnings will be about $420,000 this year, or 4.2 per cent.

Dorau based his recommendation on a nationwide study of returns to various classes of utilities. He found that bus properties last year earned an average of 9.13 per cent on the market prices of their securities. The hearing was continued to tomorrow.

FLOW OF EXTRA DIVIDENDS RUNS AT STEADY PACE

50 Cents Is Declared by Holland Furnace.

Dividends declared yesterday continued to include extras and increases over preceding payments, bringing the year's total for many companies above their 1940 disbursements. In several instances payments were resumed after lapses of as long as 11 years.

Extra dividends of 50 cents each in addition to the regular payments were declared by the Holland Furnace company, Holland, Mich., and the Marchant Calculating Machine company, Oakland, Cal. The American Hardware corporation, New Britton, Conn., and Harvey Hubbell, Inc., Bridgeport, Conn., maker of electric wiring devices, authorized extras of 25 cents each, and the Gaylord Container corporation, St. Louis, Mo., announced an extra of 12½ cents.

Three Resume Payments.

Companies to resume payments on issues were: Mengel company, Louisville, Ky., lumber manufacturer, declared a 50 cent dividend, the first authorized since 1930; Virginia-Carolina Chemical corporation, a dividend of $1 on the 6 per cent preferred shares, the first since 1937; Ken-Rad Tube and Lamp corporation, a dividend of 37½ cents on class A stock, the first since 1938.

The following companies increased dividends over preceding payments, or brought the year's total in excess of 1940: General Railway Signal company, which maintains offices in Chicago, declared a year end dividend of 50 cents against two preceding payments this year of 25 cents each; payment of 50 cents, the first since 1938, was made last year. Heileman Brewing company, La Crosse, Wis., declared a 35 cent dividend against preceding quarterly payments of 25 cents, bringing the year's total to $1.10 compared with $1 last year.

The Firestone Tire and Rubber company, Akron, O., authorized a 50 cent payment against 25 cent quarterly payments in each of the four preceding quarters.

TAX REPORTING, BUT NOT PAYING, MADE PAINLESS

Simplified Treasury Form 1040 Is Introduced.

reporting of gross incomes under $3,000. This simplified form is intended to ease the tax kof return making for the thousands of persons who are brought under the new tax law by the lowering of exemptions.

The bureau estimated that 10 million taxpayers will use form 1040 and about 12 million more will use form 1040A, which is available only to those whose gross incomes fall below $3,000 a year.

Given Automatic Deduction.

Using form 1040A, the taxpayer is granted an automatic deduction of 10 per cent for charitable contributions and taxes and interest paid. The taxpayer's personal exemption and credit for dependents is determined by his status on the last day of the taxable year.

To determine his tax, he glances at a table already calculated which tells him quickly the tax due on his income after deducting credit for dependents.

Those who are not eligible to use the optional form 1040A or who do not wish to use it must use form 1040.

Exemptions Pro-Rated.

For those using form 1040, the personal exemption of $750 for a single person and $1,500 for a married couple, as well as credit for dependents, must be pro-rated on the basis of that portion of the year in which the taxpayer was married, was the head of a family, or had dependents.

The normal tax on individual incomes is 4 per cent. A surtax of 6 per cent applies to all income after allowance for proper deductions, credit for dependents, and personal exemption but before deduction of the 10 per cent earned income credit.

NEW HAVEN RAIL BONDS TOP RISE IN CARRIER LIST

New York, Nov. 24 (AP).—A broad demand for low-priced railroad bonds lifted many issues fractions to a point or more today while the main corporate group held in a narrow range with the trend mixed.

Nearly a dozen loans of the New Haven railroad set the pace for the rails with gains up to nearly 4 points. Demand followed action of the trustees in seeking federal court approval for the payment of 15 million dollars in interest accumulations.

Others finishing on the plus side included Great Northern 4s, International Telephone 5s, Commercial Mackay Income 4s and Studebaker 6s.

United States governments performed indifferently on the stock exchange as well as over the counter. The trend was mixed and most changes marked in the smallest type of fractions.

HINDE & DAUCH.

What information can you give me concerning Hinde & Dauch common on the New York Stock exchange? Please include earnings and dividends and some general data.—B. B. N.

Answer: The principal business of the Hinde & Dauch Paper company is the production of strawpaper and linerboard used in the manufacture of fiber shipping containers and packing materials. The company also manufactures boxes and envelopes, insulating material, and a paper containing rubber used in building automobile bodies. Pulp, straw, and about half of paper requirements are purchased from other companies. The company has several box plants and paper mills. Its offices are in Sandusky, O. It was incorporated in 1904.

There are 360,250 shares of $10 par common stock and 35,900 shares of $5 cumulative convertible preferred, $100 par, outstanding. Hinde & Dauch has operated profitably since losses from 1930 thru 1932. Dividends have been paid regularly in recent years. Common stock distributions totaled $2 in 1937 and $1 each year in 1938, 1939, and 1940. Two 25 cent dividends and one of 50 cents have been paid so far this year. Earnings for years ended Dec. 31 follow:

	Net sales.	Net income.	Earn com. share
1939	13,845,411	862,384	1.96
1938	12,024,008	645,778	1.29
1937	15,827,355	1,451,635	3.53
1936	14,039,236	1,246,543	2.86

Net income for the nine months thru September this year was $984,982, equal to $2.36 a common share, compared with $682,018, or $1.52, in the corresponding 1940 period. Total assets at the close of last year were nearly $13,000,000. Net working capital was $4,493,828.

EXCHANGE STABILIZATION.

What is the exchange stabilization fund?—K. J.

Answer: This fund was established under the gold reserve act of 1934, which provided for a 2 billion dollar appropriation from the 2 billion 800 million dollar profit accruing to the United States treasury from the devaluation of the dollar. The fund is to extend to June 30, 1943, unless suspended sooner by the President. Under the act the secretary of the treasury is authorized, with the President's approval, to deal in gold and foreign exchange and any other credit instruments and securities deemed necessary for stabilizing the exchange value of the dollar. Any portions of the fund not required currently for this purpose may be invested in direct government obligations.

The war situation in Libya as reported from Cairo yesterday. The broken arrows show the extent and direction of drives by British columns, one of which has raced 200 miles westward in an effort to reach the gulf of Sirte, cutting off any westward retreat of axis forces. The British right wing was locked in a gigantic battle with axis forces last night. (Story on page 1.)
